AWARD.

The original reference, the pendency of adjudication proceedings on which given rise to the present proceeding under section 33A of the Industrial putes Act, 1947, as amended in 1950, was made under the Government of st Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 268Dis./D/7L-35(D)/52, dated 5th February 1952.

On the 8th February 1952 the Company served individual notices terminat- the services of 210 workers of the Batching and Preparing Department and nd-sewing and Machine-sewing Sections of the Khardah Jute Mills Nos. 1 and with effect from the 11th February 1952 treating them as surplus to require- nts. Out of these 210 workers 106 workers have made this complaint. Their gation is that these workers were discharged by the Company illegally in rcise of unfair labour practice with a view to terrorise the workmen. It is refore prayed that the illegally discharged workers should be reinstated with al compensation and costs.

The Company's case is that in pursuance of a decision taken by the Manage- nt in December 1948 the Company started installation of automatic roll mers in the Batching and Preparing Department of the mills in August 1950. e completion of the process of installation of automatic roll formers on aker and finisher cards and that of feed banks on the first drawing in the resaid department of the mills rendered 104 workmen in that section surplus the Management's requirements. Out of these 104, seven workers could be ained in available vacancies and 97 had to be retrenched. On account of dual reduction of the volume of work for the hand-hemmers and the machine- vers due to fall in production, 88 hand-hemmers and 25 machine-sewers of mills became redundant, and their earnings also appreciably dropped as they re all piece-rated workers. The work for the hand-hemmers had further creased because heavy bags had to be machine-hemmed instead of being hand- mmed as was the previous practice. Since 3rd April 1950 the Company put se redundant workers of the Hand-hemming and Machine-hemming Sections involuntary unemployment on payment of involuntary unemployment benefits cept when short duration employment could be found for any of them in sual vacancies. The Company ultimately decided to retrench the above- ntioned redundant workmen in accordance with the procedure laid down by the Second Jute Textile award, so that out of 210 workmen retrenched in 206 were superannuated and only four persons were retrenched on the basi the "last come first go" principle. The workers so retrenched were paid all in accordance with the terms of their employment and the directions give the Second Jute Textile Tribunal in its award. All the retrenched wo except six accepted their due payments in full and final settlemen: of all claims. The Company contends therefore that it was fully justified in retre ing the said workmen in the circumstances stated. It is further stated that Company received the order of reference by post on the 11th February and before that it had no knowledge that there was a reference for adjudic of the dispute regarding the dismissal of Rampeary which had taken place years' back. So the Company submits that it acted in the bona fide belief there was no pendency of any proceedings before the Tribunal, and that retrenchemnt was wholly justified for the reasons stated. It is further mitted by the Company that the workmen concerned are neither entitle be reinstated nor to any compensation beyond what has already been pai them.

As already stated, the Company retrenched with effect from the February 1952, 210 workmen of whom 106 workmen have made this plaint under section 33A. Out of the retrenched workmen 97 workers from the Batching and Preparing Department and 113 were from the H sewing and Machine-sewing Sections of the Finishing Department of Khardah Jute Mills Nos. 1 and 2. It has been laid down in the case of Bi mitra Press (Karyalaya), Kanpur, and its workmen (L.A.C., 1952, page that it is the prima facie right of the Management to determine its labour and to make retrenchment of workmen on the ground of rationalisation, econ or other reasons on which retrenchment can be sustained, subject to the c tions that it acts bona fide and is not actuated by extraneous consideration improper motives. In the present case, the retrenchment was effected in Batching and Preparing Department on the ground of rationalisation clearly indicated by the Managing Agent's letter (Ext. E) that the Com took its decision to install automatic roll formers on the breaker and fin cards in the mill in December 1948. This is also the evidence of Mr. S who was then Assistant Manager of the No. 1 mill and is at present the a Manager of the Khardah Jute Mills Nos. 1 and 2. The process of install was commenced in August 1950 and completed in December 1950 accor to him. The invoices Exts., F and F1, relate to the consignment of the mach installed in the mills. In explaining the time and labour-saving value of machines Mr. Small has said that for two roll formers on the breakers and t feed banks, there is only one male operator, and for three roll formers on finishers with feed banks there is only one male worker. It will be seen f the statement, Ext. G, that in the No. 1 mill, four breakers were fitted roll formers and five finishers were fitted with feed banks and roll formers; first drawings were fitted with feed banks. And in the No. 2 mill, all brea were fitted with roll formers, all finishers were fitted with feed banks and formers, and all first drawings fitted with feed banks. The result was that number of workers on breakers and finishers was reduced from 146 to 12 the No. 1 mill and from 174 to 51 in the No. 2 mill. In first drawings, number was reduced from 107 to 102 in the No. 1 mill and from 156 to in the No. 2 mill. So in the Batching and Preparing Department of the mills together 196 workers were affected by the completion of the process installation of the new mechanical apparatus. Of them 92 workers were absorbed in vacancies caused by superannuation and transfers, and 104 were determined to be surplus hands. Even out of those 104 men, se workers were retained in available vacancies and the remaining 97 wor were retrenched.

The retrenchment in the Hand-hemming and Machine-hemming Sections of mills was resorted to according to Company's case, on account of gradual uction of the volume of work in the Sewing Department as a result of fall production and drop in market demands for bags. After the partition of ia the Jute Textile Industry in West Bengal was in a seriously precarious e for want of supply of raw materials adequate in quality as well as in ntity. The problem of raw jute became very acute because the production ndia was inadequate and it was difficult to get sufficient supply of the raw erial from Pakistan. The quality of raw jute, even when available for chase was not necessarily within the control of the purchasing mill on account hose difficulties. Indian Jute Mills Association had to seriously consider the stion of conservation of jute with a view to prevent complete breakdown of s Uncertainties about the stock position of raw jute induced many of the mills to adopt a policy of sealing 12½ per cent. of their looms with effect n the 2nd May 1949, under instructions of the Indian Jute Mills Association. level of production was being maintained as far as reasonably practicable economy in the consumption of jute was being effected by converting produc- of hessian into sacking. As a further measure of economy the mills oduced a system of stoppage of work for one week in every month from to November 1949. The first Jute Textile award, which was published er Government notification, dated 28th September 1948, made provision payment of involuntary unemployment compensation to the labour for the od of closure at 50 per cent. of their emoluments. From 5th December 9, the mills reduced the number of weekly working hours from 48 to 42½ ead of closing the mill for one week every month. These facts are in ord with the findings of the Second Jute Textile Tribunal's award. It is an itted fact that 12½ per cent. of looms were sealed as mentioned above at the e time in the Khardah Jute Mills also. As a result of sealing of looms ral weavers were thrown out of employment, but instead of keeping them nployed throughout the practice of rotational employment was introduced er instructions of the Indian Jute Mills Association and produc ion was ailed The sealing of looms affected the workers in the Sewing Section as . During war years there was enormous demand for sand bags, but America since been using paper bags and other substitutes for jute sacking for such There was thus reduced market demand for bags, affecting the sewers. d-sewers and machine-sewers are piece-raters. Naturally, there was marked in their earnings. But the Company had to pay full dearness allowance hose for whom there was no sufficient work. In the circumstances I am pinion that the Company has made out a case for retrenchment of workers he Sewing Department also. From the statement Ext. "C" it will be seen out of 58 machine-sewers 20 became surplus in the No. 1 mill. Of them were absorbed in available vacancies and 9 were redundant. In the No. 2 out of 70 machine-sewers 27 became surplus. Of them 11 were absorbed 16 were redundant. Of these 16 machine-sewers two were transferred to No 1 mill and 14 retrenched as against 11 retrenched in the No. 1 mill. ie Hand-hemming Section there were 156 workers of whom 62 became surplus; of these 62 workers were absorbed and 36 became redundant. In the No. 2 out of 135 workers 66 were surplus, 14 were absorbed and 52 were ndant. Twelve workers were transferred to No. 1 mill from which 48 kers were retrenched as against 40 from the No. 2 mill. Before retrench- t of these surplus hands they were put on involuntary unemployment from April 1950, and they were paid half wages and half dearness allowance till date of retrenchment. This is admitted by one of the workers examined he Union, namely, P.W. 4, Dhonori.

The Union has questioned the bona fides of the Company, because the pany retrenched these men during the pendency of the adjudication pro- ings without the previous permission of the Tribunal. The admitted fact that the surplus hands were kept on involuntary unemployment for more th 1½ years since April 1952 would be a sufficient answer to the charge mala fides levelled against the Company. Instead of keeping them involuntary unemployment the Company should have retrenched the surpl hands much earlier. But the Company had difficulties in that respect, becau there were pending adjudication proceedings before the Second Jute Text Industry Tribunal in respect of the Company and its workmen, as well as 80 oth companies and their workmen, since 25th September 1950. Prior to that, t First Jute Textile Tribunal had made an award which was in operation for o year from the 28th September 1948. The reference made to this Tribunal und Government order No. 268Dis./D-7L-35(D)/52, dated 5th February 1952, w in respect of a dispute concerning the dismissal of one workman Rampeary wh had been dismissed about two years before the reference. The Company h adduced evidence to the effect that on the 11th February 1952, its representativ and representatives of the workmen had discussions with the Deputy Labou Commissioner in Calcutta, and they, as well as representatives of the Jute M Association, met at the residence of Shri Bipin Bihari Gangulee, President Khardah Jute Mill Mazdoor Union, who was in sick bed at the time, and th question of retrenchment of workmen was discussed there. Neither the Depu Labour Commissioner, nor Shri Bipin Bihari Gangulee nor the representativ of workmen appear to have referred to the pendency of the adjudication proceed ings which they would certainly have done had they knowledge of the fact up that date. It is of course true, that commencement of adjudication proceedin does not depend upon communication of the order of reference to the partie But, if the evidence of Shri Roy, Labour Officer of the Company, be correc there is hardly any reason to say that the Company acted mala fide in makin the retrenchment during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings whic commenced from 5th February 1952, though technically it did contravene sectio 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act thereby. The question of retrenchment wa placed before the Works Committee in a meeting held on 6th December 195 but the workmen members refused to discuss the procedure for retrenchment o the ground that the occasion for legal and justified retrenchment had not arise I have no reason to doubt that the Company acted bona fide in effecting th retrenchment in question under circumstances detailed above.

It has been contended on behalf of the Union that now that the Compan has restored the weekly working hours to 48, there is hardly any justificatio for closure of 12½ per cent. of the looms even now and that the work-load o the existing staff has increased, which should be regarded as an instance o extraneous consideration. As I have already pointed out, the weekly workin hour was reduced from 48 to 42½ and 12½ per cent. looms were closed unde instructions of the Indian Jute Mills Association, as measures of economy i respect of raw jute in view of the difficult times ahead. It is perhaps in obedienc to the recommendations of the Second Jute Textile Industry Tribunal that th mill has started working 48 hours a week again. But this has evidently no con nection with the sealing of 12½ per cent. looms. As a result of this increas of working hours, the wages of the workers who were getting reduced wages i consequence of reduction in the weekly working hours will be restored to thei previous normal level. The Company cannot be asked to restart the looms kept sealed so long as stock position of raw jute remains uncertain as before. I am unable to accept the contention that the retrenchment was made by the Company for the purpose of increasing the work-load on the workmen retained, or for any extraneous consideration or improper motive.

In selecting the personnel for retrenchment the Company adopted the pro cedure laid down in the award of the Second Jute Textile Industry Tribunal, Issue No. 4 (pages 678 and 679 of the "Calcutta Gazette", November 12, 1951).

pursuance of the directions given in the award the Company superannuated 5, out of 210 workmen retrenched, and actually retrenched only 4 men on the is of the "Last come first go" principle (vide Exts. A, C, G and G1). The is of action for superannuation, Shri Roy, O.P.W. 1, says, was the service ord card. The workers who have been examined produced their service record ds or employment books and alleged that they had no knowledge about the ntents of the employment book and that they were shown to nobody else. ey even denied that the employment books were ever produced before the nagement until a week or so before their retrenchment. But this is belied the subsequent entries made in the column for absence on leave, etc. Shri y's evidence is that prior to his appointment in the Company there were service ds for the workers, but entries were made carelessly, so far as date of birth d date of employment are concerned. He invited applications from workers correction of entries which in their opinion were wrong, and as far as possible investigated all such cases and made corrections where necessary. That this s done is clearly indicated in the proceedings of the Working Committee eeting, dated 29th June 1952 (Ext. B). It will be seen at page 3 that the time it was fixed for such complaints regarding service record cards, because there is quite a flow of frivolous applications, and that in spite of the time limit there is still scope for investigation of cases based on genuine grounds. I am tisfied that the superannuation of old workers proceeded on a right basis. W. 3 Ganga appeared to complain that the retrenchment in his case was bad, cause he had served the Company for 15 years. Taking him at his word, he ould have entered the Company's service at the age of 7 or 8 years, which is surd. He said that he entered as a Badli and as such Badli he got dearness lowance at the rate of Rs. 8 per month for about 2 years. It was for the first me in the award of the First Jute Tribunal that food concession given by the ompany to their workers was assessed at Rs. 8 per month. So, this Ganga ould not have entered into the service of the Company before 1948. The date joining, i.e., 2nd August 1948, must have been correctly entered in his service cord, Ext. 1(b). The charts produced by the Company show the age and period employment of the retrenched workers. I am satisfied that the workers were ghtly superannuated and retrenched, and that the Company acted bona fide in aking the retrenchment and in selecting the personnel for retrenchment accordg to the directions given by the Jute Tribunal's second award. It is not estioned that the Company has paid to the retrenched workmen retiral benefits d compensation, as the case may be, according to the provisions made in the te Tribunal's award. I hold that the retrenchment was justified, and the comainants are entitled to no further relief. I make my award accordingly.

AWARD.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by orde No. 3274Dis./D/11L-234/52, dated 26th November 1952, referred the indus trial dispute between Messrs. Bird & Co., Ltd., Chartered Bank Buildings Calcutta-1, and their workmen employed at Kantapukur Shed, Hyde Road Tea Transit Shed and Tea Warehouse, and 3, King George's Dock, represente by Bird & Co. Labour Union of Calcutta, 4B, Kaila Sarak Road, Calcutta-23 and West Bengal Bird & Co. Mazdoor Union, 94, Garden Reach Road, Kidder pore, Calcutta-23, to this Tribunal, for adjudication. The proceedings before this Tribunal regarding this dispute is still pending.

The President of the Bird & Co. Labour Union of Calcutta, 4B, Kaila Sarak Road, Calcutta-23, applied on 15th December 1952 under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act stating that the Company (1) is refusing to employ old workers and employing new workers in the Hyde Road Shed and also (2) not giving full employment to the old workers in Juggernath Ghat Shed while employing new workers causing reduction of the piece-rate wages of the old workers and that the Company was, therefore, altering to the prejudice of these workmen the conditions of service applicable to them immediately before the commencement of such proceedings, in violation of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The workmen affected in the Hyde Road Shed are 118 in number, of whom 50 worked under Ramdhani Sardar and 68 under Nemu Das. The workers affected in the Juggernath Ghat Shed are 52 in number and they worked under Sardar Sonichar. These workers have been shown in 3 separate lists annexed to the complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Company in its written statement opposed the application of the President of the Union on the following grounds :—

(a) The present application under section 33A of the Act filed by the President of the Union is not maintainable in law, as the complaint has not been made by the workmen alleged to have been aggrieved.

(b) The workmen mentioned in the application are not employed by the Company but are employed by the Sardars, who are contractors, working under the Company. There is no relationship of master and servant between the Company and the workmen mentioned in the application.

(c) The Company has at present 6 contractors at Hyde Road Warehouse and 4 at Juggernath Ghat Shed, who have been carrying on the Company's work from before the commencement of the proceedings before this Tribunal. The Company denies the Union's allegation that it has refused to give work to its contractors, or to its own direct workmen at Hyde Road Warehouse or Juggernath Ghat Shed. The Company distributes its work amongst its various contractors according to the exigencies of work and the employment of contractors is casual.

(d) The application is incompetent and should be rejected.

These points will be considered below—

(a)—The application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act was signed by the President of the Bird & Co. Labour Union of Calcutta and not by the aggrieved workmen. At the time of the hearing, 74 of the workmen concerned filed a petition with their thumb impressions authorising the President of the Union Shri Subodh Banerjee, M.L.A., to represent them in the present proceeding. There is, therefore, no doubt that the application under section 33A of the Act is maintainable on behalf of the 74 of the workmen out of 170 mentioned in the three lists appended to the petition of complaint. The objection of the Company will not, therefore, stand at least in respect of these 74 workmen.

(b), (c) & (d)—The main objection of the Company is that the workers mentioned in the three lists are not workmen employed by the Company. They are employees of Sardars Ramdhoni, Nemu Dass and Sonichar. The Company, Messrs. Bird & Co., carries on the work of handling agents of tea chests on behalf of Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co. at Hyde Road Warehouse and the Tea Transit Shed at Kidderpore. The Company's case is that though the Company employed some Sardars as contractors to supply coolies for removing tea chests from one place to another and that these coolies are paid in lump sums for separate operations according to the volume of work executed by them by employment of their own coolies. It is admitted that there was a strike by the coolies working at Hyde Road Warehouse from 18th November 1952 to 29th November 1952. The men of the five Sardars struck work and it was necessary for the Company to engage other workers and a new Sardar was invited from the northern section of the Company's godowns on 19th November 1952 to provide for the labour. These men were supplied by a Sardar named Sahadeb Singh, and these men worked when this strike was going on. Th reference to the Tribunal was made on 26th November 1952. The Company' case is that the employment of the new Sardar Sahadeb Singh was made prio to the reference of the dispute to the Tribunal and therefore whatever con ditions of service might have been altered on account of this employment wa not hit by section 33 of the Act. It further appears that Numu Dass an Ramdhoni were not allowed to work with effect from 12th December 195 The Company states that it has cancelled the contracts of these two Sardar for misconduct. These two Sardars are not, however, complainants in th present proceedings.

The main question for decision in this case is if the workmen mentioned i the first three lists, viz., those who worked under Ramdhoni Sardar and Num Dass Sardar at Hyde Road Warehouse and Sonichar Sardar at Tea Trans Shed, Kidderpore, are workmen employed by the Company, and if there ma be any industrial dispute between them and the Company. Exhibits C to C1 are pay sheets for Sardars for weeks ending 25th October 1952 to 31 December 1952, for the Hyde Road Warehouse. They show that in the firs part of November 1952, there were five Sardars at Hyde Road Warehous named Numu Dass, Dahu Dass, Haricharan, Ramdhoni Dass and Satya Naraya Sha. It appears that each of these Sardars was paid lump sum amounts fo work executed by them through their men. These five Sardars worked ti 18th November 1952. From 19th November 1952 to 22nd November 195 the supplementary bill, Exhibit C(6), shows Sahadeb Singh as the only Sarda and for the subsequent weeks we find six Sardars being the five mentione before and Sahadeb. The week ending 20th December 1952, Exhibit C1 does not show the name of Ramdhoni or Numu Dass and the three Sardar Dahu Dass, Haricharan and Satyanarayan appear to be the only Sardars fro that week onwards. Exhibit 2 filed by the applicants show that on 19th Decem ber 1952 the Company issued a notice to all men employed by Sardar Ramdho and Sardar Numu Dass, that the contract and handling work under Sarda Ramdhoni and Sardar Numu has been suspended pending final enquiry abou certain charges against them with effect from 12th December 1952, and a men employed by the said Sardars are therefore directed not to enter the Hyd Road Warehouse or touch any article handled by the Company, or to do an work of the Company until further orders. It appears that Sardar Ramdho and Sardar Numu Dass have since been discharged by the Company. Exhibit A to A4 are five vouchers for the work of Sardar Dahu Das of Hyde Roa godown showing how the remuneration of the Sardars are fixed. These voucher show that the remuneration of the Sardars are fixed according to the volum of different kinds of work done by them through their men. It is becaus Sardar Ramdhoni and Sardar Numu Dass have been dismissed by the Compan from their contracts under the Company that the men mentioned in the firs two lists of the application are not now working at the Hyde Road Warehouse The complaint under section 33A states that this is refusal to give work to th old workers by appointing new ones. As has been mentioned above, Sahadel was employed to carry on some work on 19th November 1952 and since 20t December 1952 Sahadeb has not been working at the Hyde Road Warehouse Exhibit 2 filed by the complainants clearly show that Ramdhoni and Numu Das were contractors under the Company and they used to employ their own men for executing the work of the Company. The learned President of the Union filed ration cards, Exhibits 1 to 1(d) to show that every card has been sealed by the Company showing "Bird & Co. Labour". This stamp does not show that the holders of these ration cards are employed by the Company as their direct workmen. The learned representative of the Company, Shri Bala states that ration shops were started in different places so that the labour might get ration near the place of their work and the contractors actually collected the ration for all their labour and distributed the ration to their men, and the ration was collected from the Company's shop and that for that reason the stamp of "Bird & Co. Labour" was on the ration cards. This appears to be a reasonable explanation of the stamp. The learned President of the Union drew my attention to the fact that as the men mentioned in the lists were employed to do unskilled work for hire, they were workmen under section 2(s) of the Act, and because they were employed in the Industry run by Messrs. Bird & Co., they were, therefore, workmen of that Company. From the definition in section 2(s) of the Act, the men mentioned in the three lists appended to the application appear to be workmen under the Act, but for the present application under section 33A to be competent, Messrs. Bird & Co. are to be the employers of these workmen and the grievance of these workmen is to be an industrial dispute between them as workmen and Messrs. Bird & Co. as the employers. The evidence on record justifies the conclusion that the 118 men working under Ramdhoni and Numu Dass at Hyde Road, were employed by their respective Sardars, being Numu Dass and Ramdhoni. Documents (Exhibits 3 and 4) filed by the applicants only confirm this view. There is, therefore, no relationship of employers and workmen between the Company and the 118 workmen mentioned in the first two lists of the application. The refusal to give work to these men by the Company cannot, therefore, be in contravention of section 33 of the Act.

The applicants further urge that the men 52 in number working under Sardar Sonichar being those mentioned in the second list of the application who worked at Tea Transit Shed, Kidderpore, also worked at Juggernath Ghat Shed, but after the strike, the Company did not allow these men to work at Juggernath Ghat Shed, in addition to their work at Tea Transit Shed, Kidderpore, and that this reduced their wages. These men are still working under Sonichar Sardar, who is working as a contractor under the Company at Tea Transit Shed, Kidderpore. Sonichar being a contractor, cannot claim any permanent condition of service and Sonichar has not come forward with any such complaint before the Tribunal. The complaint on the part of Sardars' men is neither competent nor substantial.

The learned President of the Union also complained that in the case of the Company's own coolies, the Sardars of the muster gang used to get an allowance of Rs. 5 per month, which has been reduced after the reference of the dispute to the Tribunal. Clearly enough this complaint is not competent, as the Sardar of the muster gang has not lodged this complaint. The Company, however, has shown by the production of the pay bills of the tindals and coolies, Exhibit D, that this complaint of the learned President of the Union is without any foundation and that the allowance of the tindal is Rs. 5 in addition to his own wages as an ordinary workman if he works for the whole month, and in case he does not work for the whole month, his allowance is reduced in proportion to the number of days not worked. The pay bills, Exhibit D, supports this fact.

It is, therefore, decided that the application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is incompetent and it is rejected.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947 (XIV of 1947) as amended by the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act of 1950, filed by one Akhtar Ali, son of Janab Meher Ali of 50, Zakariah Street, Calcutta, an employee in the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, Ltd., Victoria House, Calcutta-1, against the aforesaid Company.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT :

SHRI G. PALIT, District Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company : Shri S. K. Mullick, Solicitor of Messrs. Sandersons & Morgans, Solicitors.

Present for the workmen : Shri Sumati Majumdar, Pleader.

The original reference out of which this case has arisen was made under Government order No. 1724Dis./D/10L-72(A)/52, dated 21st June 1952.

AWARD.

The petitioner's contention is that he has been serving in the Company as a coolie in the underground construction set No. 1 (Ticket No. U-147) on a monthly salary of Rs. 40 as basic wages and Rs. 50 as dearness allowance. He has been in this employ since 10th October 1945. It so happened that he went on privilege leave for 21 days with effect from 18th February 1952 to 9th March 1952. In course of such leave enjoyed at his native place in the district of Cuttack he was taken ill with gastric troubles. He sent an application for sick leave by registered post accompanied by a medical certificate on 10th March 1952, praying for an extension of leave by a month. As he did not recover, he sent another application for further extension of leave by registered post with a medical certificate. He was not favoured with a reply any of these applications. His illness, however, continued. He received a tter from the Company, dated the 11th July 1952 asking him to report for ity within a fortnight failing which his services would be terminated. He, owever, reported for duty on the 10th October 1952 and placed an applica- on for leave for the past absence supported by a medical certificate. The ompany's doctor, however, refused to endorse those certificates. As a result that, he was placed under suspension on 17th October 1952. As this order suspension has been passed without previous permission in writing from the ribunal, where the main case against the Company is pending, this petition nder section 33A of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, as been filed. He wants reinstatement with full compensation during this eriod of forced absence on suspension from 17th October 1952.

The Company resists the claim. It contends, firstly, that the allegation as amed does not lie because it is in respect of a provisional order as distinguished rom a final order, secondly, the Company could have dismissed him under the tanding Orders obtaining in the Company. It was rather, indulgent to the mployee in question that he was placed under suspension. There was an nquiry by a Committee set up by the Company under its Standing Order o. 15(a). The said Committee had decided that the employee should be uspended till the 31st December 1952. Thereafter his suspension would cease nd he would be taken back in employment. In pursuance of that decision of he Committee, he was taken back in the employment, though he turned up ot on the 1st January 1953 but a week later.

The Company raised a preliminary objection as to whether the application under section 33A of the Act is premature or otherwise. I had to look into the order of suspension itself. A copy of this order forms an Annexure to the applicant's written statement. As the applicant could not satisfactorily account for his absence in excess of the privilege leave granted to him, he was placed under suspension with effect from the 17th October 1952 by the Mains Superintendent. Thereafter a Committee was set up as provided for under section 15(a) of the Standing Orders of the Company. The decision of the said Committee is marked Ext. B. It runs as follows :—

> "Foreman Cowan stated that he was a good worker and he was of the opinion that a period of suspension would meet the case—
> Mr. Brazel concurred."
> "The decision of the Committee is that Akhtar Ali be suspended until January 1st, 1953 and requests the case to be put before the Tribunal for approval."

So it appears that the order of suspension which was passed by the Mains Superintendent for an indefinite period was confirmed by the aforesaid Committee on the 10th November 1952. This Committee extended the period of suspension to the 1st January 1953. Now the point is whether the applicant is entitled to come to the Tribunal under section 33A of the Act on 25th October 1952, i.e., about a week after the above order of suspension. Now, section 33 of the Act provides for safeguarding the conditions of service, etc., to remain unchanged during the pendency of proceedings before a Tribunal. This section after amendment has gone a step in advance. It makes any punishment whether by dismissal or otherwise dependent upon obtaining previous sanction of the Tribunal in writing. It is evidently meant to provide against any adverse or prejudicial effect on the workman's conditions of service by the employer during the pendency of proceedings before the Tribunal, unless it has been previously approved in writing by the said Tribunal. Apparently, uspension order for an indefinite period without such permission must attract the operation of section 33 of the Act. Such suspension for an indefinite perio is bound to act to the prejudice of the workman so far as the service conditio is concerned. If it was merely a security measure on the part of the Compan it must have been absolutely limited and must have been restricted to a perio which is unavoidable in such circumstances. We would expect that th Company would lose no time to approach the Tribunal for permission under section 33. But what has the Company done in the present case? Th Company set up a Committee which gave several dates for the enquiry. Th decision of the Committee was not arrived at till the 10th November 195 That was not the end of the affair. The suspension order was made to con tinue up to the 1st January 1953. About the propriety of this order I sha comment later on. But here I say that this employee was excluded fron returning to duty for this length of time from the 17th October 1952 to th 1st January 1953. So, though the order of suspension passed on the 17t October 1952 might have been subject to confirmation by the Committee t be set up for the purpose, it was certainly not what we call suspension as a security measure. Suspension for an indefinite period is generally condemned as a security measure. In many mills suspension is restricted to 4 days only If that is permitted and condoned as not attracting the operation of section 3 of the Act, then much of the benefits which this section was meant to confer on the workmen would be negatived. In this view of the matter I cannot consider the application under section 33A of the Act either as premature or as untenable. So the preliminary objection by the Company is turned down.

After the decision of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal of India in the Serampore Belting Company's case the law is well settled that the Tribunal will not merely remain content with the finding that the employer has contravened section 33 of the Act. It will go further into the merits of the case and see whether the Company's action was justified in the circumstances elicited before it. It will treat the complaint as an independent reference, though not made through the machinery of the Government, and the Tribunal will pass an award accordingly. In the present case I find on evidence that the workman could not justify his absence from duty during the period in question Even on his own admission, in the supplementary written statement, it appears that he received the Company's letter dated the 11th July 1952 asking him to return within a fortnight on pain of losing his service. But he did not return to duty till the 10th October 1952. His latest medical certificate recommended him absence from 15th May 1952 to 18th August 1952. After that there is not even any medical certificate to cover his absence up to the 10th October 1952. The Company's Standing Orders are very stringent in this respect. It treats sick leave in extension of privilege leave on the footing of a special case, and any period in excess of 3 months' absence even on medical certificate was made entirely dependent on the Company's discretion to grant or refuse. If the Company instead of dismissing him had placed him under suspension, the Company should be rather complimented for its indulgence. So I cannot say that the order of suspension which the Company had passed in the present case was unjustified. But that is not all. I have to see also whether the order that the Company had passed was in toto legal or otherwise. Simply because the extreme penalty of dismissal was not meted out in the present case, any order of suspension cannot be justified by the Tribunal unless it answers the requirements of law. I have to scrutinise the order of suspension. First of all, I have found that the order was rather irregular being for an indefinite period. It should have prescribed a particular period for which it was made to last. Next, the action of the Committee set up under section 15(a) of the Standing Orders was also one which is not strictly in order. The concluding paragraph of the said section would make it abundantly clear that it was up to this Committee either to confirm or to scind the order of suspension or dismissal as the case may be. In the event confirmation of the order of suspension, the worker will not be entitled to y payment of wages for such period. If the order of suspension is vacated, will be deemed to have been on duty and would be compensated by pay- nt of full wages. So this was a body which could either confirm or rescind order of suspension passed by the Company. It could not be otherwise we look to its composition. It is composed of departmental superintendent, partmental officer and two representatives of the employee in the department. ow, this body presumably is not competent to grant any fresh penalty which s not originally granted by the Company and on which it sits in judgment. iat would be an imposition of penalty by the workman's own representatives a certain extent. That would be preposterous. Yet this is what the Com- ttee has done in the present case and what the Company wants to subject s workman to. As a matter of fact the Company has already penalised the rkman concerned by withholding his wages for this length of time. So this riod of suspension, at all events, from the 10th November 1952, the date the Committee's decision onwards is ultra vires. The employee in question io was all along ready to return to duty and who was certified as "fit" by Company's doctor should not be deprived of the wages from the 10th ovember 1952 to the 31st December 1952, both the days inclusive. As s Committee has confirmed the order which the Company passed on the th October 1952 placing this employee under suspension, which has been und by me to be justified in the circumstances, I do not interfere with the id portion of the order of suspension up to the date of the Committee's cision. But I set aside the order of suspension covering the period from the th November 1952 to the 31st December 1952, as already stated. The rkman will get wages and dearness allowance for this period on the scale had drawn before he went on leave and this period should be treated as on ty for other purposes. The question of reinstatement does not arise as he s already been reinstated by the Company in his previous post, as I am told, th effect from the 1st January 1953. So the application under section 33A rtly succeeds. The employee is also granted Rs. 16 as costs against the mpany.

It is argued by the learned Solicitor of the Company that if the Company d approached the Tribunal under section 33 for suspension, then the Tribunal der the law would either grant it or refuse it, but the Tribunal could not trict the period of suspension which would be left to the Company. It is ntended that the position should not be different under section 33A of the t. But this contention I am unable to accept. By not seeking the per- ssion under section 33 of the Tribunal, the Company has taken the law into own hands. So its action under section 33A proceeding must be strictly utinised as the proceeding was deemed to be a fresh reference. In a refer- ce, the propriety and extent of the punishment must be looked into. Here I ve reversed the illegal portion of the order. The Tribunal is certainly com- tent to do that. So the contrary contention is ruled out.

Taken at my dictation and corrected by me.

Office of the Accountant-General, West Bengal

NOTIFICATIONS.

Subject:—Increase in the rates of daily and mileage allowance to the staff on election duty.

No. TM/412.—27th March 1953.—Attention is invited to this office notification No. TM/393, dated 19th September 1952, published at page 1315 of the Calcutta Gazette, dated 16th October 1952, on the subject indicated above as subsequently amended by a corrigendum, dated 13th February 1953, published at page 601 of the Gazette, dated 26th February 1953, in which all Treasury Officers were instructed not to admit certain claims on account of 50 per cent. increase in the rates of daily and mileage allowance until further instruction from this office.

The question of the share of expenditure on this account has since been reconsidered by the Government of India. As a special case, they have agreed to share on a 50:50 basis the total expenditure incurred by the State Government on account of the travelling and daily allowances to the staff employed in connection with the actual conduct of the last general elections, including the cost involved to the grant of 50 per cent. increase over the ordinary rates of daily allowance and mileage admissible to such staff. The above decision has been communicated by the Government of India through their Ministry of Law, letter No. F. 127/51-C, dated 21st March 1953, addressed to the State Government.

2. In cases where travelling allowances at ordinary rates were already drawn, supplementary claims for the 50 per cent. increase now sanctioned may be dealt with by the Treasury Officers concerned, if otherwise in order, without pre-audit by this office. Where, however, the entire travelling allowance claims have been held in abeyance, the bills will require investigation in terms of S.R. 90(b) of the Treasury Rules and pre-audit by this office, as the claims have become more than one year old.

3. The Treasury Officers, the Returning Officers and other Drawing Officers are requested to note the above instructions for guidance.

Subject:—Submission of Annual Establishment Returns by Heads of offices.

No. TM/413.—28th March 1953.—Attention of all Heads of offices of the Government of West Bengal as well as of the Central Government under audit control of this office is invited to this office notifications No. TM/950, dated the 8th March 1949 (published at pages 487, 535 and 573 of the Calcutta Gazettes, dated the 17th, 24th and 31st March 1949 respectively) and No. TM. (Pay Fixation)/251, dated the 13th April 1951 (published at page 961 of the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 26th April 1951), on the subject indicated above. It is hereby requested that suitable steps may kindly be taken to ensure the submission of Annual Returns of Establishment (including personnel holding temporary non-gazetted posts in superior pensionable service against temporary sanction to whom Articles 370 and 371 of Civil Service Regulations apply) as it stands on the 1st April 1953 to this office by the 15th May 1953 positively.

Subject:—Exhibition, in accounts, of transactions relating to Mysore, a Part B State occurring in Part A States.

No. TM/414.—28th March 1953.—Consequent on the Reserve Bank of India having taken over the general banking business of the State of Mysore with effect from 1st January 1953, the monetary settlement of other Government transactions arising in that State and vice versa on or after that date will be effected through the agency of the Central Accounts Section of the Reserve Bank at Calcutta. Transactions relating to the State of Mysore occurring in West Bengal on or after 1st January 1953, will, therefore, be adjustable under the head "S—Remittances—I—Remittances within India—Inter-State Suspense Account—Government of Mysore" and not under the head "P—Deposits and Advances—Part III—Advances not bearing interest—Accounts with Indian States" as mentioned in this office notification No. TM/256, dated 1st May 1951, published at page 1070 of Part I of the Calcutta Gazette, dated 10th May 1951.

2. All Treasury and Sub-Treasury Officers in West Bengal and the Manager, Reserve Bank of India, Calcutta, are requested to kindly note the above instructions and to exhibit transactions of the nature specified above under the aforesaid head in the Treasury/Bank accounts.

(A. G. Mysore letters No. 239-248/A/T.M., dated 27th December 1952—Dy. TM 2140, dated 29th December 1952, and No. 316/A/T.M., dated 4th March 1953—Dy. TM 2615, dated 7th March 1953, filed in Ble. TM/9-38 of 49-50, Vol. II.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SHRI G. PALIT, District Judge, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the workman: Shri Apurba Mohan Sen Gupta, Assistant Secretary of the Engineering Mazdoor Sabha.

Present for the Company: Dr. J. K. Bose, Labour Adviser of Indian Engineering Association.

The original reference out of which this case has arisen was made under Government order No. 268Dis./D/11L-251/51, dated the 21st November 1951, and another Government order No. 1817Dis./D/10L-71/52, dated the 5th July 1952.

AWARD.

The petitioner's contention is that his service under this Company dates back six years and a half, i.e., since the 24th April 1946. He was suddenly taken ill in course of his duty on the 11th November 1952. The Medical Officer of the factory permitted him to leave the factory and granted him subsequently sick leave for 3 days. The petitioner was treated by a private doctor named Dr. Nalini Ranjan Roy, D.M.S. He submitted a medical certificate from the said doctor recommending him 3 days' leave provisionally from the 12th November 1952. Thereafter his disease was diognosed to be Typhoid fever, and he could not recover till the 24th November 1952. At 10 a.m. on that day he turned up before the factory with a medical certificate of fitness from the said doctor, but he was bewildered to see that his service was being retrenched with effect from that day. As this was done without permission of the Tribunal before whom the main case was pending, the section 33 of the Act is said to have been contravened. The petitioner claims under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950, for an order for reinstatement with retrospective effect and for suitable reliefs.

The Company contends that no permission of the Tribunal is necessary as such an order of discharge is provided for under rule 27 of the Company's Standing Orders. The petitioner was treated as a deserter as he did not submit proper medical certificate on or before the 21st November 1952. He was thus absent for more than 7 days without permission, and so his name was automatically struck off under the aforesaid rule 27.

The Company's Standing Orders has been marked Ext. D. The case practically hinges on the interpretation of rule 27 of the Standing Orders If this rule does not apply, then the order of discharge in question cannot be sustained because this was the rule which was relied on by the Company. If we look to the rule 16 under the head of "Major Misdemeanours" as per clause (n), we find that a worker is guilty of major misdemeanour if he has committed "wilful, recurring or prolonged absence without leave". But even in such a case, before the order of dismissal is passed, the worker concerned should be given an opportunity of explaining the circumstances alleged against him. That safeguard is provided under that rule on the principle of natural justice. So, such an absence to cause forfeiture of service by entailing dismissal must be "wilful, recurring or prolonged without leave". In this context if rule 27 is considered then we have to suppose that the absence from work for 7 days continuously or more must be more heinous than the above so that automatic discharge may follow. I really fail to conceive what is exactly implied by such absence. If this rule 27 is rigidly construed, then practically it robs rule 16 of all its safeguards. It would practically negative those safeguards which are provided for in the interest of the workers under rule 16. So the rule 27 is in apparent conflict with the rule 16 under the head "Major Misdemeanours" as per clause (n). Discharge in such cases as per rule 27 does not very much differ from dismissal as per rule 16(n) in its consequence. In both the cases the man loses service. The only difference is that in the case of dismissal he will forfeit his claim for compensation. But in the case of discharge he may present such a claim. If we avoid this natural conflict between these two rules, we have to construe rule 27 as meaning where the worker presumably is absent without any manifest cause or excuse. This may be a case where the worker is guilty of deliberate absence to the knowledge of the Company practically flouting its order. This clinches the scope of explanation. If rule 27 does not mean this, then it will lead to lots of mischief to the workmen at the hands of the Company This will turn out to be a potent weapon of despotism in the hands of the Company if it is so inclined placing the workmen entirely at the mercy of the employer. Then the safeguards under rule 16, as already referred to, will also cease to have any meaning. So I think it will answer the ends of justice if rule 27 has its application confined to cases of absence where the workmen cannot possibly have any ostensible defence to make out.

Coming to the facts of the case can we ever treat this case as one such? I must say "no" emphatically. Here this workman was admittedly taken ill. He was admittedly granted 3 days' sick leave as per Ext. C, up to 14th November 1952. The petitioner had a sense of duty and so he sent a medical certificate by his attending doctor recommending him leave up to 15th November 1952 as per Ext. B. The Medical Officer of the Company as per Ext. C1 has refused to accept this certificate because it revealed spelling mistakes and because the date was inaccurate. But he should not have forgotton that it was he himself who by Ext. C had granted sick leave to the petitioner up to 14th November 1952. So this certificate, Ext. B, was practically redundant so far as sick leave for 3 days of this petitioner was concerned.

Then the Company sent a letter on the 14th November 1952, as per Ext. D1, intimating to the petitioner that his medical certificate has been rejected. He was asked to return to duty on the 21st November 1952 or submit a proper medical certificate for leave; otherwise his name would be struck off. O.P.W. 2, the Labour Welfare Officer, has deposed that Ext. D1 came back to the Company. There was some inaccuracy in the address. The Company contends that the letter was sent to the address which is on the Company's record supplied by the petitioner. Be that as it may, it may be the petitioner's fault that the letter (Ext. D1) did not reach him. But does that negative the story of his illness? It is the petitioner's contention that he left his ordinary residence and went to the residence of a fellow worker in the Keshoram Cotton Mills at a little distance. This is not at all improbable. So the Company cannot urge that the petitioner defied the Company's letter and did not join. Next, when the petitioner turned up on the 24th November 1952 with a medical certificate to join, he was told that he had lost his service on that day. The letter of discharge was being prepared to be sent to him. There is, however, nothing to contradict the medical certificate as per Ext. 1. This certificate purports to show that the petitioner was suffering from Typhoid and was under the treatment of Dr. Nalini Ranjon Roy from the 15th November 1952 to the 23rd November 1952. The doctor of the Company, O.P.W. 1, contends that if one suffers from Typhoid he cannot be cured within 10 days. But Typhoid is after all a generic term which may be loosely applied to the case of a para-typhoid, and other such cases of the enteric group. The doctor in this case is a registered doctor. I do not see how he should be disbelieved. He holds a diploma of D.M.S. This degree in Homoeopathy is granted by the Association approved by the Government. Homoeopathy may not be very precise in the matter of giving the name of the disease under the Allopathic nomenclature, but is that the reason why this should be straight-way disbelieved and that only by the surmise of the Company's doctor? It is contended on behalf of the Company that this doctor should have been examined. We know how limited are the resources of a workman, particularly, when he has undergone expenses of treatment. Can we expect that he would go in for further expenses by producing the doctor before the Tribunal? Besides, when there is no evidence on behalf of the Company to contradict the story of illness set up by the workman and supported by the medical certificate of a registered doctor, I find it hard to disbelieve the story. That being the position, I accept that this workman was ill from the 11th November 1952 to the 23rd November 1952 as per those certificates.

Now, the next consideration is whether even in such a case he should be discharged. He has put in more than 6½ years' service in this Company. The Company wanted to show that there were complaints in the past against him for careless work. That is quite a different thing. Nothing has been shown before me to show that he is a habitual defaulter. So his service record does not take away anything from the story of his present illness. It is said that the worker should be treated as a deserter. I have come across the term "deserter" with reference to military personnel when they overstay the leave or are absent without permission. I am afraid, the present Company was bent on enforcing military discipline in a civil factory. That will account for the stringent action taken by the Company regarding this man. I am the last person to approve of any action which may even remotely undermine the discipline obtaining in a factory, far less any defiant or negligent work. But in dealing between the employer and the employees I cannot consture the Standing Orders in such a way as cannot be strictly justified in the interest of the workers. So, in this view of the matter I am clearly of opinion that rule 27 does not contemplate application in a case of overstay of leave particularly where there is sufficient justification for it, namely, sickness, etc. Such circumstances are beyond the control of any human being, whether a workman or not. So the reasonable interpretation should always be put. I can never have that two rules of the same Standing Orders of the Company militate against each other as here. Besides, if they so militate such construction should be put by the Tribunal which is favourable to the workman and not one against him, for the simple reason that the employer has greater responsibility and hand in drafting the Standing Orders as against the illiterate workman. So an extremely rigid construction is likely to defeat the ends of justice. So my finding is that rule 27 is out of place. The order of discharge cannot also be upheld under "Major Misdemeanours" either, because the workman had no opportunity to explain his conduct which is enjoined as obligatory there. So I cannot sustain this order of discharge, and do hereby vacate it.

Regarding the relief that the workman would be entitled to by way of reparation I hold that he would be reinstated with effect from the 24th November 1952, and the period prior to that will be treated as sick leave on terms as in vogue under the Company. He would get full wages and dearness allowance from the 24th November 1952 up to the date he is reinstated. He must be reinstated within one week of the award coming into force. This compensation will be on the scale of pay last drawn by this petitioner and also dearness allowance at that rate. This is made payable within one week of the award coming into operation.

Regarding the legal objection that the Company is not bound to take the permission of the Tribunal for any action under the Standing Orders, I accept the Company's version but that also in a qualified manner. If the action is justified by the proper interpretation of the Standing Orders, then no permission of the Tribunal under section 33 of the Act may be necessary. But if it is found that it is not justified, then the permission of the Tribunal would be essential. In the present case I have found that the Company's action is not in strict pursuance of the Standing Orders as is interpreted by this Tribunal. So, the section 33 of the Act must be supposed to have been violated here. So the application under section 33A of the Act in the present case is in order.

I make no award for costs.

PRESENT:

SHRI S. K. NIYOGI, District Judge, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

By order No. 2016Dis./11L-125(B)/52, dated the 28th July 1952, the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred the aforesaid dispute to me, constituted an Industrial Tribunal under section 7 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, for adjudication, under section 10 of the said Act, regarding the matters specified in the schedule to the Order of Reference, which is as under:—

Schedule.

Whether the dismissal of Shri Sunil Mitra in circumstances alleged against him is a valid dismissal and if not, if he is to be reinstated.

The dispute relates to dismissal of Shri Sunil Ranjan Mitra, who was a Shift Supervisor of Heavy Chemical Department of the Company's factory at Panihati. The circumstances under which he was dismissed may be briefly stated thus. He resided in the Bengal Chemical Staff outside mess at Panihati which is about five minutes' walk from the factory's main gate. On Sunday, the 20th January 1952, at midday, Canteen Supervisor Shri Haripada Sen went for his bath to the mess premises where he had been taking his bath from some time past, although he was residing with his father in the Company's quarters outside. While waiting for the bath a quarrel ensued between Sunil Mitra and Haripada Sen and following that Sunil Mitra assaulted the latter. A complaint in writing bearing the same date, 20th January 1952, with a medical certificate, dated 21st January 1952, was submitted by Haripada Sen to the Works Superintendent of the Company's Panihati factory (Annexures A and A1 of the Company's statement). On 22nd January 1952, the Works Superintendent gave a letter to Shri Sunil Mitra to inform him that he was placed under suspension pending the decision on the complaint which had been received against him and that he would not be allowed to enter the factory on 24th January 1952 which was the date fixed for election to members to the Works Committee. He was however told that his agent would be given necessary facilities to work on his behalf. In the meantime the Works Superintendent had set up a Committee consisting of Shri Sushil Kumar Gupta, Shri Subodh Chandra Chanda, Chairman and Vice-Chairman respectively of the Works Committee, and Shri M. C. Bakshi, in-charge of the Heavy Chemical Department, to hold an enquiry into the complaint made against Shri Sunil Mitra by Shri Haripada Sen. The Committee had made the enquiry accordingly and submitted its report, dated 21st January 1952 (Annexure "B" of the Company's written statement). The enquiry proceedings was attended by Shri S. C. Parbat, Labour Welfare Officer of the Company. On the basis of that report the Works Superintendent gave Sunil Mitra a charge-sheet, dated 24th January 1952, asking him to submit his explanation in writing within 48 hours (Annexure "B" of the Union's written statement). On 25th January 1952, Shri Sunil Mitra submitted a written protest against his suspension to the Company's Manager through the Union. On 26th January 1952 he submitted his explanation which was called for on 24th January 1952 (Annexure "D" of the Union's written statement). On receipt of this explanation the Works Manager informed Shri Sunil Mitra by a letter, dated 29th January 1952 (Annexure "B" of the Union's written statement) that his explanation was totally incomplete and unsatisfactory in the face of the facts disclosed in the enquiry report signed by responsible persons which were sufficiently conclusive about his riotous behaviour endangering life and safety of the other employee and that his case was being referred to higher authorities for final decision, which would be communicated to him in due course, and he was to continue on suspension till then. He was further reminded of the fact that he had been suspended once before, in May 1950, for wilful insubordination and gross neglect of duty but his service had been retained after he had given an unqualified written apology. On the same day Shri Sunil Ranjan Mitra made an appeal to the Manager through the Secretaries of Bengal Chemical Mazdoor Union and Bengal Chemical Sramik Congress for favourable consideration of his case. Another appeal was sent to the Manager for withdrawal of the order of suspension against Shri Sunil Mitra by some members of the Bengal Chemical Staff outside mess through those Unions on the 30th January 1952 (Annexures G and H—Union's statement) Shri Sunil Mitra was however dismissed by the Manager on 6th February 1952. The Bengal Chemical Mazdoor Union, herein called the Union, took up he matter to the Labour Commissioner, Government of West Bengal, for his intervention. Sunil Mitra had in the meantime given pleader's notices o the Company. Conciliation proceedings were started, but as the conciliation failed the dispute has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Before going into the merits of the case I would like to deal with the egal objection taken by the Company as to the competence of the Tribunal to adjudicate upon the dispute, which, according to the Company, is not an industrial dispute. It is contended that Shri Sunil Mitra, whose case has been referred for adjudication, was not a workman within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act, but a Suvervisor. So, the alleged dispute is not an industrial dispute and the reference is accordingly bad in law. It is an admitted fact that Shri Sunil Mitra was a Supervisor in the Heavy Chemical Department. It is not also disputed that Shri Sunil Mitra was drawing Rs. 83 per month including basic pay and dearness allowance. But his designation does no matter. At the same time, the consideration of his salary is not material, because the salary of an employee is not laid down as the criterion for determining whether the employee is a workman or not. Shri Sunil Mitra has made no statement as to what his duties were. Nor is the statement of the Works Superintendent, Shri R. N. Roy, challenged in his cross-examination. Shri Roy has stated that as a Supervisor he was responsible for production and good work in his shift. There is nothing to suggest that his duty involved work of clerical or manual nature. His supervisory duty, on the other hand, carried with it responsibilities different from those of a clerk or a manual worker. The general trend of decisions in the Industrial Tribunals is that a Supervisor, whose work is not essentially clerical or manual, is not a workman. I have hitherto found no reason to differ. On behalf of the Union it has been urged that an employee would be an officer if he has power of direction and control. But in the present case Shri Roy does not say that Shri Sunil Mitra was vested with power of direction and control as an officer has. So, it is contended that he should be regarded as a workman. The Union has further referred to the award of Shri S. N. Modak, I.C.S., in a previous dispute between the same parties, published in the Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary, dated 3rd November 1949, where Supervisors are said to have been included in the category of workmen. The decision relied upon by the Union is reported in (L.A.C., 1952, page 344). There the question was whether an employee of a bank (i.e., an Inspector) was an officer or a workman, and their Lordships of the Labour Appellate Tribunal held that the test is whether he has power of direction and control. In a later case (Punjab National Bank, Delhi, 1952 L.A.C., page 529) it has been held that an employee occupying a position of command and direction would be an officer and not a workman, but it is not correct to say that none else would be so and that the nature of responsibility attached to the post is not material. The first thing, their Lordships say, is to see what are the main and essential duties of the employee. If they are clerical, he would prima facie be a workman, but the other factor, namely, the nature of his responsibilities has to be considered even where his duties require some amount of clerical work. As I have pointed out already, the responsibility attached to the position held by Sunil Mitra is known to us, but we are not told that any of the least part of his work was either clerical or manual in nature not to speak of the essential part of his work. The essential part of his duties is, so far as we know, of a nature which carries with it the responsibility of an officer. So, on the evidence before me, I am to hold that Shri Sunil Mitra was not a workman at the time of his dismissal.

The Union's contention that Supervisors were considered in the previous award as belonging to the category of workmen does not appear to me to be correct. In dealing with "classification of workmen" the learned Adjudicator considered the case of a batch of employees designated as Supervisory Assistants and doing work of a supervisory nature by assisting, or co-ordination with the Chemist-in-charge, or Supervisor, and made a separate category for them under a new name, namely, Junior Grade. Supervisors much in the same way as Junior Grade clerks were allowed to form a new category. Supervisors properly so called, were not taken into account in the matter of classification of workman. In fixing minimum wages and grades of different categories of workmen, provisions were made for Supervisors, as also for Engineers, in the same way as for the different categories of workmen employed by the Company. We should remember that till recently Tribunals in West Bengal have all along held that workmen are entitled to raise any dispute in respect of terms of employment, or conditions of service of "any person", whether he is a workman or not. So, the mere fact that minimum wages, etc., were fixed in the previous award for Supervisors also, does not by itself give rise to the inference that the former Tribunal had taken the view that Supervisors were workmen. In the circumstances, the Union's contention that Shri Sunil Mitra should be regarded as a workman within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act must fail. In the view I have taken the dispute raised regarding the dismissal of Shri Sunil Mitra, who is not a workman, cannot be said to be an industrial dispute, and the reference is therefore bad.

Coming now to the merits, I find that the procedure adopted by the Management for dismissal of Shri Sunil Mitra for misconduct, though not strictly in conformity with the usual regular practice, was in substantial compliance of the principles of natural justice and there was no want of good faith on the part of the Management. The written complaint of Shri Haripada Sen, dated 20th January 1952, was possibly submitted to the Works Superintendent on 21st January 1952, if it was accompanied by the medical certificate, dated 21st January 1952. The Enquiry Committee was formed with the Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the Works Committee and the Departmental Head of the Heavy Chemical Department to which Shri Sunil Mitra belonged. While the Chairman of the Committee was the employer's representative, the Vice-Chairman Shri Subodh Chandra Chanda was the employees' representative on the Works Committee. Shri M. C. Bakshi was also the Honorary Secretary of the Co-operative Stores and Canteen. The Enquiry Committee thus constituted was a fully representative body and its members were obviously persons holding positions of responsibility and trust. The Labour Welfare Officer was there to watch the proceedings in addition to them. The Works Superintendent is by dint of his position responsible for production and efficient running and administration of the factory of which he was in-charge. There is to deal with any matter arising in or in connection with the internal administration of the factory of which he was in-charge. There is nothing to contradict him that the Enquiry Committee was set up in pursuance of the usual practice obtaining in the Concern. The Committee made the enquiry and submitted its report on the same day (21st January 1952). The incident is admitted by Shri Sunil Mitra and also the fact of assault committed by him on Shri Haripada Sen. The Committee examined Shri Sunil Mitra, Haripada Sen and two other witnesses, Santu and Parimal, residing in the mess where the incident took place. Shri Sunil Mitra admits that he was examined but he says that he made no other statement than what he has stated before me in his evidence. It is not denied that Haripada had been taking his bath in the mess from some time past.

This is rather evident from Sunil's own statement that he had previously warned him against using the bathroom causing inconvenience to the boarders of the mess. In the story of the incident given by Shri Sunil Mitra it is mentioned that he asked Haripada not to enter the bathroom before he had finished his bath, but the latter entered the room and shut the door from within. Sunil Mitra forced the door open, dragged out Haripada and told him to go away, never to enter the mess again. Haripada abused him and insisted on abusing him in filthy language in spite of protests from his side. Sunil says that he gave Haripada a slap on the cheek at that time. What took place after that, according to Sunil Mitra, might as well be that Haripada kicked at the door of the bathroom which was immediately shut by him, rather than kicking at him after his entry into the bathroom. Assuming that this is the correct version and the whole story, there is hardly any sufficient material to support Shri Sunil Mitra's contention that he had had sufficient provocation to assault Shri Haripada Sen. The latter was insulted, turned out of the bathroom and told never to enter the mess again. Naturally, a quarrel ensued in course of which invectives were likely to have been used by both sides. If there was provocation, it proceeded more from his side than from the other. The injuries noticed in the medical certificate (Annexure A1, Company's written statement), which were caused on the date of the incident according to the doctor's report, go sufficiently to indicate that more than a simple slap was inflicted on Haripada Sen by his assailant. The injuries are consistent with Sunil having given him blows with shoe and fists, which was the complaint made by Haripada to the Works Superintendent (Annexure , Company's statement). Regard being had to these circumstances I am satisfied that the findings of the Enquiry Committee regarding the incident of 20th January 1952 as stated in the report (Annexure B, last 2 paragraphs) are correct. The Committee also investigated the motive for the assault which according to the complaint of Haripada Sen was committed by Shri Sunil Mitra out of previous grudge owing to an incident that had taken place some time ago in the Canteen. The Committee found that Shri Haripada Sen had refused to submit to the requests of Shri Sunil Mitra which involved violation of some regulation imposed on the Canteen and the latter was since then seeking for an opportunity to insult the former in retaliation for the humiliation suffered at his hands. This finding appears to be based on evidence which the Committee had before it. The report containing the findings of the Committee having been submitted that very day, when the evidence was fresh in the minds of the members, it is immaterial that the statements of the witnesses were not recorded though it would have been better if the Committee had reduced them into writing. The report records, however, the statement of Sunil wherein he is said to have confessed his guilt and taken credit for having assaulted Haripada in retaliation of the humiliation previously suffered at his hands. He is reported further to have told the Committee in a state of exasperation, that he might have shot Haripada Sen had he been possessed of a gun. I can conceive of no circumstances under which responsible men like the gentlemen on the Enquiry Committee might attribute such statements to Sunil against when they had no animosity unless they were made by him. The Works Superintendent is likely to have received this report of the Enquiry Committee, when Shri Sunil Mitra was suspended pending final decision of the matter. He says that the suspension order had to be issued under instructions of the Labour Officer, Barrackpore, who was to preside over the by-election fixed for 24th January 1952 presumably to guard against disturbance at the election meeting. In the charge-sheet, dated 24th January 1952 the material facts reported by the Enquiry Committee after investigation of the complaint of Haripada Sen, were stated with sufficient clarity, so that he had had due notice of the facts alleged against him. The first part of his reply (Annexure "D" of the Union's statement), relates to the order of suspension which is characterised as irregular and illegal. In answering to the charge-sheet, dated 24th January 1952, in the second part of the same reply, dated 26th January 1952, he contends that the complaint referred to is not true and not connected with the factory and factory law. He did not deny the fact of assault on Haripada Sen or that of his confession of guilt before the Committee. Neither did he state his version of the incident which is now admitted. He challenged only the statement that "he had gone so far as to say that he might have shot Haripada had he been possessed of a gun and he had an idea of retaliation a long time and the incident was an intentional one" as exaggerated, false and unnecessary. This reply furnished but an incomplete and unsatisfactory explanation to the charge-sheet in the opinion of the Works Superintendent, who, however, forwarded the papers with a note of his previous conduct to the final authority, meaning the Manager, for final decision, with intimation given to Shri Mitra on 29th January 1952. In this way he was given an opportunity to defend himself at the final enquiry by the Manager. On the same date Shri Mitra made an appeal to the Manager, with which was forwarded a petition of some members of the mess corroborating the facts as stated by him. The report of the Enquiry Committee was challenged in that appeal as being based on no proper enquiry but made whimsically to cause him harm. So the Company's Manager had all the necessary materials before him to come to a decision in the matter, and he decided on those materials to dismiss Shri Mitra, who was accordingly dismissed on 6th February 1952. I would like to mention here that it does not appear from the copy produced before me that the Company's standing orders prescribe any procedure for dismissal.

In the written statement of the Union it was alleged that Shri S. K. Gupta, Assistant Superintendent (Chairman of the Works Committee), who was on the Enquiry Committee, was a near relation of Haripada Sen. But there is no evidence in this direction. What Shri Sunil Mitra says is mere hearsay based upon no foundation. No such objection was taken in the appeal to the Manager, dated 29th January 1952, in which the enquiry report was challenged as whimsical and made with the purpose of causing him harm, or in any letter written by him. It was further alleged that Shri Subodh Chandra Chanda had not been officially called to work on the Enquiry Committee and that he had not signed the committee's report with knowledge of its contents. It was for Shri Subodh Chandra Chanda to come and say so, but he was not called by the Union presumably because he would not support such an allegation. On the other hand, it is proved by Shri M. C. Bakshi that there was a circular appointing the Committee Members which was signed by him. The Works Superintendent states that he appointed Shri Chanda with Shri Gupta and Shri Bakshi to constitute the Enquiry Committee. The report of the Committee purports to have been signed by all the three members on the same day as the enquiry was held by all of them sitting together as Shri Bakshi tells us. These facts go a great length to rule out the suggestion of the Union. It is pointed out that Shri Subodh Chandra Chanda presided over a protest meeting of the Union members and signed its resolution challenging the order of suspension passed on Sunil Mitra (vice Ext. 1). The challenge was in respect of the order of suspension, from which it does not follow that the validity of the report of the Enquiry Committee was intended to be called into question. The Union urged further that the act of Management in suspending Shri Mitra was prompted by unfair labour practice inasmuch as it was done with the ulterior motive of preventing him from being elected to the Works Committee for which he was a candidate. But the charge is not substantiated by the evidence of Shri Mitra himself who does not say so. He is a member of ie Executive Committee of the Union by which he is being represented. t is clearly not his case that the Management bears any grudge against him, that he has incurred the Management's displeasure for his Union activies. He confessed that he could not suggest any motive on the part of the ompany for his dismissal. The allegation made in the Unions letter to the abour Commissioner (Annexure I, Union's statement) that he was debarred om attending the election meeting on account of the differences which he ad with the Works Superintendent and Shri S. K. Gupta and the allegation ntained in his own letter to the Labour Commissioner, dated 25th January 952 (Ext. 3) that he was so forbidden by the Company out of grudge are elied by his own statements made at the hearing. He was not a member f the Works Committee before and he knew nothing about the Works Comittee affairs. There was another candidate from the same Heavy Chemical epartment to which he belonged. If he could exercise his vote in favour f himself, the votes would have been equally divided as it is said that he as defeated only by one vote. His failure at the election cannot thus be aid to be the direct consequence of his failure to attend. His agent was iven all facilities to work inside the factory on his behalf. It is not posible therefore to say that his defeat was in the contemplation of the Company hen he was prohibited from entering the factory. It has been stated in the ritten statement of the Company and it is also in the evidence of Shri . N. Roy, Works Superintendent, that the order of suspension and prohiition against his entry into the factory was issued under instructions of hri Roy, Labour Officer, Barrackpore, who was the Presiding Officer at the y-election. As I have already mentioned, the report of the Enquiry Comittee was before the Management and according to that report Shri Sunil litra had been in a highly excited mood losing all control over himself. n this state of things it was not unreasonable that the Management had to top him by way of precaution against trouble at the by-election under nstructions of the Presiding Officer. These being the circumstances, the lleged exercise of unfair labour practice by the Company is in my view, holly ruled out. I am of the opinion that the Management acted with no lterior motive, and that there is nothing on which bona fides of the Comany in taking all these actions against Shri Sunil Mitra can be called into uestion.

The boue of contention of Shri Mitra and the Union all along has been hat the Company acted without jurisdiction and officiously in taking action gainst the former on the complaint of Shri Haripada Sen relating to an ncident of a private nature between him and the former, which should ather have been tried in a criminal court, inasmuch as the act complained f does not come under the purview of the Company's Standing Orders for the ollowing reasons:—

(i) that the incident took place between Shri Mitra, an employee of the Company, and the Canteen Supervisor Shri Haripada Sen who is an outsider, and it was a private affair.

(ii) that the incident took place outside the factory premises, and

(iii) that the incident took place beyond the factory hours, on a Sunday.

The canteen is managed by the Co-operative Stores of the workers, and t is said that Canteen Supervisor Haripada Sen is not an employee of the Company. As he works in the canteen within the factory premises, he cannot reasonably be regarded as wholly an outsider. The canteen is maintained by the Company for the benefit of the factory workers in accordance with the Factories Act. It is a part of the normal duty of the Company which employs more than 250 workers not only to provide but also to maintain the canteen, and the duty is imposed by the statute and the rules made thereunder. So, even after providing the canteen the responsibility of the Management continues. It is in the evidence of Shri Roy, that a part of the establishment costs of the canteen is borne directly by the Company. The canteen employees are said to be treated for the purposes of administration and discipline as employees of the Company. In my opinion, a canteen employee is as much an employee under the administrative control of the Company as its direct employees. The mess house is no doubt separate from the factory premises, but it is as much the property of the Company as the factory itself. The Works Superintendent's evidence is that the mess house is attached to the factory, but owing to inflammable nature of the tar distillation plant there is a barrier between the two. The Company pays for the cook and servant, and establishment charges, such as electric and water charges, etc., are borne by the Company. The maintenance cost of the mess house which is the Company's property is also borne by the Company. None except an employee of the Company is allowed to reside in the mess. In the circumstances the Company cannot be said to have acted improperly in treating the incident as having taken place inside its factory premises and between two of its employees. The incident was not an isolated one, but it was a sequel to a previous incident which had taken place in the canteen inside the factory. It is the duty of the Management to impose discipline in the administration of its affairs. It is under no duty to act according to the result of a criminal trial. So it is immaterial that no criminal prosecution had been launched. There is no doubt in my mind that Shri Sunil Mitra assaulted Shri Haripada Sen on account of what had happened in the canteen previously. What he did was clearly an act subversive of discipline. Punishment of an employee is prima facie a Management function which can be exercised subject to the conditions that the Management does not act with improper motives of victimisation, or unfair labour practice, or in violation of the principles of natural justice. The grounds on which the Management can take action to enforce discipline in its internal administration are not limited to those contained in the Standing Orders. The Management is bound to follow the rules of the Standing Order, but in cases which may not be covered by the Standing Orders, it is not certainly deprived of its general powers of exercising control in administration of its internal affair. In my view, the Management has power to punish Shri Sunil Mitra for misconduct, even if the assault be assumed to have taken place outside factory premises and beyond factory hours.

It is an admitted fact that on a previous occasion in 1950, the Management had suspended Shri Sunil Mitra for wilful insubordination and neglect of work, but the latter having submitted a written apology (Ext. A), he was, on his prayer, retained in the Company's service. Having regard to his past conduct which appears to have been considered by the Company, I am unable to say that the Company was unnecessarily harsh, or that the punishment was the result of arbitrary action. In my opinion the Company acted bona fide and the dismissal is justified. I conclude accordingly that the dismissal of Shri Sunil Mitra in the circumstances alleged against him is a valid dismissal and he is not entitled to be reinstated. I make my award accordingly.

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Gangjee Sajun & Co., 18, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, and their employees represented by Federation of Mercantile Employees Unions, 23A, Netaji Subhas Road (top floor), Calcutta.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SHRI G. PALIT, District Judge, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Union: Shri P. K. Ghosh, General Secretary, Federation of Mercantile Employees' Unions.

Present for the Company: Shri Mohini Mohan Hazara, assisted by Shri Chandulal Chunilal Dasi, Manager of the Company.

By Government order No. 1614Dis./D/11L-148/52, dated the 10th June 1952, the aforesaid dispute has been referred to me for adjudication under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947). The Fifth Industrial Tribunal was constituted under notification No. 3581Lab., dated the 9th June 1952.

The reference was received here on 12th June 1952. The Unions filed written statement on 27th June 1952. The Company filed written objection on 22nd July 1952. After several adjournments the case was heard on 24th February 1953. The evidence was concluded on that day and the award was reserved.

The issue contained in the schedule to the order of reference stands as follows:

(1) To what relief Sk. Kiamuddin is entitled?

AWARD.

Before I deal with the issue specifically I give a brief history of the present dispute. Sk. Kiamuddin was appointed as Duftry some time in 1918 when he was of 18 years old. He had put in more than 33 years' service under this Company when he was suddenly served with a notice of retrenchment on 27th November 1951 terminating his service from 31st December 1951. His salary at that time was Rs. 40 as basic salary plus Rs. 15 as dearness allowance. He was granted no retiral benefit. So he claims gratuity at the rate of one month per year of service.

The Company objects to the representation of Sk. Kiamuddin by the Federation of Mercantile Employees' Unions. The second objection is that there is no system of gratuity obtaining in this concern, and that the financial position of the Company just now is extremely bad. Besides, it is contented that Sk. Kiamuddin was offered an alternative post of Durwan on the same pay as before, but he did not accept it.

Regarding the representation of Sk. Kiamuddin by the Federation of Mercantile Employees' Unions, I find that Sk. Kiamuddin was not a member of any registered Trade Union. That being the position he is entitled under section 36(1)(c) to be represented by any officer of any Trade Union connected with the industry in which this workman was employed. The officer representing him must be properly authorised. This is a mercantile firm and it appears from the written statement of the Union that Shri P. K. Ghosh was appointed to represent the said Federation. This Federation was representing Sk. Kiamuddin at the Labour Commissioner's Office. The order of reference also mentions this Federation as representing the employee in question. That being the position, I am of opinion that the workman in question has been properly represented in this case. Regarding the second contention I am satisfied that the system of gratuity or provident fund is not in vogue as a retiral benefit in this concern. So, if the Federation wanted the introduction of gratuity in this concern, there should have been a specific claim and a specific issue on it. In the absence of such an issue gratuity cannot be awarded in any particular case. Besides even if I consider the question of gratuity broadly, I cannot allow the claim in the present case because the Company has been suffering losses as per Ext. A. That is a certificate of a Chartered Accountant in the Head Office in Bombay on the 8th July 1952. It is admitted that the other workmen who were retrenched with Sk. Kiamuddin had not been granted any such gratuity as a retiral benefit. That being the position I find no reason why gratuity should be awarded in this particular case.

The workman has been given one month's pay in lieu of notice. That was a condition of service. He was offered also an alternative appointment on the same pay as a Durwan but he did not accept it. The Company wrote to the Assistant Labour Commissioner about this matter. The Company's Manager also deposed about this offer. So I cannot accept the denial of the workman in this respect. The workman has since been provided in another concern. So I do not find any hardship involved in the present case. All this is about compensation which has not been specifically claimed. Gratuity is the specific claim which I cannot allow. So I award that Sk. Kiamuddin is entitled to no further relief. I pass my award accordingly rejecting the claim of gratuity.

ANNEXURE

he matter of an industrial dispute existing between the Champdany Jute Mills, Champdany, post-office Baidyabati, Hooghly, and their workmen represented by Champdany Jute Mills Employees' Union, Champdany, post-office Baidyabati, Hooghly.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL.

PRESENT :

SHRI G. PALIT, District Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

ent for the Union : Shri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate, instructed by Shri N. K. Roy, Pleader.

ent for the Company : Shri K. Basu, Counsel.

By Government order No. 1606Dis./D/7L-43/52, dated the 9th June , the aforesaid dispute has been referred to me for adjudication under ons 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947).

The reference was received here on 11th June 1952. The Union filed an statement on 5th July 1952. The Company filed written objection on July 1952. After several adjournments the case was taken up for hearon 10th March 1953 and continued up to 13th March 1953. The evidence arguments were concluded and the award was reserved.

The single issue contained in the schedule to the order of reference stands llows :—

(1) Whether the Company was justified in dismissing the five workers, namely, (1) Shri Sashi Bhusan Chatterji, (2) Shri Haripada Biswas, (3) Shri Hara Mohan Ghosh, (4) Shri Tarapada Panji, (5) Shri Manindra Chandra; if not, whether the said five workers are entitled to reinstatement or any other relief including compensation for the period of their unemployment.

AWARD.

The joint written statement of the workmen contends that these wor have put in long service under the Company but they have been dismi on a false plea of having assaulted the Labour Officer, Shri A. K. Sen Gu and the Labour Office clerk Shri A. K. Hore on the 15th January 195 about 5-30 p.m. The Company did this out of malice to disrupt the U and to victimise these workers. The Company, on the other hand, conte that these workers did, as a matter of fact, assault the Labour Officer and clerk as above. There was a police case. They were, however, given benefit of doubt and acquitted. The Hon'ble High Court was moved to effect. The Company, however, framed charge-sheets against these workm made an enquiry, and was convinced of their guilt. The Company sou for the permission of the Tribunal under section 33 of the Act. The was, however, struck off as the award was published. Thereafter this has been launched consequent on the dismissal of these workmen by Company after the publication of the award in the main case. The Compa resists the claim for reinstatement or any other relief as these workmen w dismissed for misconduct.

The matter is, after all, very simple. I have got to see on evidence be me whether the said Labour Officer and his clerk were really assaulted the 15th January 1951 at about 5-30 p.m.; and next, whether these worki did commit the said crime. The learned Advocate on behalf of the Un gave a categorical denial of the whole incident. But the doctor's certifica Ext. E, clearly shows that the said Labour Officer was injured in the af noon of 15th January 1951. The doctor certifies that there was swell and Ecchymosis on the back of the right leg and also on the back of S Amiya Sen Gupta, and he complained of pain all over the body. examined him on 15th January 1951 at 7-15 p.m. He also examined S Adhir Hore, the Labour Office clerk, at the same time and found an abras on the left knee and heard complaint of pain on the right back. The me cine he prescribed is also on the record as per prescription, dated 15th Janu 1951. The Labour Officer was allowed one week's leave. So, I can ne take it that the incident was a got-up affair. The learned Advocate of Union argued that if this incident happened near the Union Office, close to Mill, then the Labour Officer, instead of being taken home, should have b taken either to the Manager's bungalow or to the dispensary in the M But I have got in evidence that the Manager's bungalow was in the oppos direction of the Labour Officer's quarters, and that the dispensary in Mill had closed at 4-30 p.m. So, there is nothing unusual or suspicious the Labour Officer being taken home in a cycle-rickshaw by Adhir Babu, the first instance. Then the Manager was sent for and later on the doc was sent for with the Manager's permission. This was just in the fitn of things. So it is abundantly clear that the incident did, as a matter fact, happen as stated by the Company.

Next, whether these were the persons who were involved in the incid or were responsible for the crime. In the doctor's certificate, Ext. E, w soon after the occurrence, Shri Amiya Sen Gupta, the Labour Officer, stat to the doctor that he was assaulted by Tarapada and Manindra by kicks a blows. This was also corroborated by Shri Adhir Hore before the doctor the same time as per Ext. E. The Thana Officer arrived in the Mill on t next morning. Shri Adhir Hore gave one written statement before t Thana Officer there where he gave a detailed account of the incident as how Manindra and Tarapada assaulted the Labour Officer while Sash Haramohan, Haripada and others encircled him and incited them to be him. He was also assaulted by them when he intervened. This stateme

s also endorsed by the Labour Officer in writing as per Ext. A. So, simply ause the complaint was not lodged in the police-station that very evening s not rob this statement of its value or taint it with suspicion. Next, if onsider the evidence of Kaluram Kahar, O.P.W. 5, and Sukdeo Choudhuri, P.W. 4, who were eye-witnesses of the incident, I am almost convinced out these men participating in the incident. These witnesses have been ected to severe cross-examination by the learned Advocate of the Union. I find them substantially adherent to their statements as made here and e in the Criminal Court. Their evidence has not been shaken in cross-mination. The learned Criminal Court could not accept the testimony of se witnesses on their face value, because the Prosecution stated that no tsider was present at the time of the occurrence. Sukdeo was virtually outsider because he was appointed after the incident. But as it will pear in evidence, Sukdeo was playing the part of a badli in the Mill now d then at that time. He went to file his hajira only to show that he was ailable for any badli work. So he was not strictly an outsider. Kaluram that has been disbelieved because he was an employee in the Mill. We ve got in evidence that the incident occurred at a short distance from the ill in front of the Union Office. So it was only probable that some men the Mill might be witnesses. Kaluram, though a chance witness, has plained how he happened to be there at that time. He did not interfere t of fear. That is also not unusual when there was an organised attack the Union people in front of the Union Office. It is argued why Faguram, e owner of the tea shop where Sukdeo was taking tea, did not intervene. e was preparing tea, and so if he minded his own business there is nothing t of the way. The learned Criminal Court was landed into an error as it pears from its judgment, Ext. 1(a). It observed as the back-ground of the se that the Management had recommended the dismissal of these persons fore the Tribunal. That is not the fact. The Management recommended eir dismissal not before the occurrence but some time after the occurrence, nder section 33 of the Act. But I accept his finding that the accused rsons and the Management had some trouble between them. That will so appear from Annexure A to the Company's written statement. From nnexure A it appears that Tarapada and Manindra had been transferred and ade to join a lower job. So, that these persons will have some grudge gainst the Labour Officer is self-evident. In the circumstances it is only ry probable that they will be involved in the incident of assault on the abour Officer. Besides, I get from the Manager's evidence that the Labour fficer mentioned Manindra and Tarapada along with others before him soon ter the incident. They were also named before the doctor and before the olice soon after the occurrence. There is nothing to show that the Labour fficer had any particular grudge or malice against these persons. It is rdly understandable why he will conceal the names of the real culprits and ist the blame on these persons if they were not really involved, in the sence of malice. It is argued by the learned Advocate of the Union why her independent witnesses are not forthcoming. The place was on the . T. Road, and the hour was not dark. That is true. But to get a passer-y as a witness in such an incident is really an uphill task. Pedestrians nerally fight shy of criminal cases if they can help it. That is a common perience. So the absence of other witnesses is not by itself very signifi-nt. The matter can very well be judged on the evidence already on cord. Then the learned Advocate also tried to plead alibi in the case of anindra, but as it will appear from his deposition that he was on unautho-ised leave. No leave-pass was issued to him as in such cases. So the plea f alibi does not succeed. He might very well have returned to the place of currence to participate in the affairs. He was more free to do it when n leave than when on duty. So I find no substance in this contention. I have gone through the evidence separately against each of these workm and I find that the charge has been brought home to each one of th The Company also furnished charge-sheets to them. There was an enqu and the Company passed the order of dismissal. In the circumstan proved before me I must concur with the Company's decision in the pres case. So the case for reinstatement cannot arise as I uphold the order dismissal. I do not accord any relief to these workmen as they were gu of misconduct. No importance can be attached to the contention that occurrence took place outside the Mill. The occurrence is directly traceal to the affairs in the Mill and to the persons serving in the Mill. That be the position, the Company was perfectly justified in meting out punishm to the offending workers. So the workers are entitled to no relief

Taken at my dictation and corrected by me.

Messrs. Bose Wood Works, Ltd., is a plywood manufacturing factory Ultadanga, mainly producing tea chests. It started work in January 44 and was closed from 1945 to November 1947; it resumed work from 47 December to 1948 December and was closed again from 1949 January 1950 July. It commenced work again in 1950 August. On 20th August 51 there was an agreement between the Company and the Union of work-en as shown in Ext. E in regard to the terms and conditions of service the workmen employed in the factory. A fresh charter of demands as submitted to the Company on 23rd August 1952. Negotiations were rted between the authorities of the Company and the President of the nion Shri Kalyan Chatterji, but as it is stated by the Company, these gotiations were not fruitful and the Company was unable to accede to e demand of the workmen owing to financial difficulties. On 20th Sep-mber 1952 a stay-in-strike was launched by the workmen for one hour om 11 a.m. to 12 noon. According to the Union this was by way of cal down" on the part of cent per cent. workmen in the interest of llective bargaining. According to the Company, however, during this riod of stay-in-strike the 6 workmen under reference grew violent and sumed a threatening attitude towards other workmen and the members the staff who were reluctant to join the strike and abused the management filthy language for which charge-sheets were drawn up against them th the direction to reply to the charges on or before 6th October 1952. ıe Company also wrote on 22nd September 1952 to the Superintendent Police, 24-Parganas, a letter informing him of the incidents happening ring the stay-in-strike on 20th September 1952. A copy of this letter s been appended to the Company's written statement as Annexure C(7). ıe workmen again staged a stay-in-strike on 25th September 1952 on the ue of bonus. According to the Union as the negotiations between the mpany and their representative broke down on 24th September 1952 the workmen demonstrated their solidarity for realisation of their legitim claim by way of peaceful "tool down" strike on 25th September 19 According to the Company some workmen including the 6 workmen un reference defied all lawful orders of the Management and committed same offences that were committed during the previous strike on 20th S tember 1952 and the Company was forced to draw up charge-sheets agai many workmen including the 6 workmen under reference and directed th to reply to the charges by 6th October 1952, and the six workmen un reference were also suspended in view of their repeated illegal activit and insubordination resulting in loss to the Company. The factory w closed from 26th September 1952 to 30th September 1952 on account Puja holidays and was reopened on 1st October 1952. On that date workers tried to stage a strike again. The Managing Director and t Union President addressed the workmen and they thereafter joined wo The six workmen in question in this proceeding were allowed to work fr 1st October 1952 to 5th October 1952 as casual workers according to t Company but as other permanent workers according to t Union. Explanations to the charge-sheets were submitted by the 6 wor men on 6th October 1952. On that date they were dismissed by the Co pany with effect from 25th September 1952. There was a conciliati proceeding over the matter of dismissal of these 6 workmen which was u successful and the dispute was referred to this Tribunal for adjudicatio

Notices were issued to both parties who filed written statements setti forth their respective cases.

The appearances of the parties were as follows:—

For the Union: Shri Patit Paban Pathak.

For the Company: Shri Arabinda Bose, Secretary.

The issue framed for the decision of this case is the same as that me tioned in the schedule to the order of reference and is as follows:—

Issue.

1. Whether discharge of the following workers is justified; to wh relief are they entitled:—

(1) Shri Basudev Porel.

(2) Shri Profulla Dutta.

(3) Shri Manindra Lodh.

(4) Shri Manmohan Acharya.

(5) Shri Dhiren Mukherji.

(6) Shri Sachindra Nath Kundu.

DECISIONS.

The Union states that the discharge of the 6 workers mentioned in th schedule to the order of reference is an act of unfair labour practice don with an ulterior motive, and they should be reinstated with full compen sation for the period of unemployment which should be treated as a perio of actual work. The Company states that at no time the Company wa guilty of unfair labour practice as alleged by the Union and that the Com pany had bona fide justification for dismissing the six workmen unde rence, and the workmen under reference are not entitled to reinstate-t or any other benefit as claimed by the Union.

The Union examined Basudev Porel one of the dismissed workmen. S. 1 series, 2 and 3 were proved for the Union. O. P. W. 1 Lal Mohan arji, Supervisor of the dry chamber and Packing Department, P. W. 2 Lal Mohan Ghosh of the Peeling Department and O. P. W. 3 ri Satya Ranjan Biswas, Factory Manager, were examined for the mpany. Documents Exts. A to F were marked for the Company.

It appears from the evidence on record that on 25th June 1952 Basudev rel had a trouble with the Manager O. P. W. 3. The Company's case that Basudev Porel was insubordinate to the Manager. Basudev Porel tes in his cross-examination that on that occasion the Manager rebuked m by saying that he would turn him out of the factory and over this re was a strike which lasted for a week, and he states that he was spended then the notice of suspension was withdrawn and he was not nished and that it was not a fact that he was suspended for the whole y of 25th June 1952 or that only 27 workers did not work in sympathy th him but that 80 workers in all refrained from working for half the y on account of the order of suspension on him. O. P. W. 3 Shri Biswas, Manager, said that he asked Basudev Porel why he was giving lesser rk at that time and much less than what he used to give before, and that sudev Porel told him in an insubordinate manner that no better produc-n would be given and he also abused the Manager. The Manager orted the matter to the Secretary of the Company and Basudev was spended for one day. Ext. A, dated 25th June 1952, shows that Basudev rel was asked by the Manager to explain why disciplinary action would t be taken against him for indiscipline, gross misconduct and of abusing a filthy language against the Management inside the factory on 24th June 52. On the back of Ext. A is written an order to the effect that Basudev s found guilty of misconduct and indiscipline and that on Basudev's pressing regret for the incident and assuring good behaviour for the ture he was suspended for one day, namely, 25th June 1952 by the Secretary Mr. A. Basu. The order also shows that 27 other workers named n an annexed sheet who refrained from work up to tiffin hour as a protest gainst suspension of Basudev were paid half a day's wages for the day nd that no further action was taken against them as the Union Secretary alyan Chatterji assured their good conduct and this signature was counter-igned by Kalyan Chatterji. Amongst the 27 workers are the other five orkers involved in this case.

It is the Company's case that the workers did not give their full quota work as a result of the adoption of a deliberate go-slow tactics and the mpany, to counter this movement, introduced a system of paying rewards the more diligent workers as shown in the letter in Annexure C(1) of e Company's written statement. Ext. F, the conduct book of the work-en, shows the reward in money paid to the various workmen during the ar 1952. This book also shows adverse remarks against workmen who d not work satisfactorily. It is the Company's case that Basudev Porel nd the other five workmen always opposed other workmen giving good oduction and advocated slow work and were against the system of pay-g rewards to the more diligent workmen as given by the Company in 52. O. P. W. 1 Lal Mohan Acharji and O. P. W. 2 Lal Mohan Ghosh te that the six men in question asked them and also other workers not to rk properly but to reduce the production and in case of their refusal they re abused by them. It is in the evidence of the Company's witnesses that during the one hour stay-in-strike on 20th September 1952 the steam coming to the dry chamber from the boiler was suddenly stopped and O. P. W. 1 Lal Mohan Acharji informed Ajit Babu, Supervisor, of the matter and Ajit Babu along with him went to the boiler and opened the stopcock of the pipe and restored the current of steam to the dry chamber and relieved the boiler but that at that time Basudev Porel and others opposed the opening the stopcock and Basudev Babu threatened Ajit Babu with insult if he went to the boiler and touched the stopcock. It appears from the evidence of O. P. W. 1 that there was full steam at the boiler and full fire in the furnace. This conduct on the part of Basudev Porel was highly objectionable in view of the fact that stopping the passage of steam out of the boiler when it was in full steam was highly dangerous and might have resulted in an accident. It appears from Annexure C(7) to the Company's written statement that the Company wrote to the Superintendent of Police, 24-Parganas, on 22nd September 1952 stating that the 6 workmen involved in this case were mainly responsible for inciting others to suspend work and abusing and threatening violence to the Management.

The strike for one hour on 20th September 1952 was illegal as it was in contravention of section 23(c) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Ext. E the memorandum of agreement between the Company and the Union of workmen dated 20th August 1951 was, according to paragraph 17 of the memorandum of agreement, binding on both the parties for a period of one year from the date of signature. Under section 19(2) of the Act this settlement shall be binding for such period that was agreed upon by the parties and shall continue to be binding on the parties after the expiry of the period aforesaid, until the expiry of two months from the date on which a notice in writing of an intention to terminate the settlement is given by one of the parties to the other party to the settlement. No notice in writing of an intention to terminate settlement appears to have been given by either of the parties to the other party. The Union in its written statement stated in paragraph 6 that on 21st June 1952 a deputation of workmen headed by the Secretary of the Union met the Management to notify that they did not want to continue the terms of the settlement arrived at on 20th August 1951. This oral notice does not satisfy the terms of section 19(2) of the Act. Even if the Company had admitted this oral notice which the Company does not, it would not have been enough compliance of section 19(2) of the Act and the settlement would not be terminated by such an oral notice. That being so, the strike on 20th September 1952 from 11 a.m. to 12 noon and the other strike on 25th September 1952 were illegal. Ext. 1(a) is the charge-sheet issued on Manindra Nath Lodh on 23rd September 1952 on account of his conduct in regard to the strike on 20th September 1952. Ext. 1(b) is the charge-sheet in regard to his conduct in the stay-in-strike on 25th September 1952. Ext. 1(a) shows that Manindra Nath Lodh has been charged with inciting the labourers to launch an illegal stay-in-strike in the factory and abusing the Management with filthy language also for threatening them with violence. Only the six workmen in question were charge-sheeted for the one hour stay-in strike on 20th September 1952.

The second strike took place on 25th September 1952 over the demand of Puja bonus for 15 days made by the workers. It is in evidence of the Company's witnesses that on that date the workmen entered into the factory and removed the plywood pieces which had been arranged in pyramid shapes in the previous night and put them in stacks and then the workmen stopped all work and stood at their places of work. This heaping of plywoods in stacks stained them and made them useless for the purpose for ich they were meant. The Company's case is that the loss incurred was re than Rs. 3,000. It also appears from the evidence on record that the mpany offered wage advance for 15 days to be set off against bonus if nus was allowed by conciliation or adjudication but the workers did not ree. The Company charge-sheeted the workers in question and it appears it on the 26th of September charge-sheets were issued to some other rkmen except the six workmen involved in this case for having launched egal stay-in-strikes on the 20th and 25th instant, and Exts. 1(d) and (3) two such charge-sheets. These workmen were allowed to work with ect from 1st October 1952 when the factory reopened after the closure on ount of the Puja holidays. Ext. 2 shows that the explanations from the workmen were received by the Secretary of the Company on 6th October 52 at 1 p.m. It is in evidence that these six workmen were not allowed work from the morning of 6th October 1952 although the replies to the arge-sheets could be submitted in course of this day and was actually bmitted at 1 p.m. and the Company dismissed the workmen very soon ter receiving the explanations. These explanations are Exts. B to B(5) ven separately by these workmen where the offence of citement of other workers to strike or abusing the anagement is denied and Ext. B(6) is a joint statement here it is stated that the six workmen joined their fellow workers in pur-ance of collective bargaining. It also appears from the evidence of . P. W. 3 that on 1st October 1953 when the other workers came to work ey could not join at the instance of the 6 dismissed men and there was a rike for some time, and it was only when the orders were passed by the ecretary that those who did not join by 10 a.m. would not be allowed to in work, that all the workers joined work. On that date all the workers ere allowed but the six men were not allowed to work but ultimately they ere allowed to work on thika basis as casual workers pending the decision n the explanations of their charge-sheets.

It appears from the evidence on record that the six workmen in question ot only joined the illegal strikes on 20th September 1952 and 25th September 1952 but were guilty of subversive activities such as attempted destruction of employer's property, and intimidation and coercion of loyal mployees. They were, therefore, rightly dismissed by the Company. Punjab National Bank, Ltd. vs. Workmen, 1953, L.A.C., page 1.) hey are not, therefore, entitled to any relief in this case, and it is awarded ccordingly.

SCHEDULE.

(1) Santama, (2) Saiyema, (3) Annapurna, (4) Yankti, (5) Chintamoni, (6) Krishna No. 1 (2.237), (7) Banomali, (8) Kunja and (9) Apal Nurshia.

Notices were issued to all the parties and they filed written statements ting forth their respective cases. The written statement of the Howrah la Chatkal Mazdoor Union which will be referred to hereafter as the zdoor Union is briefly as follows:—

The Bengal Jute Mills Co., Ltd., belongs to the Soorajmull Nagarmull oup of industries. This group has earned notoriety for a policy of our baiting. Workers in this Mill were used to be worked overtime hout absolutely any payment. Service books were not given to all the rkers in spite of the award of the First Major Jute Textile Industry ibunal. Workers are manhandled, served with warnings and discharged flimsy reasons or no reasons. On 9th January 1952 a female worker med Annapurna aged about 20 years was called to the Labour Office at ghtfall. She refused to go there but was being dragged from her arters by one Mahaluxmi to the Labour Office. Her cries attracted other rkers and she was saved from outrage. Workers were very much itated over this matter. The leaders somehow maintained peace. There re big processions and demonstrations on this issue. At least 90 per cent. the workers participated in each of the demonstrations. On 29th Janu- y 1952 when the said Annapurna was sleeping with her husband in her arters in the night, one Gurumurthy, an employee of the Mill, broke en the door of her room and assaulted her, and also took away her gold sloo (lockets). Fakir, husband of Annapurna, struggled with the sailant but could not protect his wife and Gurumurthy managed to dis- pear before the neighbours appeared at the cries of the victims. Anna- rna was carrying and bled profusely as a consequence of the assault. e was removed to the hospital. The matter was reported to the Police e very same night. The workers who accompanied the bleeding girl and r husband to the police-station found Gurumurthy and the Labour fficer of the Mill Mr. Chaudhury sitting together in the police-station. his attack upon Annapurna stunned the workers in general. They forgot l other grievances and insisted upon the arrest of the miscreant Guru- urthy and his immediate dismissal. The workers held big demonstrations which nearly 90 per cent. of the workers took part every day. Not tting any relief the workers suddenly and spontaneously stopped work manding justice on 4th February 1952. It was a stay-in-strike involving arly cent per cent. of the total labour force. The stay-in-strike continued r full 8 days. Nearly 3,000 workers kept themselves within the Mill emises. The strike was called off on 11th February at 9 p.m. after an greement was concluded in the Labour Directorate and Gurumurthy was ken into custody by the Police. According to this agreement, which is ppendix A to the written statement, 15 workers were to be charge-sheeted, d an enquiry was to be held in the presence of the Labour Commissioner ho would recommend decisions on these enquiries. Workers were to cept any punishment short of dismissal that the Labour Commissioner ight recommend and in case of any recommendation for dismissal the rkers would be kept under suspension pending adjudication by a Special ibunal. The Labour Commissioner after an enquiry recommended dis- issal of 9 workers out of 15. These 9 workers are the same as mentioned the schedule to the order of reference. The present reference has, there- re, been made to this Tribunal.

The Labour Commissioner showed partiality in the matter, as he served hri Bhajan Das Gupta with a notice as to why he should not be prosecuted r inciting and conducting an illegal strike in Bengal Jute Mills on h February 1952, but failed to take action against the Company, al- ough some of the workers concerning the present case had been driven ut of their respective quarters in flagrant violation of the spirit of the agreement, dated 11th February 1952, and also of the provisions und section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Labour Directorate h failed so far to protect the workers from victimisation, resulting in alm complete demoralisation of the workers. The Union, therefore, prays th all the 9 workers mentioned in the schedule to the reference be reinstat with full compensation for the period of their forced unemployment.

The written statement of the Howrah District Jute Mazdoor Congr Union which will be referred to hereafter as the Congress Union is follows:—

The Company is an old one and barring a minor or partial dispute connection with the closure of the Listing Section due to paucity of w orders, there had never been any major occasion calling for offic intervention of the Government for settlement of any dispute. The peac ful atmosphere of labour relations was disturbed and trouble commenced connection with the recent elections to the Bengal Assembly, which to place in the latter part of January 1952. Shri Sibnath Banerjee of t Socialist Party suffered a major defeat in the last election. Therefo Shri Sibnath Banerjee and Shri Bhajan Das Gupta and his other Social colleagues tried to rehabilitate the position of the Howrah Zilla Chatk Majdoor Union and they with some undesirable elements incited some the workers and fomented trouble in the Mill to create a field for th party. On 29th January 1952 there was a domestic quarrel between tw neighbours in the cooly lines outside the factory premises and it w alleged that an unfortunate woman Annapurna sustained personal injuri The Police delayed in initiating action against the persons alleged to ha been responsible for inflicting injuries on Annapurna, presumably t want of prima facie evidence and the Socialist Group managed, throu misrepresentation, to incite some of the workers against the Manageme and brought about a forced and involuntary stay-in-strike on 4th Februa 1952. On the same day the Vice-President of the Congress Union different capacities addressed a communication to the Company and fo warded copies to the appropriate authorities. A copy of the communic tion is Annexure A to the written statement of the Congress Union. I this letter the Vice-President made it clear that the peaceful workers wh wanted to work in peace demanded suspension of 24 workers who we equally responsible to force a stay-in-strike, as a security measure f smooth running of the Mill. The Management thereafter suspend 15 persons out of these 24 and eventually dismissed 9 of them. The co tention of this Union is that while some other persons were equal responsible for bringing about the stay-in-strike there has been differenti tion in treatment with regard to the 9 workers under reference. The Unio therefore, prays that they should be reinstated, but should the Tribun find that reinstatement cannot be granted to them, they should be pa adequate compensation.

The Company in its written statement states as follows:—

Shri Sibnath Banerjee and Shri Bhajan Das Gupta were contesting th elections in the last general election for membership of the State Assembly As part of their electioneering campaign they picked up trivial grievanc by making false allegations against the Management and tried to antagoni the workers against the Management in order to gain their support an sympathy. Both of them lost in the elections. In order to rehabilitat themselves in this area for their Union activity, they resumed the tactic of inciting workers against the Company by misleading them and finall succeeded in bringing about an illegal strike. It is not a fact that worke are made to do overtime work without proper payment or to work beyon hours permitted by law. Employment Books have been issued to all e who are entitled to them. It is untrue and malicious to suggest that kers are man-handled and are warned and discharged without rhyme or on. The dearness allowance at the new rate awarded by the Second Textile Industry Tribunal was paid to the workers from 10th Decem- 1951 i.e., two days before the award actually came into operation. denied that Annapurna either called at the Mill Labour Office or was gged there at nightfall or at any time and it is untrue to suggest that rge number of workers came to her rescue. On 9th January 1952 apurna with one of the Union officials went to Sibpore police-station lodged a diary to the effect that she had been assaulted by her husband. story regarding the assault on Annapurna on 29th January 1952, as far he Management has been able to ascertain, is not true. Any incident may take place resulting from private quarrels outside the Mill is not vant to this dispute before the Tribunal. It is not true that Mr. Chow- ry, the Labour Officer of the Mill, was sitting at the police-station for purpose of making a statement. In the night Annapurna went with husband to lodge an information to the Police after she was assaulted Gurumurthy. Mr. Sibnath Banerji and Mr. Bhajan Das Gupta and political party had been trying to enlist the workers to their side by ying on various misleading and false propoganda against the Manage- t In fact up to the 4th February 1952 the Management was not aware ny specific reason for the strike. On enquiry after the commencement he strike the Management found that there had been a considerable fusion in the minds of the workers in this respect and in fact nobody w the reason of the strike. Some mischievous persons including some kers, succeeded in bringing about the strike by spreading false allega- s against the Management one of which was that Gurumurthy criminally lted one Annapurna and the Management had been backing him. Strike brought about by intimidating tactics of a very small section of workers were under the instructions of the aforesaid political leaders. The tinuance of the sit-down strike may rightly be attributed to the inti- lating tactics adopted by the Union. On the morning of the 4th of ruary work was going on normally in the early morning until a small up of workers in the Batching and Preparing Department began to t intimidating the workers to stop work and went from department to artment throwing bobbins and shouting and ultimately brought about otal stoppage of the Mill. Gurumurthy was not absent from the Mill ing the few days preceding the 4th February as alleged by the Union. Management on a preliminary enquiry charge-sheeted 15 workers who e suspected to be principal offenders on the following charges:—

(1) Inciting others to join an illegal strike and participating in the same.

(2) Riotous and disorderly conduct.

(3) Acted in a manner subversive of Mill discipline.

the stay-in-strike continued, the Management being apprehensive of the of properties of the Company and lives of the officers and loyal workers ed the Mill by issuing a notice to the effect on 4th February 1952. In meantime a conciliation proceeding was started and an agreement was mately effected under section 12 of the Industrial Disputes Act, wherein was agreed that the workers except the 15 charge-sheeted workers would me work from 12th February 1952 and the cases of the said 15 workers ld be heard and decided in the presence of the Labour Commissioner who ld recommend to the Management what action was to be taken in each e. A thorough enquiry was held in the presence of the Labour Commis- ner and the Union officials as a result of which the Labour Commissioner made his recommendation for dismissing the 9 workmen in question for giving lesser punishment to the rest of the 6 workers. The Mana ment considered the recommendation of the Labour Commissioner a dismissed the 9 workers in question after being fully satisfied that t were guilty of the charges brought against them. The accusation of fairness made against the Labour Directorate betrays an irrespons character on the part of the Union. The Company would strongly u that the prayer for reinstatement of these 9 workers should be reject Their reinstatement would make it impossible for the Management to ma tain discipline in the Mill and would also jeopardise good labour relati not only in this Mill but throughout the industry. It is, therefore, s mitted that in the absence of any case of unfair labour practice having b established against the Mill, the question of reinstatement of these work cannot arise.

The appearances for the parties were as follows:—

For Howrah Zilla Chatkal Mazdoor Union: Shri D. L. Sen Gup Advocate, Shri Sibnath Banerji, President and Shri Bhajan L Gupta, Secretary.

For Howrah District Jute Mazdoor Congress Union: Shri N. M. L Gupta, Advocate and Shri Hanumantha Rao, Vice-President

For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate and the Labour Officers the Company.

The issues framed were as follows:—

Issues.

1. Is the dismissal of the following workmen justified?

   (1) Santama.

   (2) Saivema.

   (3) Annapurna.

   (4) Yankti.

   (5) Chintamoni.

   (6) Krishna No. 1(2.237).

   (7) Banomali.

   (8) Kunja.

   (9) Apal Nurshia.

2. Are they entitled to reinstatement and/or compensation?

DECISIONS.

Issues Nos. 1 and 2.—The 9 workers in question were dismissed offences under the standing orders committed during the occurrence of t strike which continued from 4th February 1952 to 11th February 1952 the mill. The admitted facts of the case show that a stay-in-strike by large number of workers of the first shift of the Bengal Jute Mill w launched at about 7-15 to 8 a.m. on 4th February 1952 and the work continued to stay at their posts, for which reason it was not possible for t workers of the second shift to start work at 11 a.m. and a total stoppage the Mill resulted. The Company, therefore, closed the Mill gate for reaso safety of life and property. The Management on a preliminary enquiry rge-sheeted 15 workers, including the 9 dismissed workers, who were pected to be the principal offenders, on charges of inciting others to join illegal strike and participating in the same, riotous and disorderly nduct and acting in a manner subversive of discipline. The stay-in-ike continued till 10 p.m. on 11th February 1952. In the meantime a nciliation proceeding was started and an agreement was effected between company and the Mazdoor Union in the conciliation proceeding; the ms of this agreement will appear in Ext. G. By this agreement the y-in-strike was to be lifted at 10 p.m. on 11th February 1952 and the rkers staying inside the factory were to clear out by that hour, charge-ets were to be served on 15 workers on 12th February 1952 and all rkers except these 15 workers were to commence work with effect from 12th bruary 1952. The case of the 15 workers were to be heard and decided the presence of the Labour Commissioner who was to recommend to the nagement the action to be taken in each case, and the Management was act according to the recommendation of the Labour Commissioner. The rkers would abide by the decision of the Management, taken in accord-ce with the recommendation of the Labour Commissioner, in all cases cept in those cases where the order was one for dismissal. The cases of se workers who are dismissed, in accordance with the recommendation of Labour Commissioner, are to be reported to Government for reference a Tribunal and pending the Tribunal's award they will remain under spension. The 9 workers mentioned in issue No. 1 are those who after an quiry by the Labour Commissioner were recommended by him for smissal and were accordingly dismissed by the Company. The principal estion is it the dismissal of these 9 workers was justified by the facts and cumstances of the case.

In the enquiry by the learned Labour Commissioner which took place om 13th February 1952 to 18th February 1952 the Company examined 9 itnesses; they were C. W. 1 Jitmull Khijrwal, Batching and Preparing rerseer, C. W. 2 Ram Kailas Singh, Spinning Overseer, C. W. 3 Tulsi m Sarma, Weaving Overseer, C. W. 4 Rowshan Singh, Weight Coolie, W. 5 Purusottam, Tea Vendor of Canteen, C. W. 6 Narsinghloo, Spinning rdar, C. W. 7 Lagan, Weaver, C. W. 8 Appana, Spinner and C. W. 9 m Murti, Coolie Sardar. All these 9 witnesses examined for the Company re cross-examined by the Union representatives. 16 defence witnesses re examined on behalf of the workers and they are—D. W. 1 Jotaram, oot-cutter, Batching Department, D. W. 2 Chinnaia, Root-cutter, tching Department, D. W. 3 Pasurtoli, Drawing Receiver, Preparing partment, D. W. 4 Ganga Debi, First Drawing Receiver and Second awing Feeder, Preparing Department, D. W. 5 Nandji Prosad, Weaver, W. 6 Bhola Nath, Weaver, D. W. 7 Manikchand, Spinner, D. W. 8 rishnamurty, Spinner, D. W. 9 Kiron, Winding Department, D. W. 10 anorama, Winding Department, D. W. 11 Lachan, Machine Sewer, Sack-wing Department, D. W. 12 Basdeo, Sack-sewing Department, D. W. 13 di, Beaming Department, D. W. 14 Shyam, Beaming Department, W. 15 Khublal, Listing Department and D. W. 16 Chandra Deo, Listing partment. Cross-examination of these witnesses were declined by the mpany. Both the parties relied on the evidence adduced by these itnesses before the Labour Commissioner for the purpose of the present quiry, and the evidence of these witnesses were marked Ext. 1 on the mission of both the parties. Ext. 2 which is the judgment of G. R. Case 9/213 of 1952 filed by the Majdoor Union. The Majdoor Union also amined P. W. 1 Entamma alias Yankti, one of the 9 dismissed workers. e was cross-examined by the Company's learned Advocate. The Company d not in this proceeding adduce any fresh oral evidence but produced docu-ents which were marked Ext. A series, Ext. B series, Ext. C, Ext. D, Ext.

E, Ext. F and Ext. G. Exts. A to A8 are copies of the Company's char sheets served on the 9 dismissed workers. Exts. B to B8 are the explan tions of these 9 workers, Ext. C is the judgment in Case 586C of 19 Ext. D is the copy of the recommendations of the Labour Commission dated 22nd February 1952, Ext. E is the copy of the Company's lett dated 4th February 1952, to the District Magistrate, Howrah, informi him about the strike, Ext. F is the copy of the letter, dated 4th Febru 1952, from Shri Hanumanth Rao, Vice-President of the Congress Union, the Company and Ext. G is the copy of the agreement, dated 11th Febru 1952, between the Company and the Mazdoor Union.

The Company's case is that these 9 workers were rightly dismissed un section 14(c)(viii) and (xi) of the Standing Orders as they resorted to illegal strike on 4th February 1952 and through intimidation incited oth to strike work and also as they were guilty of riotous and disorderly condu on the same date during working hours and acted in a manner subvers to Mill discipline. This is the offence with which they were charged in t charge-sheets Exts. A to A8. Section 14(c)(viii) and (xi) of the Standi Orders is as follows:—

"14. (c) The following acts and omissions shall be treated misconduct:—

(viii) riotous or disorderly behaviour during working hours at t establishment or any act subversive of discipline,

(xi) striking work or inciting others to strike work in contravention the provisions of any law or rule having the force of law."

All the 9 workmen were charged with the same offence and all of the submitted the same explanation. In the explanation it is stated that t agreement of "no victimisation" means that no charge-sheet could be issu to any of the participants of the strike including the workers who had be charge-sheeted and that the issue of the charge-sheet was a breach of t agreement. It is further stated that the strike occurred because of a m cowardly and murderous attack on Annapurna by one Gurumurthy who known by all as Company's agent to break the unity of the workers, th the charges levelled were maliciously false and they have been served these 9 individual workers as they were active members of the Union a went on deputation on several occasions to the Mill authorities to voice t grievances of the workers, such as non-payment of overtime, non-impleme tation of the award of the Tribunal and mal-treatment of workers by so officers as Jitmull Babu and others. The learned Labour Commissio considered if any of the 15 workers including these 9 persons committed a of the following offences:—

(i) inciting others to join an illegal strike and participating in illegal strike on 4th February 1952, and

(ii) riotous and disorderly conduct.

The learned Labour Commissioner decided that both the charges we proved against all the 9 persons in question and he therefore, recommend for their dismissal.

The learned Advocate for the Union pressed that under the deed agreement Ext. G, the 9 workmen were under suspension and the scope enquiry would be as if it were under section 33 of the Industrial Disput Act and the onus was upon the Company to show that the dismissal of the workmen was justified. The agreement Ext. G shows that the Company w dismiss those workers who were recommended for dismissal by the learn Labour Commissioner and the case of the dismissed workers would reported to Government for reference to a Tribunal and pending t nal's award those workers will remain under suspension. The order erence shows that the industrial dispute referred to this Tribunal is in ction with the dismissal of the 9 workers mentioned in the schedule order of reference. Therefore, the 9 workers in question were ised by the Company and the industrial dispute consequent on their ssal has been sent to the Tribunal. The scope of enquiry for adjudica- s under section 15 of the Act and the onus is upon the party who to have the dismissal negatived, or in other words, upon the Unions. s further argued by the learned Advocate for the Union that in accord- with the decision of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal in the b National Bank, Ltd. case (1953 L.A.C., page 1), the condonation illegal strike by an employer is a waiver of his right to dismiss rs participating in such a strike and therefore the 9 dismissed rs should be reinstated. The case of the Company for the dismissal of 9 workers is fully supported by the following dictum of the Hon'ble late Tribunal enunciated in the case in question:—

> A strike, legal or illegal, does not automatically put an end to that relation, but it cannot now be disputed that it affects some of the rights and obligations flowing from that relationship. An illegal strike absolves the liability of the employer to pay wages during the period of absence of the striking workmen [Mahaluxmi Cotton Mills vs. Its workmen (1952 L.A.C., p. 370)] but the question before us is whether his absence entitles the employer to put an end to his service. It does not, when the strike is not illegal, whether justifiable or not [Smith Stanistreet & Co. vs. Its workmen (Cal. Appeal 37 of 1951 decided on the 22nd August 1951)]. But the converse proposition does not necessarily follow when the strike is illegal. A strike may be illegal, on account of contravention of section 22 or 23 of the Act, though it may be perfectly justified or a strike though illegal by reason of those provisions may be the result of provocation on the part of the employer or such a strike may last for a very short time. Modern concepts of social justice would be outraged if in such cases the employer could dismiss a workman for his mere absence due to his participation in such a strike. Such concepts also require that a workman should be protected from capricious or vindictive action on the part of the employer, whatever be the nature of his lapse or whatever be the cause of such lapse. Moreover, having regard to conditions of the labouring class and of labour relation as is generally prevalent in India now, it would not in our opinion be conducive to industrial peace, if an employer is given a right, and a fortiori an unfettered right, to dismiss a workman for his absence due to his mere participation in such a strike as is contended for by Mr. Sanyal on behalf of the Bank. If, however, the particular workman who joined the strike is guilty of violent acts or of subversive activities, such as destruction or attempted destruction of employer's property, intimidation of or coercion on loyal employees, etc., the position would be different, but in such cases, the workmen should be individually dealt with and the particular workman should be apprised of the precise charge against him and should be given a chance to have his say in the matter before he can be dismissed." (L.A.C., page 16.)

he present case the charges against the 9 workmen are inciting the l strike by intimidation of and coercion on loyal employees and also us and disorderly behaviour and conduct subversive of discipline. e workmen have not been charged for mere participation in an illegal strike. It may be mentioned here that it is admitted that the strike o February 1952 was illegal as it was in violation of section 23 of the I trial Disputes Act. The award of an Omnibus Tribunal dealing wit Provident Fund Rules in which the Bengal Jute Mill Co., Ltd., and workmen were parties was published on 3rd January 1952 and the stri 4th February 1952 occurred before the expiry of two months from the of the publication of the award and was, therefore, in contraventio section 23(b) of the Act. The plea of the workmen that no charge could be given to them although that was in pursuance of the agree Ext. G for the reason that the parties agreed that there should victimisation is unsubstantial. The agreement of no victimisation means that no workman should be punished for his trade union acti for the mere reason of his participation of this illegal strike. The le Advocate for the Company also agreed that mere participation in the il strike was excused by the agreement and that these 9 workers were pro ed against as they were guilty of violent acts and of subversive activiti which event, according to the decision of the Hon'ble Appellate Tri in the Punjab National Bank Case, the workmen should be dismissed a proper enquiry.

It is now to be considered if the evidence on record justifie conclusion that the charges under section 14(c)(viii) and (xi) of the S ing Orders have been proved as against the 9 workmen. The cause o strike as set out by the Mazdoor Union is that the Company indulge some corrupt practices which exhausted the patience of the workmen on the top of that on 29th January 1952 Annapurna, wife of Fakir, assaulted by Gurumurthy while she was sleeping with her husband in room and the Company did not pay any heed to the requests of the w men to dismiss Gurumurthy and on the contrary supported him. It is Mazdoor Union's case that for the lastmentioned conduct of the Compa officials the workers were so provoked that they all spontaneously laun a stay-in-strike on the morning of 4th February 1952 which continued 11th February 1952. It appears from the evidence of D. W. 1 Jot before the Labour Commissioner that the practice of making the labour overtime, i.e., half an hour before the starting of the work and for hal hour after the close of the work has since been stopped and the Company not have this sort of overtime work at the time of the strike. The lea President of the Mazdoor Union stated before me that the practice of Company for not making the workers permanent is also gradually imp ing. The allegation of assault on operatives by the Overseers was stated to be one of the causes of the strike. It does not appear that case of assault has been properly proved. Suggestions were give C. W. 1 Jitmull Khijrwal and C. W. 2 Ram Kailas Singh, but t suggestions were denied. The plea that the dearness allowance as all by the Second Major Jute Textile Industry Tribunal was not impleme in proper time has been found to be unsubstantial as it appears that enhanced dearness allowance as directed in that award was allowed effect from an earlier date than the date of the operation of the aw Then remains the assault on Annapurna on 29th January 1952. evidence of P. W. 1 Entamma alias Yankti shows that on 29th January Gurumurthy went to the room of Annapurna at about 9 p.m., kicked the door, entered into the room of Annapurna and kicked at her abdo while she was carrying 4 months and injured her and she bec unconscious and bled profusely and the injury resulted in miscarri Gurumurthy also assaulted Fakirchand, husband of Annapurna, and th him into the drain. This Annapurna is not one of the 9 dismissed wor and of the same name involved in this case. Annapurna was taken Shibpur police-station. There were 8 pieces of gold lockets (Kasloo) Annapurna's person and Gurumurti snatched at these, two of them d outside the hut of Annapurna and 6 were missing. The witness went he room of Annapurna hearing her cries and accompanied her to the a. On the 30th January 1952, 15 men and women including the ersons involved in this case went to the Manager and prayed for an ury over the incident of Annapurna on the previous night and punish- t of Gurumurti. The Manager told them that they would be discharg- nstead of Gurumurti. Gurumurthy always behaved badly with these en and women and asked them to leave the Union and join Hanumantha s Union. In cross-examination she says that there was a criminal case Gurumurti and Annapurna in which she deposed. Annapurna, her band Fakir and others deposed for the prosecution. Gurumurti was itted. The judgment of the learned Magistrate in this case is Ext. C. judgment shows that the G. D. Entry No. 1913, dated 29th January , lodged at 10-25 p.m., i.e., about 1½ hours after the incident was made B in that case. This initial statement in the general diary is the iest statement of Annapurna over the incident which happened at m. on 29th January 1952 regarding the assault on her. According to judgment the statement in the diary Ext. B showed the following facts. complainant and her husband went to the police-station together. The dent commenced at 8 p.m. There was a quarrel between the accused's and the complainant. At about 9-30 p.m. the accused's wife came n, called the complainant out of her house. The complainant having ed out of her house, saw the accused and his wife. The accused was in unken state. The quarrel again ensued between the complainant and husband on the one hand and the accused and his wife on the other. n words they came to blows. As a result both parties sustained injuries heir persons. During the scuffle, six items of gold beads were lost. Magistrate remarked that the statements in the diary were in direct d substantial conflict with those made anywhere else. It therefore appears at the statement in the G. D. Entry made 1½ hours after the incident on th January 1952 clearly shows that there was assault on Annapurna by urumurti as a result of quarrel between Gurumurti and his wife on the e hand and Annapurna and her husband on the other. Both the parties me to blows in which it appears that Annapurna suffered a greater injury an others. I do not believe the statement of P. W. 1 that the 15 men d women including the 9 persons involved in this case approached the anager and asked him to make an enquiry into the quarrel that happened the basti in Annapurna's quarters outside the Mill precincts and asked e Manager to dismiss Gurumurti on this ground. The Manager could t dismiss Gurumurti for a private quarrel with Annapurna or her sband outside the Mill compound and beyond working hours, inasmuch this conduct would not be hit by the Standing Orders of the Company. lo not also believe that the Manager stated in reply to the prayer of these men and women that they will be dismissed instead of Gurumurti. The dence of P. W. 1 before this Tribunal clearly shows tha' the assault on napurna by Gurumurti was also considered by the Union leaders amongst workers as an additional lapse on the part of the Company for which the ike was launched on 4th February 1952. The written statement of the zdoor Union shows that the assault upon Annapurna on 29th January 2 loomed so largely upon the imagination of the workers that they forgot other grievances and insisted on the arrest of Gurumurti and his mediate dismissal, and in order to draw the attention of the Government l the public on the matter the workers held big demonstrations in which per cent. of the workers took part everyday. It is further stated that Magistrate, the Superintendent of Police, the Labour Commissioner, Hon'ble Labour and the Chief Ministers were approached for speedy ion in the matter but that all fell on deaf ears. In view of the entry in general diary on 29th January 1952 at 10-30 p.m. as discussed above I not consider that the assault on Annapurna by Gurumurti was anything but the result of a private quarrel which could not be vindicated excep a Court of Law. The Company had nothing to do in the matter. I do consider that launching of a strike for this reason is in any way justi The evidence of Jotaram D. W. 1 in Ext. 1 shows that the workers ha meeting over assault on Annapurna, and that in that meeting it was dec that unless there was redress of all grievances over this assault the wor would strike. It, therefore, appears that the assault on Annapurna Gurumurti was unjustifiably magnified as a grievance against the Comp and made a major cause of the strike on 4th February 1952. The evid of the 16 D. Ws. in Ext. 1 shows almost the same statement that they w on strike along with the 15 workers spontaneously for redress of t grievances and zulum by the Company. The evidence of D. W. 12 Ba of the Sack-sewing Department however shows that the 4 female wor being the same as the female workers involved in the present case, Santama, Saiyema, Annapurna and Yankti, came and asked the wit with folded hands to stop work. D. W. 13 Jadu of the Beaming Dep ment states that Annapurna and Santama asked the workers to stop w There is, therefore, clear evidence on the part of two of the D. Ws. show that the 4 women workers involved in this case namely, Santa Sayema, Annapurna and Yankti went from department to department a urged the workmen to go on strike and in fact, the workmen stopped w and the strike started. The evidence of the Company's witness No. 1 Jutm Khijrwal, Batching and Preparing Overseer, shows that on 4th Febru 1952 when the Mill was running Chintamoni, Head Sardar of the Prepari Department, Krishna, Shifter Sardar, Banomali, Drawing Sardar, Sayen Roving Feeder, Annapurna, Roving and Drawing Feeder, Appal Nursh Spinning Sardar, along with 10 or 12 others of the Spinning Departm began to shut down the machines of their own and machines of others. T occurred at about 7-15 p.m. They were shouting and asking others to st Some of them hit with bobbins other people who did not listen to the He reported the matter to the Manager. He denied the suggestion that assaulted Santama and Sayema. Witness No. 2 Ram Kailas, Spinni Overseer, states that at 6-45 p.m. he did not find Appal Nurshia, Seco Sardar, Kunja, Spinner and some others at their machines. He then fou these workers along with Chintamoni, Krishna, Roving Shifter Sard Yankti, Santama, Annapurna, most of whom had bobbins in hand wh they came to the Spinning Department and threatened the workers the and asked them to close their machines. Some of the above work switched off the machines and others threw bobbins at various directio The Spinning Department was thus brought to a close. They then we to the Winding Department and had that department also closed by t same tactics. This witness says that some were hit as a result of throwi bobbins. The witness Tulsiram is a Weaving Overseer. The Weavi Department was first closed at about 8 a.m. and some workers of t Preparing and Spinning Department came to the Weaving Departments stopping. At first the Weaving Department did not agree to close and t workers who came went away. At 8-30 a.m. some number of workers aga came, shouted and threw bobbins at the workers who were still workin The female workers forcibly switched off machines. The weavers as result stopped work. The witness says that some of the female workers w came requested with folded hands to stop work and Santama and Saye (identified) made such requests. C. W. 4 Rowson Singh, Weight Cooli says that Santama and Sayema shut down their own machines and along wit Chintamoni, Banomali, Krishna and others began to shout for closing do all other machines. The male workers threw bobbins at other workers a the women carried broomsticks. Witness No. 6 Narsinghloo is t Spinning Sardar. He says that Entamma alias Yankti, Santama, Ann purna, Sayema, Chintamoni, Krishna, Narsinghloo and Banomali ca with bobbins in hand and shut the machines and asked others to shut th machines. He also says that Appal Nurshia, Kunja and others of the spinning Department also joined the above workers and shut their machines. Witness No. 7 Lagan states that some female workers along with male workers came from the Spinning and Roving Departments and he saw Sayema, Santama, Annapurna, Yankti among the female workers and Sayema, Krishna, another Krishna, Banomali among them. (He identified these workers.) The women had broomsticks with them and they asked the workers to close down and offered to exchange their saris with their dhoties, as they behaved like women. C. W. 8 Appana, Spinner, says that some workers of the Roving and Preparing Departments including Yankti, Annapurna, Sayema, Shanta, Chintamoni, both Krishnas, Narayana, Banamali, Kali, Kunja, Chitti, Kendu, Appal Nurshia and others raised shouts in the Preparing Department and shut their own machines first and then came to the Spinning Department with bobbins in hand and Yankti and Sayema had broomsticks in their hands, and they asked the Spinners to shut down their machines and Yankti and Sayema raised their broomsticks to assault the witness and one of them switched off the machines. They then went away shouting to the Beaming Department and after they left the spinners again restarted the machines and they again had to shut the machines. He is a member of the Union. The only suggestion put to him was that he and his wife frequently visited Kanai Babu in his house. The suggestion was denied. Company's witness No. 9 Rammurti is a Coolie sardar. He works in the Batching and Preparing Departments. He is a member of the Works Committee. He says that on 4th February 1952 at 9-30 a.m. Sayema, Annapurna, Shanta and Yankti (identified) closed their work and asked them all to close work. They had broomsticks with them. Then two Krishnas, Banomali, Narayana also came and after closing the Batching and Preparing Departments they came to the Spinning Department. From the Spinning Department, Chittia, Appal Nurshia, Narayana, Kunja, Endu, Kali joined and closed Spinning Department. They then went to Copwinding Department. He (the witness) closed the work when he was asked to stop for fear of assault. The only suggestion was given to him was that he was called by the 15 charge-sheeted workers as Dalal, i.e., a Company's agent. It will appear from the evidence of the Company's witness in Ext. 1 that the 4 women workers Santama, Sayema, Annapurna and Yankti were the foremost leaders in the matter of closing their own work and intimidating other workers to close work and they were helped in this act by Chintamoni who is the Head Sirdar of the Preparing Department, Krishna No. 1 (2.237) who is a Shifter Sardar, Banomali who is a Drawing Sardar, Appal Nurshia, a Spinning Sardar, and Kunja who was a Spinner. Out of 5 male workers Chintamoni was a Head Sardar and Krishna, Appal Nurshia and Banomali also were Sardars. The evidence of the Company's witnesses shows that these 9 workmen along with others first closed the Batching and the Preparing Departments. In view of the fact that Chintamoni was the Head Sardar of the Preparing Department and he was in the Company of two Shifter Sardars, a Drawing Sardar and was assisted by the four women workers who worked in the Batching and Preparing Departments, the closure of the Batching and Preparing Departments was not at all a difficult affair. These workmen then went to the Spinning Department and were joined by Appal Nurshia, Second Sardar of Spinning Department, Kunja, Spinner and a number of other Spinners, and Shifters and brought about the closure of the department and gradually other departments also. The letter Ext. F written by Shri Hanumantha Rao, Vice-President of the B. P. N. T. U. C., to the Manager, Bengal Jute Mills, complains that 24 workers including these 9 collected themselves on 4th February 1952 in the Preparing Department and intimidated the workers to stage a strike and most of the workers refused to strike, and they started assaulting loyal workers with empty bobbins and the workers yielded to violence in the Preparing Department. The miscreants then entered into the Spinning Department and used force there also. Thus the involuntary strike ensued. The application requests the Management to keep under suspension these 24 workers and have their conduct scrutinised by the Labour Directorate in the interest of peace of the vast majority of the rest of the workers of the Mill. This application, dated 4th February 1952, also shows that there was assault on loyal workers on the date on which the strike commenced. This other Union, being the Congress Union, complained of intimidating tactics by 24 workmen including the 9 workmen involved in this case in bringing about a total closure of the Mill. P. W. 1 Yankti states in her examination-in-chief that all the 15 leaders including the 9 persons involved in this case went from department to department to know why the workers had caused the strike and they learnt that Gurumurthi had appeared on that date and they were much agitated over his presence in the factory, and they would resume work if Gurumurthi was removed. In cross-examination she says that on the 4th at about 7 a.m. she struck work as others also struck work and she sat down at her place of work for 8 days day and night. She did not go to other departments but stayed there peacefully for all these 8 days.

From what has been discussed above it is clear that the four female workers Santama, Sayema, Annapurna and Yankti formed the vanguard of other male workers who moved from department to department shouting for closure of work and throwing bobbins indiscriminately to threaten the workers and the female workers also made requests to the male workers with folded hands at times to close work. The charges of incitement of an illegal strike through intimidation and of riotous and disorderly behaviour during working hours have been fully proved against all the 9 workmen in question. The learned President of the Mazdoor Union pointed out that both Santama and Annapurna were pregnant when the occurrence took place and it was not possible for them to behave as alleged by the Company. The evidence of D. W. 12 Basdeo of Sack-sewing Department and D. W. 13 Jadu of Beaming Department is a complete answer to this plea.

Under the Standing Orders of the Company an offence under section 14(c) (viii) and (xi) which these workers committed on 4th February 1952 entails dismissal. I shall refer to the dictum of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal in the Punjab National Bank Case quoted above which authorises dismissal of these 9 workmen. The observation of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal in Appeal Case No. Cal-393 of 1951 between the Bathgate Employees' Union vs. Messrs. Bathgate & Co., Ltd., Calcutta published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 12th March 1953 made in some what similar circumstances may also be considered—

> "We have examined the evidence in detail and in our opinion, the evidence is not sufficient to establish that those 12 workmen were guilty of subversive acts. But the evidence establishes that they, by threats of violence, coerced the workmen to participate in the strike on the 6th of October and although there is no evidence of intimidation, they urged the workmen to adopt go-slow policy and in fact, in one Department, namely, Castor Oil Department, the workmen adopted go-slow-tactics. In our opinion, a behest by some workmen to others to adopt go-slow policy would be an act of serious misconduct which would merit dismissal, even if there was no intimidation or coercion. Leaving out, therefore, the charge of coercing the officers, the evidence substantially establishes the allegations contained in the letters of dismissal. We accordingly hold that the Company was justified in dismissing those workmen. The result is that this appeal is dismissed but without costs."

On a consideration of the facts and circumstances it appears that the ler of dismissal of the 9 employees as passed by the Company, in accordce with the recommendation of the learned Labour Commissioner of the overnment of West Bengal, as a result of an enquiry made by him, inds all the 4 tests as laid down by their Lordships of the Hon'ble ppellate Tribunal in the case of Buckingham and Carnatic Co., Ltd., ported in 1952 L. A. C. 490 at page 498. I find that there is no want bona fides. There was no victimisation or unfair labour practice or olation of the principles of natural justice or any basic error of facts or y perverse findings on the materials. The order of dismissal as made ppears to me to be justified by the circumstances of the case and the idence on record.

From what has been discussed above it is clear that the dismissal of the workmen mentioned in Issue No. 1 as made by the Company under ction 14(c) (viii) and (xi) of the Standing Orders was justified. They e not, therefore, entitled to reinstatement or to any compensation. These sues are accordingly answered and it is awarded accordingly.

COTTAGE AND SMALL-SCALE INDUSTRIES DEPARTMENT

RESOLUTION No. 76-Cot./9C-2/52.

Calcutta, the 9th April 1953.

ne Government of West Bengal are keenly e to the importance of cottage and small-scale ustries in the economy of the State and the ne they offer for the development of village and operative enterprise and specially for the re-ilitation of displaced persons. In accordance h the recommendations of the Planning Com-sion contained in the Draft Five-Year Plan, this ernment have been considering, for some time , how best State support could be given to the lucts of cottage and small-scale industries. ernment have also been examining the ques-of utilising such products in their own depart-nts offices. After a careful examination of the es involved, the following decisions have been en by this Government in regard to the policy e followed in purchasing and utilising the pro-ts of cottage and small-scale industries for te purposes:—

(a) As a general rule, in the matter of purchase of stores for meeting Government requirements, the products of cottage and small-scale industries of this State should be given preference over products of large-scale manufacturers. A price preference ranging from 5 to 15 per cent. should be given to the former.

(b) The above, price preference should, normally, be given only to offers made through a co-operative society, or through an agency approved by the Directorate of Industries, West Bengal.

(c) Where a particular cottage or small-scale industry has a definite advantage over large-scale industry or where it has already established itself as a supplier to Government on competitive terms, such preference should extend to orders being placed with such industry first, before any orders are placed with large-scale industry.

(d) Stores, which can be supplied by the institutions, training-cum-production centres, jails, refugee settlements, etc., of this Government, may be purchased in preference to products offered by the agencies referred to at (b) above provided these Government institutions, training-cum-production centres, etc., are in a position to supply goods of similar specifications and quality and at comparable prices. Such stores will also enjoy the price preference ranging from 5 to 15 per cent. allowed to similar cottage and small-scale industry products.

2. Government hope that all departments/offices will adjust their stores purchase policy in terms of this resolution. A record should be kept of the purchases made in pursuance of this resolution so that the position can be reviewed at periodic intervals.

3. A list of eligible cottage and small-scale industries' products showing the maximum percentage of price preference allowable to each, is enclosed.

ORDERED that a copy of the above resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and forwarded to all concerned for information and guidance.

Office of the Accountant-General, West Bengal

NOTIFICATION.

Subject:—Adjustment of exchange charges for remittance of money by means of Reserve Bank of India on the Government Drafts outside the State of West Bengal.

No. TM. 411.—16th March 1953.—A reference is invited to this office circular letter No. TM/792, dated the 4th February 1942, addressed to all Drawing and Disbursing Officers of the late Government of Bengal in which it was stated that exchange fees charged by the Reserve Bank of India on the Government Drafts, issued in reimbursement to States on account of payment of pensionary charges should be debited to the head of account "57—Miscellaneous—Miscellaneous—and Unforeseen charges—Other charges" all other exchange charges for extra-Provincial Transfers relating to other major heads being debited to the contingent grants of the departments concerned under those major heads.

2. The necessity of cash reimbursement to the States of those days having ceased to exist as a result of their integration with the Indian Republic, there would no further be any occasion for adjustment of exchange charges on this account under the aforesaid head (viz., "57—Miscellaneous, etc., etc."). All exchange fees charged on the Government Drafts requisitioned by the Government departments for transfer to other States should therefore be treated as contingent charges of the departments concerned and adjusted as such under the respective major head of account.

3. The Drawing Officer requisitioning a Government Draft for its transmission to other States should draw up a contingent bill for the amount of commission and present the same at the Treasury (along with usual application in the prescribed form). The contingent bills will be paid by the Treasury Officer by transfer credit to the head "Reserve Bank Remittances—Receipts". The Drawing Officers in Calcutta who are to send their applications for Government Drafts to the Reserve Bank of India direct, may pay the commission charges out of their permanent advance, the amount so spent being recouped in the usual course.

4. All Drawing and Disbursing Officers of the Government of West Bengal and all Treasury and Sub-treasury Officers in West Bengal are hereby requested to note the above instructions.

EFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SHRI G. PALIT, District Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

resent for the Union: Shri Sumati Majumdar, Pleader.

resent for the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

1. By Government order No. 1581Dis./D/8L-3(A)/52, dated the 4th June 952, the aforesaid dispute has been referred to me for adjudication under ections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947). The ifth Industrial Tribunal has been constituted under notification o. 3581Lab., dated the 9th June 1951.

2. The reference was received here on 6th June 1952. The Union led written statement on 16th July 1952. The Company filed written bjections on 13th August 1952. After several adjournments for compromise the case was finally taken up for hearing on 23rd March 1953. The rguments were heard and the award was reserved.

3. The issues contained in the schedule to the order of reference stand s follows:—

(1) Whether the employees of the Dunbar Cotton Mills who were in employ at the time the Mill had to suspend its operations temporarily on account of its inability to procure cotton at the controlled rates, and who were, therefore, put under involuntary unemployment are entitled to receive their wages for the Doljatra festival holiday which occurred during the period covered by the involuntary unemployment.

(2) Whether the management of the Dunbar Cotton Mills should be asked to replace the set of gratuity rules which they have introduced after the expiry of the last Omnibus Tribunal's award by the set of rules which the last Omnibus Tribunal had prescribed for the Mills and which the Dunbar Mills had followed during the period when the aforesaid award was in force and if not, the Tribunal will prescribe any other set of gratuity rules?

(3) Whether the workmen are entitled to enjoy five days' casual leave in a year as against two days' leave which is now admissible to them?

4. Issue No. 3.—It is admitted by both sides that the award of Shri S. N. Modak, I.C.S. (Retd.), the then Chairman of the Industrial Tribunal, granted five days' casual leave, and that an appeal is pending before the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal of India as being Appeal No. Cal.-64 of 1951. That appeal is still pending. So the matter which is mooted in this issue is sub judice. Both the parties agree to abide by the decision which will be passed by Their Lordships of the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal of India in this matter. So I dispose of this issue by saying that the parties will be bound by the aforesaid decision on consent, whenever the same comes to be passed. So, no further direction is called for on this issue.

Issue No. 1.—It is a common case of the parties that the workers of this Mill were placed under involuntary unemployment from the 9th February 1951 to the 9th April 1951. It is also admitted that the Doljatra Festival of the year fell within this period. It is the contention of the Union that as the Doljatra Festival holiday is included within the period of involuntary unemployment, they would get an extra holiday with pay over and above that. It is the contention of the Company that the Cotton Textile Award granted them six festival holidays but the Company was granting seven festival holidays in the year 1951. Because the Doljatra festival was comprised within the period for which the workmen were granted involuntary unemployment benefits, they are not entitled to any extra festival holiday with pay on account of this. Ext. A shows that the Company had, as a matter of fact, granted seven festival holidays in 1951 apart from the Doljatra holiday. So the Company, in this respect was even more generous than the Cotton Textile Award. Be that as it may, I find no substance in the contention that the workmen will get an extra holiday for the Doljatra festival because this holiday was comprised within the period of involuntary unemployment benefit. It is a matter of common knowledge that if one goes on leave with pay, and if paid holidays fall within this period, then the leave is not to that extent lengthened or enlarged, or that extra paid-holidays are given by way of compensation. If such a contention is allowed, the position will be simply absurd. So I turn down the contention of the Union in this respect, and find that the men are not entitled to any extra holiday on account of the Doljatra festival of 1951.

Issue No. 2.—The Company has tried to introduce certain rules for payment of gratuity, as per Ext. B, dated the 19th July 1951. It is stated therein that the gratuity money, as per award of the Cotton Textile Tribunal, will be payable on retirement after continuous service of not less than 30 years in the case of males, and 25 years in the case of females or on death, or on retirement before the completion of 30 years' continuous service by the males or 25 years' continuous service by the females by reason of superannuation on medical grounds. In support of this the mpany, in its written statement, has stated that it will build up thereby table labour force, and will also prevent frequent turnovers. It is also ssed that this benefit is given only in view of long service under the mpany, and so it cannot be given after the completion of 9 years' service, provided for in the Cotton Textile Award. The Union resists the above entions by arguing, firstly, that they did not raise this dispute, and ndly, on other general grounds.

Regarding the preliminary objection of the Union that the matter is an industrial dispute because it has not been raised by the Union, I am aid, I cannot accede to the said contention. Under the amended provi- ns of the Industrial Disputes Act, Government can refer either an actual pute or even an apprehended dispute, if it is so inclined to think. That ng the position, it is not necessarily that it rests always with the Union nitiate the dispute to make out an industrial dispute under the Act. As matter of fact, I find that an industrial dispute does actually exist in the sent case. The Company has introduced certain rules, as per Ext. B, ich the Union is strenuously contesting. So it is idle to say that no lustrial dispute exists on this point.

I am afraid that the parties have, to a certain extent, misconceived the tter. Both sides were labouring hard to impress upon the Tribunal that rules, as per Ext. B, relate to gratuity as such, i.e., I mean; as retiral nefit, on the conclusion of one's service. If we turn to the Cotton Textile ard, as per order No. 2956Lab., dated the 21st August 1948, on point 6, we find that the learned Judges did not sanction the scheme of com- lsory gratuity or pension in addition to Contributory Provident Fund. quote from the award:

> "This Tribunal does not consider it expedient, in view of the present financial condition of the individual mills, to institute immediately any scheme for compulsory gratuity or pension in addition to Contributory Provident Fund."

hat they awarded was only gratuity for the uncovered period anterior to roduction of the Provident Fund scheme, either by that award or erwise. They fixed the amount at the rate of half month's basic pay culated at the rate the workmen would be drawing on the date of that ard, for each year of service of the said uncovered period. This amount s to be made available to the workmen in full or in part on the same condi- ns and under the same circumstances as the employers' contribution for e Compulsory Contributory Provident Fund. It was further held by the ned Judges regarding the Contributory Provident Fund as follows:—

> "The full contribution of the employers shall be available to the workmen only on retirement, resignation or dismissal except on the ground of misconduct, after full nine years' service. A workmen, retrenched for no fault of his, or, in the event of death, his legal representatives shall also be entitled to the full contribution irrespective of the length of his service. In other cases, the employers will be entitled to make deductions from their contributions as laid down in rule 13 of the Model Rules."

se 13 of the Model Provident Fund Rules makes the full amount of the mployers' contributions available to the subscribers after nine years of rvice, and on a proportionately reduced scale according to the length of rvice as formulated therein.

Now, the point is that both parties argued before me as if the gratuity hat was claimed under the award was a retiral gratuity. As I have shown, t was not so in fact. Retiral gratuity scheme was not awarded by the otton Textile Tribunal. So, if the Company formulated any scheme for ratuity as a retiral benefit, subject to certain conditions, that would be an industrial dispute which would require specific adjudication. But here am concerned with another gratuity for the uncovered period anterior the Provident Fund, as per Ext. B. The point is, can the Company chang it or supersede it by rules contrary to what the Cotton Textile Awar granted, simply because the said award had expired in its operation? Th Company contends that it can, while the Union resists the claim. Th portion of the award I have referred to makes it abundantly clear that th award fixed a point of time when the amount of gratuity will be calculate i.e., at the rate the workmen would be drawing on the date of that awar So, it is a specifically ascertained amount which the learned Judges ha allowed under the award, very much on the lines of compensation or repar tion, because the workmen were denied the benefit of the Provident Fun during that period. So this is something different from what would be th position if the learned Judges would have formulated a gratuity scheme f all time to come. Now, simply because the award has become devoid effect by the efflux of time, this cannot be obliterated. So there is som substance in the contention urged by the learned lawyer of the Union th this gratuity benefit is more or less of the nature of vested interest, an that it cannot be taken away by the employer at its sweet will. He refe to the Constitution of India as presenting a bar. Even if I do not go far as that, I certainly agree with him that it is not up to the Compan to take away this benefit, already awarded. It has become a condition service to those workmen to whom this benefit was available under th Cotton Textile Award. They cannot be divested of that benefit constitutin a condition of their service.

Besides, if the matter is looked at broadly, I find that what the Cott Textile Award did grant was in pari materia with the provisions of th Model Provident Fund Rules. So, to grant gratuity in respect of th uncovered period, after nine years of continuous service, at the full ra is, after all, not inequitable. The Company's contention that the perio should be lengthened to minimise the turnover may be considered when th gratuity scheme for the future is formulated. But in respect of the gratui already ordered, there is no scope for extension of such principles to neg tive the effect of the award. Under the present law it is not open to an party to ignore an award simply after the expiry of the operative perio Notice must be given to terminate the award, and if that is resisted, th matter may be adjudicated upon. The Company might very much dislik the award or may like to put an end to it by making it uniform in all th mills, but that does not advance the matter further by an inch when involves injustice, if I may not say illegality. So I find that so far as th gratuity for the uncovered period, anterior to the introduction of the Prov dent Fund, as per Cotton Textile Award, is concerned, it cannot be take as negatived by the rules of the Company, as per Ext. B.

In the above view of the matter, the Tribunal is not called upon prescribe any other set of gratuity rules in the present case because, alt all, it is a limited issue which has been sent down for adjudication Th issue is, accordingly, found in favour of the workmen as above. I awar accordingly.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Burn & Co., Ltd. (Refractory and Ceramic Works), Raniganj, Burdwan, and their employees as represented by the Refractory and Ceramic Workers' Union, P.O. Raniganj, Burdwan.

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SHRI S. K. NIYOGI, District Judge, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Union: None.

Present for the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate of Messrs. Orr, Dignam & Co., Solicitors.

The industrial dispute as above mentioned was referred to me under he Government of West Bengal, Labour Department order No. 2832-Dis./)/10L-15(2)/52, dated 22nd October 1952, for adjudication regarding the matters specified in the schedule below:—

Schedule.

1. Whether the discharge of Shri Shyam Singh, the Baylis Engine)river, was justified and inevitable and whether the Company could employ im usefully and/or profitably in any of their works? If the discharge vas inevitable and justified whether he should get any additional compensation for termination of services for no fault on his part.

Shri Shyam Singh was employed as a Baylis Engiee Driver for the alkoti Works of the Company at Raniganj and was confirmed in his job n 3rd July 1950. The Company has since arranged to purchase electric ower from the Associated Power Company to run the Works at Raniganj vith the result that its own power plants are being shut down in stages o be completed in three or four years. In the process of this change over he Baylis Engine at Lalkoti was put out of commission with effect from 8th May 1952 so that the Baylis Engine operator Shyam Singh and four other men became surplus to the Company's requirements. The Company could however absorb the other four men in similar other jobs, but no suitable alternative job according to the type of work and capabilities o Shri Shyam Singh was available for him. His retrenchment being thu inevitable the Company gave him a notice on 6th August 1952 telling him that his services would terminate on and from 8th August 1952 and intimate the grounds of his discharge to the Union. On this notice being served th Engineering staff at Lalkoti went on strike from the morning of the 8t August 1952. The matter was at first taken up with the Union and the reported to the Labour Commissioner on the same day, when a joint con ference was held but with no settlement. After prolonged discussions i was however settled on the following day that Shri Shyam Singh woul be allowed to remain in service for the time being and the question regard ing the justification or otherwise of his discharge would be placed befor the Labour Directorate for decision. Shri Shyam was informed accordingl and the strike was called off. The Company put him on H. P. and S. P leave with effect from 8th August 1952. As the decision of the Labou Directorate was not known by the time his leave was due to expire, th Company allowed him to join temporarily the Power House of No. Works on 2nd October 1952 as a spare hand. These are briefly the fact which led up to the dispute referred for adjudication.

On receipt of the order of reference notices were issued as usual fixin 13th November 1952 for appearance of parties and for submission of writte statement by the Union. The Company entered appearance but the Unio was absent. A copy of the Union's letter, dated 4th November 1952, to th Joint Secretary, Labour Department, was however forwarded to the Tribuna It said that there was no dispute regarding Shri Shyam Singh who was work ing in Messrs. Burn & Co., Ltd., at their Raniganj Works for the time being The Company was asked to report on the subject of the letter of which copy was given to it. The Company reported on 22nd November 19 that the dispute had not been amicably settled, and it was still in existen and required adjudication. The Company accordingly asked the Tribuna to proceed with the case and to direct the Union to submit its statemen failing which to hear the case ex parte. A copy of this petition was sen to the Union with a request to file its statement by 10th December 195 failing which the case might be heard in its absence. The Union pleaded that it had no dispute with Messrs. Burn & Co., Ltd., Raniganj regarding Shri Shyam Singh. Its letter, dated 6th December 19 , was in the following terms. "We would reiterate that there exists no dispu between Messrs. Burn & Co., Ltd. Raniganj, and its workmen, represented by this Union (Refractory and Ceramic Workers' Union Regd No 1 . Re: Shyam Singh.

Shri Shyam Singh was served with a notice by Messrs. Burn & Co., Ltd Raniganj, on 6th August 1952 to the effect that his services would be dis pensed with with effect from 8th August 1952 but consequent (? subsequently) in supersession of this notice he was granted his H. P. leave from 8th August 1952 to 25th August 1952, which was later extende to 25th September 1952 by W. P. leave. On expiry of this leave he di resumed his duty and was transferred to work as a Switch Board Attendan in Company's No. 2 Works, Raniganj, on 3rd October 1952. Since th date, i.e., 3rd October 1952, Shri Shyam Singh has been working the regularly.

Thereafter, the Company submitted a statement of his case in writing, i contention being that the dispute still exists and it should be adjudicate upon, keeping in view the facts and circumstances set out above. Th Union was supplied a copy of the Company's statement and asked to appe the date which was fixed for hearing of the matter. The Union, as could well anticipated, did not turn up. The Company's advocate was present nd he was heard on 10th March 1953. He maintained that the dispute exists before, and there should be an adjudication on merits.

I am to decide in the first place whether there is still an existing dispute hich requires adjudication. There must be at least two sides to an existing spute. The disputant, i.e., the Union, contends that there is no spute existing at the present moment, and it refrains from articipating in the proceedings before the Tribunal deliberately on that ositive representation. It is this Union which had raised the dispute on e Company having terminated the services of Shri Shyam Singh with ffect from 8th August 1952. Admittedly, there was subsequently a ettlement that Shri Shyam Singh would be retained in the Company's ervice for the time being so long as the question of propriety of his discharge as not finally determined. The settlement was acted upon and given ffect to by allowing him at first to remain on special leave and then by roviding him with an alternative job in the Company's No. 2 Works, at anganj, as a spare hand. The workman in question and the Union were pparently satisfied. It appears that they did not feel interested in the ecision on the question of propriety of his discharge dated 8th August 1952, hich might appear to them to be more or less academical in view of their eceptance of the alternative job even though it may be temporary. As the atter stands, they do no longer press the issue whether the discharge of hri Shyam Singh with effect from 8th August 1952 was justified and nevitable as the Company contended, for adjudication by the Tribunal in erms of the reference. Nor do they lay claim to any additional compensaion for termination of services of Shri Shyma Singh for no fault of his, hether or not his previous discharge was inevitable and justified. So, he matters as specified in the order of reference do no longer require djudication by the Tribunal. In the circumstances, the only conclusion ossible is that there is at present no existing dispute which needs to be djudicated upon by the Tribunal. In the view I take, I am to make a "no dispute" award, and I make an award accordingly.

AWARD.

By order No. 1562Dis./D/10L-79/52, dated the 3rd June 1952, the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred the dispute mentioned above to me, constituted an Industrial Tribunal under section 7 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, for adjudication, under section 10 of the said Act, regarding the matters specified in the schedule to the Order which are noted below:—

SCHEDULE.

1. If non-employment of the following workers by the Management is justified and to what relief they are entitled for this:—

(1) Atul Chandra Dalui, (2) Chandi Charan Hazra, (3) Kachiram, (4) Kesto Maity, (5) Bholanath Dalui, (6) Gosto Maity, (7) Bhutnat Pramanick, (8) Balai Chanda, (9) Balai Santra, (10) Baburam Santra, (11) Panchkori Das, (12) Kishori Mondal, (13) Manmatha (14) Bibhuti Das, (15) Sufal Modak, (16) Sufal Das, (17) Satis Adhikari, (18) Madan Hazra, (19) Bistoo Karati, (20) Jatadhar (21) Jaladhar, (22) Bhimbadhar, (23) Jiban Krishna Mud (24) Bindas, (25) Ratan Hazra, (26) Naren Hazra, (27) Nabakumar, (28) Nirmal Das.

There had been several disputes between the Company and its workmen which were amicably settled in the past by separate agreements reached through conciliation, the last of which was dated 18th July 1951. The facts relevant to the present dispute are briefly these: On 3rd September 1951 the Engineering Mazdoor Sabha, hereinafter called the Sabha, made on the Company a demand for Puja bonus for the year 1950 and forwarded a copy of its letter to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah, for necessary action in case the Management did not settle the matter amicably. A dispute arose since the Company declined to accede to that demand. During the pendency of the dispute for conciliation before the Assistant Labour Commissioner and Conciliation Officer, Howrah, the Company retrenched six workers, two of whom, namely, Naba Kumar Santra and Naren Hazra, had been previously retrenched and reinstated on 9th July 1951 in pursuance of an agreement. The Sabha raised a further dispute regarding their retrenchment by its letter, dated 4th October 1951. After that the workers staged a strike on 6th November 1951 as a protest against an alleged refusal by the Management to provide full work to its workers, or in the alternative to give them long leave or to discharge them with gratuity if full work could not be given to the workers. A joint conference was arranged between the parties 16th November 1951 and some proposals for amicable settlement were ade by the Conciliation Officer. The Sabha accepted the proposed terms on at very day, but the Company's representative wanted time for final cision and took away draft copies of the proposal for consideration. The mpany did not, however, communicate its views to the Conciliation Officer r were the drafts returned. It appears that on 19th November 1951, the mpany issued a general notice asking the workers who had been absent om work to join work by 5th December 1951 on pain of being dismissed om service on 6th December 1951 if they failed to comply. Another notice as issued on 6th December 1951 dismissing, for absence without notice from h November 1951 to 3rd December 1951, 23 out of the 28 workers whose ses have been referred for adjudication. A third notice was issued on 15th ecember 1951, dismissing the remaining five workers with effect from the me day on the same ground of absence without notice from 6th November 51. All further attempts to bring about a settlement by the Conciliation ficer having failed, the dispute has been referred to the Tribunal for ljudication.

The case of the Sabha is that the Company had retrenched the six workers a false plea of shortage of work and provoked the stoppage of work by e workers by withholding full work to them and then taking advantage of e stoppage of work recruited fresh hands and started normal work through ntractor's men. It is said that the Company dismissed these workmen legally in pursuance of its policy of unfair labour practice, victimisation d harassment. The Sabha therefore prays for reinstatement of the workers ith full back wages.

The Company on the other hand states that six workers had been trenched for shortage of work. The remaining workers were given suffi- ient work, but two of them, namely, Chandi Hazra and Bistu Karati, did eir work negligently and destroyed some moulded pipes, so that by their m wilful negligence they earned less than what they could. It is alleged at a labour leader Shri Haripada Majumdar called at the foundry on 6th ovember 1951 and demanded the discharge of one labourer who according him was not earning enough under the Company. The Management aving asked for resignation being submitted by the worker in question, hri Majumdar became exasperated and asked a few workers to follow him, ith the result that some workers did actually leave the factory. The Com- any submits that the strike was illegal for want of previous notice. It, owever, waited for a month, but as the workers in question did not turn up spite of notice, it was within its rights to dismiss them under the standing rders. The strike being illegal, the workers, it is contended, are entitled no relief.

The Company has taken the stand that its action in dismissing the orkers on the ground of misconduct for having absented from work without ave or notice is based on the Standing Orders and is therefore justified. his is not in my opinion a tenable position. Automatic termination of ervice for absence without leave is not warranted by the Company's Stand- ng Orders. Absence without leave for more than ten days is certainly a isconduct for which dismissal is the punishment in suitable cases, but the tanding Orders do provide for the workman being put on charge-sheet and iven an opportunity to explain the charge and defend himself at the enquiry hich must be made before the final decision is taken. These provisions ave been wholly neglected. The workers concerned were given no charge- heet nor any opportunity to explain their conduct. There was no enquiry nd no opportunity was afforded for defending themselves against the harges for which they were punished. Although a general notice is said o have been given asking workers to resume work by 5th December 1951, there was no individual notice issued to the workers concerned to bring it home to the absentees that they were required to do so. No notice was given to the Union, either. The notice was hung up on the notice board to which these workers could have no access except through the gate which was closed for them. The two workers who have been examined by the Sabha state that they were not aware of any notice having been published on the notice board as they had no access to the place which is within the factory enclosure. Moreover, the notice was not intended to take the place of a charge-sheet which was required to be given, nor was it intended to provide any opportunity for explaining the reasons for absence. The conciliation proceedings which had been started for settlement of the dispute as to bonus on the representation of the Sabha, dated 29th September 1952 were still pending when the Company dismissed these workers. This will be evident from the draft proposals for settlement, dated 16th November 1951, which were admittedly received by the Proprietor, O.P.W. 1 and from the record of the proceedings in the Labour Directorate. It is therefore a clear case of violation of the principles of natural justice, and not a case of dismissal under the Standing Orders under which the Company professes to have acted. It is the recognised right of the employees to resort to strike to enforce their demands which come within the Industrial Disputes Act. The provision for termination of service for absence without leave in the Standing Orders cannot be applied to the case of absence due to strike which is not illegal, as such a provision cannot be allowed to operate as a bar to the employees' right to strike. It is not shown how the strike of 6th November 1951 was an illegal one. It is neither party's case that the present concern is a public utility concern. So, no previous notice of strike was required to be given under section 22 of the Industrial Disputes Act, to which reference has been made by the Company. Whether the strike was or was not a justifiable strike is not within the scope of this enquiry which is limited by the issue specified for adjudication. But it is certain that the strike was not an illegal one. There is no evidence that the workers concerned had resorted to violence in course of the strike or had excited other workmen participating in the strike to do so. The Company having professedly dismissed the workers on the plea that they had absented without notice for a period of one month, it is not open to it to contend that they had forfeited their services by participating in an illegal strike. So, the Company's action cannot be supported even on the alleged ground of absence without leave. Whatever might be the ostensible reason for their dismissal, the Company could not apparently look upon the workers' demands with good grace. On 3rd September 1951 the Sabha pressed for Puja Bonus. The Company intimated its refusal in writing on 4th October 1951. In the meantime it had discharged 6 workers on the ground of shortage of work, and on the same day (4th October 1951) the Sabha referred that matter to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah. Admittedly, two workers earned less than they normally could. A demand was made for discharge of at least one worker on that ground before the strike began. The Union contends that the demand was in respect of several workers and it was refused. During the pendency of the conciliation proceedings the Company asked for the Assistant Labour Commissioner's permission for dismissing the strikers en bloc from the date of the strike, which was in its opinion an illegal strike and it did not ultimately participate in the discussions for amicable settlement. It issued the general notice, which was infructuous because of the manner of its publication, and after the expiry of the period mentioned therein it dismissed the workers concerned in this dispute without further information. No notice announcing the date of re-opening of the factory after the strike was given. The notice, dated 19th November 1951, was apparently intended to break the strike which is not illegal. I am led to think for these reasons that the Company had decided to dismiss the ers for their participation in the strike on the allegation that it was illegal one, though the reason given in the notice was absence without e. The termination of the services was thus connected with a reason h was other than the reason pleaded. It is not open to an employer to inate the services of workers on the ground of their participation in a e which is not illegal in fact, by simply saying that it was an illegal e. I am therefore of opinion that non-employment of these workers was result of exercise of unfair labour practice on the part of the Company. I hold accordingly that non-employment of the 28 workers mentioned he Order of Reference is not justified. They will be entitled to statement in their respective jobs with back wages including dearness vance with effect from the date (6th December 1951) on which their ices were illegally determined. I make an award in these terms. This rd will come into operation within a month from the date of its being reeable.

A strike, which is not illegal, does not terminate the relationship of loyer and employee. The question whether the workers will be entitled ages for the period of strike or not which will depend upon the strike g a justified or unjustified one, is not answered in this adjudication as matter is not in issue in the present reference.

Order.

No. 16.—21st March 1953.—This is a long drawn out affair wh promises no ending. The factory is admittedly closed. The Company w into liquidation. The Receiver took over the assets and sold the same to auction-purchaser. The auction-purchaser denies any liability. I do think the claims in question can be pressed against him. No action can taken against the Receiver either. Even his order of appointment was furnished. The claims were sought to be pressed against the Directors the Company. That also yielded no results. So the dispute in quest has fizzled out by efflux of time. In the circumstances the Tribunal is able to grant any relief, because such relief must of necessity be m available against some tangible persons. So I dispose of the refere without any direction, as such direction is not possible in the circumstan Only Government and the Union be informed of this order.

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Mahabir Paper and Board Industries, Canal Road, P. O. Tollygunge, Calcutta, and their workmen as represented by Mahabir Paper and Board Industries Workers' Union, 8, Lakshmi Dutta Lane, Calcutta-3.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT :

SHRI G. PALIT, District Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Union: Sri Moni Chakravorty, Secretary of the Union.

Present for the Company : Sri T. K. Jagadish, Assistant Secretary of the Indian Board Mills Association.

1. By Government order No. 1909Dis./D/11L-160/52, dated the 17th July 1952, the aforesaid dispute has been referred to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal for adjudication under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947). The aforesaid Fifth Industrial Tribunal was constituted under notification No. 3581Lab., dated the 9th June 1951.

2. The reference was received here on 23rd July 1952. The Union filed written statement on 19th August 1952. The Company filed written objections on 9th September 1952. After several adjournments the case was taken up for hearing on 28th January 1953. It was continued from day-to-day till 2nd February 1953 when the evidence was closed. The arguments were heard on 20th February 1953, and continued till 23rd February 1953. The award was reserved.

3. The issues contained in the schedule to the Order of Reference stand as follows:—

(1) Abolition of contract system.

(2) Closure of shifts during rainy reason.

(3) Whether the services of 9 women workers as well as 11 male workers, as per attached list, should be maintained and whether any compensation should be granted. (corrected according to Government order No. 2430Dis./D/11L-160/52, dated the 29th August 1952.

4. Before I take up the issues for specific consideration, let me give a brief history of some facts which have led up to the present dispute. The Company is as old as 1942. The Union was formed some time on the 2nd November 1951. It is the case of the Union that the employer was very much high-handed, and started victimising the workers. The Company's attempt to introduce the contract system of labour was resisted by the Union. This led to a conciliation proceeding. Thereafter a charter of demands was submitted on 28th February 1952. There was an agreement reached in the conciliation proceeding on 5th March 1952. But on 17th March 1952 the Company discharged nine female workers mentioned in the list, attached to the Government Order of Reference. So the Union moved the Labour Directorate again. Thereafter the Company on 23rd June 1952, discharged 11 male workers, as per list of the Government Order of Reference, when the conciliation proceedings were in progress. The conciliation proceedings did not yield any result, and so the matter has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication.

The Company denies the above allegations of victimisation or unfair labour practice. According to the Company a contractor was appointed in the Finishing Department on 24th January 1949. Subsequently, the Machine Department was also placed under the same contractor on 18th December 1950. So the departments that were left with the Company were only the Picking and the Drying Sections. The Company contends further that the abolition of the contract system is not an industrial dispute. The closure of shifts during the rainy reason is inevitable. Regarding the retrenched workers, the employer contends that the 11 male workers, as per list of the Order of Reference, were contractor's men. So there can be no industrial dispute between the present Company and those workers. Regarding the 9 female workers the Company contends that Rama, Profulla, Kissori, Manoda, Lalita and Probhasini were retrenched on 22nd May 1952 consequent on the closure of one shift. Regarding Tulsi and Aloka, the Company could not trace them. Regarding Basana the Company contends that she is still in the employ of the Company. The Company emphatically denies that these women workers were retrenched for their Union activities. They are said to have been retrenched for genuine trade reasons. The Company has denied the other allegations of the Union, which will be referred to if relevant, in course of discussions on the issues.

Issue No. 1—Abolition of contract system.

The stand taken up by the Union regarding this issue is, firstly, that the Union never raised any such contention, and, secondly, that the alleged contract system is, after all, imaginary. The Company wanted to introduce the contract system of payment some time in January 1952, but it was resisted by the workers, and the Assistant Labour Commissioner intervened. She allowed the register of the contractors for payment to be continued without prejudice to the contesting parties. The Company contends that Bankim Majumdar and Santosh Majumdar took contract of the Machine and the Finishing Department under the Company, and they were paid on production basis. The Finishing Department was first placed under the said contractors' firm on 24th January 1949, and the Machine Department was placed under them on 18th December 1950, on the same basis. On the evidence I am satisfied that this story of the appointment of the contractors was not a myth, as suggested by the Union was a fact which did exist in the said concern. Exhibit B, dated 18th January 1949, shows the proposal of contract in respect of the Finishing Section. Exhibit B1 shows the acceptance of the proposal. Exhibit B2 refers to the proposal of contract in respect of the Machine Department, and Ext. B3 shows the acceptance by the Company. Exhibits C and C1 show payments made to these contractors. From Exts. B and B1 I find that the Contractors had been aking payments to the employees in the Machine and the Finishing Depart-ents. The Union wanted to make a capital of the fact that Santosh Majum-r and Bankim Majumdar used to take payments from the Company as nployees even after the aforesaid contracts. But I do not find this to be very uch significant. Santosh Majumdar and Bankim Majumdar were admittedly e employees of the Company in those two departments. So, even if they had ken payments for their work under the contract system, that does not negative e fact of contract altogether. They were merely charging for their labour ng with other employees. Next, the Union argues that why should the mpany grant any contract to these two persons when they had no technical alification. Of course, Santosh Majumdar and Bankim Majumdar did not aim any technical degree or diploma in this branch of work. But they had ne the less practical experience in this line of work prior to their undertaking e contract in question. So, they could carry on the work quite alright. The nployers in the present case could not do the work themselves. So, they had depend more or less upon those men. So, there is nothing unusual in the nployers choosing to entrust the works in the hands of the contractors, so far certain sections are concerned so that they may be spared of the troubles of pervision of those departments. The contractors took the wages on produc-n basis. After all, it is a management function, and the management knows st how to do it properly. The Tribunal cannot criticise it. I am, however, tisfied from the books of accounts covering over this long period that Santosh lajumdar and Bankim Majumdar held on contract basis the charge of the lachine and the Finishing Departments. The Union contended that the Assist-nt Labour Commissioner intervened some time in January 1952, when the orkers refused to have payments from the contractors in the contractors' book. y that the Union wants to argue that it was in January 1952 that the Company anted to introduce this contract system. But the Union's stand is directly ntradicted in this respect by the voluminous documentary evidences produced behalf of the Company. The workers might have suddenly taken into their ead in January 1952 to refuse payment from the contractors, and agitated over is. But that does not show that the contract system was for the first time troduced at that time. The workers had acquiesced in the contract system f work since 1949. Exhibit Z series show the workers' acquiescence in the ntract system. Exhibits Z to Z11 show the leave applications addressed to e contractors. Exhibits Z12 to Z45 show the advance payments to different orkers under the contractors, as per debit vouchers. Exhibits Z46 to Z56 ow the resignation letters sent to the contractors by the workers. So, I do ot see how, after this, it is open to the Union to contend that the contract stem was imaginary, and that it was sought to be thrust upon the workers by e employers only in January 1952. The Company's version in this respect perfectly consistent. The Union next contends that the copy of the agree-ent, Ext. W6, dated 5th March 1952, would go to show that even in March 952 the Union was dealing directly with the employers. The contractors were o party to the agreement. But this contention does not stand the scrutiny. t is also the Company's case that some of the employees were directly under he Company. They belonged to the Picking and the Drying Sections. But here were others of the Machine and the Finishing Departments who were laced under the contractors. So the employer must be a necessary party to he agreement, but the contractors should also be a necessary party. But Ext. X shows the authority letter given to the Company by the contractors. That explains why the contractors were not specifically present during the greement. The contractors agreed to abide by the terms entered into by the employers with the Union. Exhibit X (1), dated 1st October 1952, Ext. W(3), dated 16th July 1952, Ext. W(2), dated 5th July 1952, and Ext. W, dated 21st June 1952, clearly show that the Company had direct dealings with the contractors in respect of the concern. These documents are of different dates. So it is abundantly clear that the contract system, as alleged by the company, did really exist. The specific mention of the Machine and the Finishing Departments in the agreement, dated 5th March 1952 (Ext. W6), is significant to show that the employees under the contractors were also bound by the terms of the agreement. If the contract system was imaginary, there would be no point in mentioning those departments specifically. So, it is quite clear that the contract system was in vogue during this period. Besides, the issue as framed indicates that the contract system was a reality. If the contract system was not a fact, the question of its abolition, as per this issue, would never arise.

Next, I come to the question of its abolition. The Union contends that it never raised the issue. So, evidently the Union is unconcerned whether the contract system goes or remains. Next, why should it go? It could not be shown that under the contract system the labour was being exploited even as late as 5th March 1952. There was the solemn agreement between the Union and the employers revising the wages and granting other amenities in answer to the charter of demands. The contractors signified their willingness in writing to abide by the said agreement. That being the position, there is no point in pressing for the abolition of this system of contract work. The contract work per se is not to be condemned. Had it been so, the Major Engineering Tribunal would not have permitted its continuance. So it has certain advantages. It is, of course, desirable that the contract system of work should be reduced to the barest minimum, so that the employees may be placed directly under the Company. But it is to be gradually abolished. So in the present case I am not prepared to give any direction straightway for the abolition of the contract system in this company. It was a contention of the Union in this connection that the contract system, if at all, came to be introduced some time in January, 1949, and that was not done with the consent of the employees given specifically. So it must go out. To that the Company replied that Santosh Majumdar and Bankim Majumdar placed the proposal before the Company, with some of the workers with them. Of course, I must confess that the evidence in this respect is hardly definite. But that does not matter If the contract system had been tolerated from 1949 up to 1952, it was acquiesced in by the workers. Even now the Union does not want to raise any contention over this. In the charter of demands, no grievance was made in respect of this contract system. Neither was there any mention of it in the agreement, dated 5th March 1952 (Ext. W6). So the stand taken up by the Union against the contract system cannot be sustained. I answer this issue accordingly in favour of the Company by giving no direction.

Issue No. 2.—Closure of Shifts during rainy seasons.

The Company contends that it has no drying machine to dry up the boards during the rainy season in the absence of the sun. The Company depends purely on the sun and the air for the desiccation of the boards when they are wet. So during the rainy season the work is bound to be hampered. The Union contends that the Company has huge sheds where the boards can be dried up during the rainy season. Under the sheds wet boards may be exposed to air. But they do not get any sun's ray there. So even if there are such sheds, they cannot improve matters very much during the rainy season. I inspected the factory locally. I saw the sheds roofed over with corrugated sheets. But that was not sufficient to cope with the volume of work when in full swing during the rainy season. There is a vast paved courtyard where the boards are dried up. That certainly cannot be utilised during the rainy season So it it clear that the work in the rainy season can never be as brisk as in other seasons considering the handicap to which the work is subjected to because of cloudy weather screening the sun. But I had to depend not merely on mises in this respect. Letters marked Exts. K to K7, received from the ferent Board Mills, clearly show that all such Board Industries lessen their rk during the rainy season. The Union wants to comment that some other ard Mills which were addressed to by the Company, had replied thereto but Company has withheld those replies. But it is only an insinuation, and thing more than that. If the Union was sure of that fact, it could have con-ted any of those Companies and examined them before me. So I cannot ach much importance on such comments. Exhibits J and J1 show the com-rative chart of production of different years. Exhibits I and I1 show the oduction during the rainy seasons of 1951 and 1952. This has made it solutely clear that the output during the rainy season is much less compared the other months of the year. From the Attendance Register also I find at the Mill was closed on many days during the rainy season. That being the sition, could the Company help reducing the shifts? They could not produce et boards only to be spoiled. So I cannot find fault with the Company or ith the contractors for the closure of the shifts during the rainy season. I nnot give any direction against such closure. The issue is answered cordingly.

Issue No. 3.

Regarding the 11 male workers, they were admittedly employees under the ntractors. The Attendance Register produced also show that. So if they ave been retrenched, that cannot form any industrial dispute between the orkmen and the present Company. There is no direct relationship of nployer and employees between the present Company and these employees. he Company had no control over these men. So to grant relief against the ompany could not possibly reach those employees. Unlike Bombay, in engal, we do not include the contractors' men in "workmen" as defined in the ndustrial Disputes Act, 1947. In this view of the matter, the issue regarding ose 11 male workers is redundant and uncalled for.

Let me, however, take the extreme view of the case. These 11 men may e squeezed under "of any person" in the definition of "workman" in the ndustrial Disputes Act, 1947. The employees of the present Company might ave espoused their cause, and might have raised a dispute against the employer. hat might be an industrial dispute. But even then I should say that I am not n a position to grant any relief. I cannot ask the employer to do what is mpossible. I cannot ask the employer to reinstate these men or to grant them ompensation. In one case he would not possibly reinstate because he did not etrench them, or because they are not in his employ. In the second case, he ill be saddled with a liability for compensation for a wrong which he has not ommitted. So, even if there is an industrial dispute, I cannot give any direc-ion. Then I consider the justifiability of the aforesaid retrenchment, though hat does not, strictly speaking, arise. There also I find that the Company had accumulation of stocks and did not have a ready market. It was suffering losses. That fact was intimated to the contractor-in-charge of the Production Department. The contractor retrenched these men. The Union could not show that the above was not the real position. What it stressed was that these men were Union workers. The Company did not look with favour for the forma-tion of the Union. I have reasons to believe that the Company did not very much like the demands being placed by the Union, as that embarrassed it in its financial predicament. But because the Company had such feelings towards the workers, it cannot be said at once that the retrenchment in question was based on that motive. The Union activities did not grant immunity from retrench-ment if the retrenchment is necessary for trade reasons. So even in such a case the Union's contention cannot succeed. No compensation can be granted by this Tribunal to these 11 male workers.

Regarding the 9 female workers, the Company contends that Sm. Basana as per list in the Order of Reference, was never retrenched. She is still in the Company's employ. This is not disproved. So no relief can be granted to her Regarding Tulsi and Aloka, as per the aforesaid list, the Company contends that they were never its workers. In the face of this statement the Union should have produced them. But that is not done. So I am unable to grant any relief to Sm. Tulsi and Sm. Aloka. Regarding the remaining 6 female workers namely, Rama, Profulla, Kissori, Manoda, Lalita and Probhasini, the Company contends that they were retrenched on 22nd May 1952 being proved to be surplus. The principle of "last come first go" was said to have been. strictly adhered to in their cases. The Company further contends that the onus to prove that they were not surplus did rest on the Union. I am not prepared to accept this legal position. It was held in the case of Bisvamitra Co., Ltd. by their Lordships of the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal of India that the onus to prove bona fides of retrenchment on the score of surplus rests on the Company when the bona fide is challenged. In the present case the bona fides has been challenged. The Company merely produced the length of service of these workers. It did not produce the length of service of the remaining workers still in the employ of the Company. So, I am not in a position to judge whether these female workers were the juniormost to be selected for retrenchment. But I find that the retrenchment of these female workers was consequent on the closure of one shift by the contractors. These female workers were employed in the Picking Department. If one shift in the Production Department is closed, then necessarily the work in the Picking Department must receive a set-back. So there was some justification for the Company in effecting a retrenchment in the Picking Department. That being the position, I accept that these workers became surplus, though only temporarily during the onset of the rainy season. The Union was wrong in saying that they were retrenched in March 1952. They were retrenched in the end of May 1952. From Ext. V(3) I find that the contractors closed one shift with effect from 19th May 1952. So this retrenchment followed closely in its wake. But as I am not satisfied that the Company followed the principle of "last come first go" in their cases, I cannot justify it in merely giving the notice-period compensation to these workmen. I grant three months' full wages, including dearness allowance on the scale last drawn, as compensation to these female workers, namely, Rama, Profulla, Kissori, Manoda, Lalita and Probhasini besides any amount already given for the notice-period. I grant this rather heavy compensation, because I am inclined to think that these workers should better have been placed on involuntary unemployment than discharged because after all, the decline was a temporary phase. If no notice-period compensation has been given to them, I would fix that on one month's full wages. All this payment must be made within 15 days of the award coming into operation make no award for their reinstatement. The issue is thus disposed of.

PRESENT:

SHRI G. PALIT, District Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Union: Shri Sunil Kumar Dhar, Pleader.

Present for the Company: Shri N. K. Mookerji, Advocate.

1. By Government order No. 660Dis./D/13L-15/52, dated the 22nd March 1952, the aforesaid dispute was referred to the Sixth Industrial Tribunal constituted under notification No. 3581Lab., dated the 9th June 1951. But later on, by another subsequent order No. 2005Dis./D/13L-15/52, dated the 28th July 1952, the case was withdrawn under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, read with section 21 of the General Clauses Act, 1897 (X of 1897), and it was transferred to me in the Fifth Industrial Tribunal constituted under the aforesaid notification, for adjudication under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

2. The reference was originally received on 26th March 1952 by the Sixth Industrial Tribunal. It was received here on 2nd August 1952. There was an application for an interim award on 14th August 1952. It was rejected on 7th September 1952 by this Tribunal. It was, however, allowed in appeal, and the record was received back on 30th October 1952. After several adjournments the case was taken up for hearing on 7th January 1953, and continued till 13th January 1953 when the evidence was closed. The arguments were heard on 7th February 1953, 18th February 1953 and 19th February 1953 when it was concluded. The award was reserved.

3. The issues contained in the schedule to the order of reference stand as follows :—

(1) Minimum wage.

(2) Grade and scale of pay of each category of workers.

(3) Dearness allowance.

(4) Leave.

(5) Working hours.

(6) Overtime allowance.

(7) Retiring benefit.

(8) Profit bonus.

(9) Service Rules.

(10) Whether the order on 12 persons on different dates in February 1952, is justified or not and if not, to what relief they may be entitled.

AWARD.

4. Before I take up the issues specifically for consideration, I think it worthwhile to give a brief history of the facts which led to the present dispute. The award of the Press Tribunal was published sometime in March 1951. Since then the workmen of this Company moved the employer for benefits on the lines of the said award without any tangible results. So a formal dispute was filed with the Labour Commissioner on 8th November 1951 with a notice to the employer. A conciliation proceeding was started on 20th December 1951. The employer, to break the morale of the workers, is said to have suspended 12 workers indefinitely in February 1952. Nothing came out of the conciliation proceedings, and the matter was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication. The order of suspension was challenged as illegal and unfair. The Company denies all the allegations, and alleges that the workmen resorted to various illegal activities, namely, slow-down tactics, insubordination, stoppage of machineries, etc. So the employer was forced to frame charge-sheets against these persons and sought the permission of the Labour Commissioner to dismiss them. The Labour Commissioner, however, was not pleased to grant any permission, nor reject the prayer, and the matter was ultimately referred to this Tribunal. The Company disputes the jurisdiction of the Tribunal to adjudicate the issue No. 10 as it is said to be not an industrial dispute. The Company also pleads inability, on financial grounds, to grant any of those demands. It is contended that these men were employed by a contractor up to the end of February 1951. It is on the 1st March 1951 that the Company took over the management from the Contractor. So, as these men had not yet completed one year's service, they were no better than mere probationers. They are said to have no locus standi to press those claims.

Issue No. 10.

This issue has been taken up first for consideration as the lawyers of the parties placed it in such sequence. Regarding the objection from the Company that the Tribunal is not competent to go into this question because the matter was not disposed of by the Labour Commissioner, I must say that the contention is untenable. I have disposed it of by my order No. 19, dated 17th September 1952. I have found that it was idle to contend that the matter is still pending before the Labour Commissioner because he had not passed any order on the petition. Under section 20(2)(c) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, a conciliation proceeding terminates when a reference is made to a Tribunal under section 10 of the Act. So in the present case the said conciliation proceeding has concluded long ago, and the matter can never be treated as sub judice.

The other objection of the Company that the order in question was merely a tentative order of suspension, as a security measure, is equally untenable. May be that it was a security step, but as it was for an indefinite time, it did do harm to the employees. So there was a dispute on the legality or otherwise of such a measure, and that was a fit case for reference by the Government for adjudication. But I find a little difficulty in passing an order on this issue finally disposing of the matter. If I find the order justified or otherwise, that does not mark the end of the affair. When this was pointed out to the Company, they filed an application under section 33 afresh before this Tribunal for permission to dismiss these men. I had given out that if I find the order of suspension justified, then only I shall grant the said permission. If not, I shall reject the application under section 33. So the fate of the application under section 33 would depend upon the result of this issue.

Next, I deal with the cases of these 12 persons in the light of evidence placed before me. It is really an oversight on the part of the Government not to mention the names of the 12 persons in question. But that does not raise any serious difficulty because, the Union has given those names in their written statement. The Company also does not dispute their identity. These 12 names also figure in the letter of the Union to the Labour Commissioner, dated the 3rd March 1952, forming an annexure to their written statement. Before I deal specifically with those individual cases, let me place the context in which these cases occurred. It is the case of the Union that because they placed their charter of demands, sometime in November 1951, the employer took into its head to victimise those workers. In other words, these workers have been proceeded against on false pleas. The employer, on the other hand, contends that the employees took into their head to indulge in subversive activities only to coerce the Company to accede to their demands. They were guilty of insubordination, slow-down tactics, strike, indiscipline, etc., as a result of which the reputation of the Company was considerably damaged, and the Company sustained losses in money also. The charges against each of these men are said to be bona fide and genuine. The Company tried to bring those charges home to these persons. If on the evidence I find that the charges which the employer brought against these men are not founded on evidence, then automatically the Union's case will be reinforced, and will be accepted. If, on the other hand, I find that those charges are true, and based on facts, then the story of victimisation will be kept hanging in the air. This is the background in which these cases should be scrutinised and judged.

(1) Panna Lall Shaw.—The charge against him is that he had over-stayed his leave. He was suspended on 1st February 1952. His application for leave is marked Ext. D. He applied for 15 days' leave by registered post on 29th December 1951. He was granted leave for 10 days up to 10th January 1952, as per Exhibit D1. He, however, did not join on that date. Then the Company by Exhibit J1, dated 17th January 1952, intimated him the position, but it came back unserved. So he was placed under suspension on 1st February 1952 pending permission for dismissal from the Tribunal. Exhibit J is the order of suspension. He turned up on 4th February 1952 or 5th February 1952 but could not prove satisfactorily his story of illness. Even before me he says that his leave had expired on 31st January 1952. He did not leave home before 2nd February 1952 as he was indisposed. On 3rd February 1952 he reached here, and on 4th February 1952 he was again indisposed. On 5th February 1952 he went with an application accompanied by a medical certificate, as per Exhibits 3 and 3(a). The malik did not permit him to join. It is clear on his own admission that he had absented himself from duty without sufficient justification. He should have known that asking for leave is not the same thing as having it. But he left for home without getting the order of leave. Then, when the leave had expired, he did not send any application for the extension of it. Even when he came back, he did not hurry to join. All this shows that he was proceeding in a way he pleased. If the Company takes action for this, can it be blamed? Punishment by suspension, or as a matter of that dismissal, might be a little severe, but if the workmen behave like this, there will be nothing like discipline left in a factory. So I cannot say that the order of suspension was either unmerited or unjustified.

(2) Subal Chandra Das, Anil Kundu, Tincouri Das.—They were suspended on 19th February 1952. A copy of the charge-sheet was forwarded to the Labour Commissioner as per Exhibit J4. They were charge-sheeted for defects in the tea cups made by them. Orders were received from Messrs. S. B. Dutta and Lord's Bakery for supply of tea cups. Sri S. B. Dutta placed an order for 10,000 tea cups, vide Exhibit K. The delivery chalan is marked Exhibit K2. He refused to take delivery of the remaining 5,000 cups because they were found to be leaky. The correspondence is marked Exhibits K3 and K4. The order for the remaining 5,000 was cancelled eventually. The order from Messrs. Lord's Bakery is marked Exhibit K5. It was due to have been delivered on the 3rd January 1952. The supply could not be got ready before the 5th January 1952, when the play was well-nigh over. The order was cancelled as per Exhibit K6. These tea cups were later on utilised, but Rs. 8 per thousand was deducted, vide Exhibits K7 and K8. Again on 2nd January 1952, Mohun Bagan Club, through Sri Guin, placed an order for 1,000 tea cups. The supply was made from the rejected 5,000 stock of Messrs. S. B. Dutta, as per cash memorandums, Exhibits K9 and K10. Sri Guin returned the supply on account of 80 per cent. of the cups being proved to be defective. The cash memos. will show that the money was refunded.

Subal Das used to prepare Purity Barley Box. An order was received from Atlantis (East), Ltd., as per Exhibit K11 for 15,000 boxes. The letter, Exhibit K12, dated 14th November 1951, shows that there was no complaint regarding the first two deliveries. The complaints were received regarding the latter two deliveries. The labelling was defective. About 1,500 or 2,000 fresh labels were prepared and pasted. This will appear from the letter, dated 30th January 1952, marked Exhibit K13. Four men were sent to paste those labels as will appear from K14 and K15. Subal Das is said to have worked in turning out the barley box and Anil Kundu did the work of pasting the tea cups. Tincouri Das was responsible for supervision. Now, the Company demanded explanations from the workers separately so that the responsibility may be fastened on any particular worker. But these workmen were adamant in not submitting separate explanations (vide Exhibits B, B1, B2 and B3). Now, it is the common case of both parties that there were no previous complaints. These complaints practically began to recur in January 1952. Then, are these laches accidental or are these deliberate? That the Company suffered losses in prestige and money is without any question. So, it can never be the Company's own doing. One might connive at one particular instance as a result of laches or of negligence, but when these are systematic, and come trooping in, one must take serious notice of it. If the workers were above blame, why should they not submit separate explanations as asked for by the maliks. In this state of things, if the maliks say that the workers persisted on giving a joint explanation only to defeat apportionment of the blame, I must say that the contention is not unjustified. So the suspension order on Subal Das, Anil Kundu and Tincouri Das appears to me to be justified. Tincouri Das complains that there was no notice on the notice board asking him to do overtime work. He wants to say that no notice was hung up on the notice board. That is incorrect because it is contradicted by P.W. 1 and P.W. 4. He also refused to do overtime work (vide Exhibits C1 and N). This also cannot be justified because they are bound to do overtime work, even in excess of the total hours fixed by the Factories Act. All that they can contend is for payment of wages sanctioned by the Factories Act. So it is clear that the workmen were generally out to violate the orders of the maliks whether legitimate or otherwise. In this context if the incidents are judged, it would appear that these incidents were not fortuitous, but were the result of deliberate mischief-making made with the ulterior object of bringing the maliks down to their knees.

(3) Rameshwar Show.—Then I take the case of Rameshwar Show. He was guilty of slow-down tactics and smoking. The charge-sheet is Exhibit K25

There was an order for show cards from Basanti Binding Works, marked as Exhibit K16. The due date of delivery was the 8th or the 9th of February 1952. Out of 30,000 cards only 25,000 could be delivered. The chart of daily output is marked Exhibit K17. D.W. 1 also admits that 750 to 800 cards could be turned out in a day. Exhibits K18 to K21 show the correspondence how the Company lost its reputation and money. He was further charged with for smoking, as per Exhibit K23, contrary to the Company's specific direction. The other charge-sheet is Exhibit K25. He refused the charge-sheet. So it was sent by registered post (vide Exhibit K26). No reply was received. He was previously warned for smoking (vide Exhibits K23 and K24). So, what could the Company do in such circumstances? If the Company suspends him, I do not think it can be blamed. When a certain order is taken in hand, it is the duty of the workers concerned to comply with it in time so that the order may not be cancelled. They may have to work overtime for this, but the responsibility is theirs. It appears that these workmen were trying to put the malik into troubles and had sinister joy in enjoying the malik's plight. It will be indeed a bad day for any industry in the country if the workmen do indulge in such anti-labour tactics. The maliks may be let down, but they should remember that they also go down with the maliks. They must remember that the workmen and the employers do sink and swim together.

(4) Gour Chandra Das, Lakshminarayan Chakravorty and Rabindra Nath Chakravorty.—They took a joint explanation to the malik. When the malik confronted them why they have given a joint reply in spite of imperative order to submit separate explanations, they are said to have replied that he might take it or not, and flung it away before him. Of course, this is denied. The charge-sheet is Exhibit K28. The letter to the Labour Commissioner is Exhibit K30. O.P.W. 3, Sri Sachish Ch. Bose, a customer of this Company, has corroborated the malik in this matter. When the workmen were persisting in submitting a joint explanation in spite of the same having been rejected before, it was not improbable that they would take up such an insolent attitude. So I find no difficulty in accepting the malik's version of this incident. If that is true, the order of suspension is justified.

(5) Dhirendra Nath Ghosh and Akinchan Nany.—These two workmen left the office when the order of suspension was passed on the other workers. This occurred on 19th February 1952. Notices, Exhibits L and L1, were issued. Explanations were given as per Exhibits L2 and L3. Further notices were given pointing out that the strike was not denied by them. Letters as per Exhibits L7 and L8 followed. On perusing those letters I am satisfied that these persons struck work illegally on 19th February 1952 out of protest against the order of suspension on the other workers. I find that the orders of suspension on the other workers were not unjustified. This strike was, therefore, illegal. So they were rightly suspended.

(6) Shyamapada Das and Hamid Hossain.—Hamid Hossain resigned in May 1952 (vide Exhibit L9). In September or October 1952, he again applied for work and was re-employed. Now, these two workers were entrusted with the preparation of Hay Ho Cartoons. There was defect in pasting, and the whole lot was disapproved. The order book is Exhibit L10. There was an order for one lakh cartoons. Delivery was made in 2 or 3 instalments. There was no complaint against the first lot. Complaints were regarding the other two lots (vide Exhibit L11). The defect was in respect of gumming. About 50,000 were actually sold and 30,000 were wasted. They were given charge-sheets but no reply was received. Even Tincouri Das, the Foreman, admitted that it was the result of bad gumming. I can never treat this as merely accidental or negligent work. There is good ground for suspicion that it was deliberate. So the order of suspension on them was also merited. Thus I dispose of the matter regarding the 12 men. It is alleged on behalf of the Union that the defects in the tea cups made had occurred because of their being kept in a godown close to a pond, or might have been the result of careless handling by the customers. But it is in evidence that these tea cups were being packed and sent by these workmen. They would have noticed the defect if it had occurred in the godown as above. Certainly the maliks did not send those leakly tea cups even after noticing the defects only to be refused. So this contention is merely evasive. Besides, such complaints did not come before. Next, it is urged by the Union that the employer forces these men to push lorries, do the work of sweeping, etc. But they also admit before me that they used to do those things even before they submitted their demands. The maliks, of course, deny all these saying that they have other men to do those jobs. So, even if the Union's version is accepted, that does not show that the maliks were out to harass them after they had submitted their demands to the Labour Commissioner. It is not that the maliks were inherently bad. The maliks gave them two increments even in 1951, i.e., in March and August 1951. So the story of victimisation, set up by the Union, has no legs to stand upon. I reject it as unconvincing. So, taking the total view of the matter I find that the orders of suspension of these 12 persons, on different dates in February 1952, as per this issue, were perfectly justified. They are entitled to no reliefs in my hands.

As the fate of the application under section 33 depended upon the result of this issue, as already stated, I accord permission to dismiss these men as asked for by the Company. The date of dismissal will be on the date they have been placed under suspension.

Regarding the other demands under the different issues, it is the contention of the Company that these employees had been working under a contractor, namely, Sri Kishorilal Show up to the end of February 1951. The Company took over these employees with effect from the 1st March 1951, and granted them an increment on that date. The next increment followed in August 1951. So the Company wants to argue that, as these employees are not even eligible for confirmation having the length of service under the Company less than a year, they cannot raise any claims like these. The Union, on the other hand, contends that Shri K. L. Show was never a contractor. He was an employee of the concern. He was not appointed in pursuance of any resolution by the Company. The increment in March 1951 was given because of conveyance charges due to the shifting of the factory to its present site. So they are entitled to press those claims. Of course, the Company could not produce any resolution in support of the appointment of Shri K. L. Show as a contractor. Being a limited Company, as it claims, such a resolution would very well be expected. But the absence of such a resolution cannot negative the contractor's appointment, if it is proved as a fact by other evidence. From the other evidence I am satisfied that Shri K. L. Show did serve as a contractor up to the end of February 1951. The Attendance Roll, Exhibit E and the Account Register for the contractors, Exhibit E1, show the existence of the contractor Shri K. L. Show. Exhibits A to A1 also go to show the existence of the contractor Shri K. L. Show. Exhibits F to F5 represent Shri K. L. Show as a contractor in the Workmen's Compensation Insurance. Of course, the Company, to whom the factory belongs, may be liable to pay such compensation in case of accident within the precinct of the factory. But that does not contradict the existence of any contractor in the factory. The contention of the Union that Shri K. L. Show was an employee of the concern does not go far enough. The Company admits this. Shri K. L. Show did take bonus up to 1950. From June 1950, his name does not appear in the Attendance Register. In the Acquittance Roll, Exhibits A1 and A2, Shri Show's name is printed at the top where Rabindra Nath Chakraborty, Rameshwar Show and Subal Ch. Das took their wages by putting in their signatures. So, it is not open to these workmen to say that they did not notice the mention of

K. L. Show as a contractor at the top of the Acquittance Roll. The other contention of the Union that the increment in March 1951 was given because of the conveyance charges is untenable. The factory was shifted in January 1951 to its present site. No increment was given in January and February 1951. So I accept the Company's version that the increment was given in March 1951 when these men were taken over by the Company from the contractor's hands. So I find that the workmen of this concern became the regular employees of the Company only from 1st March 1951, and not before that.

Next, let me consider whether in view of this they are entitled to press their present claims. Their demands in November 1951 might have been a little bit premature in this respect, but when the reference was made on the 22nd March 1952, they had put in more than one year's service under this Company. So, they were eligible for confirmation on that date. So, in my opinion, their claims cannot be negatived on this technical ground. Next, I consider these claims specifically as below :—

Issue No. 1.—Minimum wage.

I fix Rs. 30 as the minimum wage of all the adult workers in the employ of this concern. The plea of financial incapacity, as set up by the Company, cannot be of much avail in this respect. Every Company is bound to pay the minimum wage to its workmen, or they have no justification to exist. Rupees 30 as the minimum wage is granted in most cases of the concerns that came before the Tribunal. So I fix this minimum wage of Rs. 30 per month as the basic wage. This will have the effect from the date the award comes into operation.

Issue No. 2.—Grade and scale of pay of each category of workers.

The Union has shaped its claim of scale and grade of pay on the lines of the Major Press Award. The Company pleads financial inability to incur any extra burden on this score. So it resists the claim. From the balance-sheets, Exhibits H to H2 and the comparative sales chart, Exhibit H3, I am satisfied that the Company is trying hard to keep its head above water. It is incurring systematic losses and is almost off its feet. The immediate future seems to be none too bright. Grades and scales of pay can only be introduced where the Company has stable financial existence and has been deriving profits which can be counted upon. But in the present case the Company is neither deriving profits nor can such profits be counted upon. It has taken over these men from the hands of the contractor only very recently, in March 1951. To thrust any scale and grade of pay, which necessarily means an extra financial burden, would amount to spell danger to the very existence of this concern. No Industrial Tribunal, with its eyes open to such financial position, can permit the introduction of grades and scales of pay at such a time. The employees must make a co-operative effort with the Company to raise production and profiits, and then renew their present claim. The present time is inoppurtune. Accordingly, I turn down the claim.

Issue No. 3.—Dearness allowance.

What I have stated above applies mutatis mutandis in respect of this claim also. Dearness allowance can only be allowed to its full measure corresponding to the Company's capacity to pay. This has been recognised not only by the State Tribunals, but also by Their Lordships of the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal of India. So, just as the workmen's claim for dearness allowance should be sympethetically considered, it must be considered in the context of the Company's prosperity. In the present case the prosperity is nil. The Company has taken over these men only recently. It has been incurring systematic losses. The employees should be thankful to the Company that they were not left in the lurch when the contract had terminated. The employer even granted an increment immediately, and another increment several months after. The existing wages, including dearness allowance as per Chart, Exhibit G, show that the emoluments are not bad. The Union could not show that their emoluments are less than what are being drawn in other similar concerns in the neighbourhood. The fairness of wages is judged in the light of what obtains in similar concerns in the locality, i.e., industry-cum-region basis. In that view also, the dearness allowance as paid by the Company cannot be disturbed. In any view of the matter, the present financial condition of the Company certainly does not permit any enhancement on the score of dearness allowance.

Issue No. 4—Leave.

Regarding leave the company does not want to go beyond what is given by the Factories Act. But it should be borne in mind that the Factories Act prescribes only the minimum. It is incumbent on the Tribunal to tune up leave to what obtains in other concerns. The Omnibus Press Award presents a guide in this respect. This is an allied industry of the presses. So if the cue is taken from the Press Award, that would not be wrong. In this view of the matter I grant privilege leave to the extent of 15 days in a year on full pay, to be accumulated for 3 years. I grant sick leave to the extent of 10 days in a year with full pay on genuine medical grounds, on production of certificates from the registered medical officers, to be accumulated up to 3 months, and subject to a limit of 6 months in the whole service. Gazetted holidays I allow 10 days in a year on full pay, excluding Sundays. These will be treated as Festival holidays. Unlike the Press Award, I do not grant any casual leave. Casual Leave is not generally allowed in a factory. Even if it is permissible, I do not like to grant it in the present case as the leave already allowed by me has marked a distinct step in advance. If it is further enhanced, it may upset the balance of the industry. The issue is thus answered.

Issue No. 5.—Working hours.

Very much on the lines of the Press Award I award 7½ hours a day during the first 5 days of the week, i.e., from Monday to Friday, with half an hour recess in the middle, the actual hours to be fixed by the management. And on Saturday 4½ hours without recess. The total working hour in a week is thus limited to 42 hours.

Issue No. 6.—Overtime allowance.

Here also I follow the major Press Award. I award that the workmen will be paid at the ordinary rate in excess of the above up to the maximum of daily or weekly limit, as prescribed by the Indian Factories Act. Any work over and above 9 hours a day, or 48 hours a week, as per the Factories Act, shall be paid at double the rate, as prescribed by the Indian Factories Act.

Issue No. 7.—Retiring benefits.

This relates to retiring benefits. The Major Press Award has introduced Provident Fund on contributory basis. This will have a financial implication. In the present state of the Company's finances, I am unable to grant any retiring benefit.

Issue No. 8.—Profit bonus.

I have already discussed the Company's financial position. I shall show from the balance-sheets that the Company has been systematically incurring losses. The future is rather dismal. So the question of profit bonus cannot arise in the present context. I do not, of course, clearly understand what is meant by "profit bonus". If it means ordinary bonus based on profits, the claim is untenable because the Company has derived no profits in any of these years. If it means profit-sharing bonus, based on a contract, and which is more or less a condition of service, I am equally unable to grant it. There is no such condition of service. The Union contends that they got bonus in spite of losses up o 1950. That may be so. At that time they were in the employ of the contractor. Now they have changed hands. So, what was available against the contractor cannot be invoked, as a matter of right, against this Company. So the matter cannot stand them in a good stead, so far as the claim of profit bonus is concerned. So, in any view of the matter, the claim is liable to be rejected. The Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal of India has been pleased to grant interim bonus to these employees. Some of these employees have been discharged for misconduct, and the order has been upheld by the Tribunal. Regarding others, I am told, the Company has not implemented the decision. I cannot but too strongly condemn such conduct of the Company. In the present case, however, there is no question of adjustment of payment. So I grant no direction for such adjustment in the present award.

Issue No. 9.—Service Rules.

Regarding service rules, I call upon the Company to have the service rules at an early date, and to have them duly certified. To run a factory in the absence of service rules will be to invite chaos. So the sooner the rules are framed, the better for all parties concerned. I do not, however, prescribe any rules myself. The workers are now under the service of the Company. So, it is better to leave the matter to the management and the workers concerned. The issue is answered accordingly as above.

Before I leave this matter, I must point out that the financial incompetence of the Company cannot stand in the way of granting the reliefs on the scores of leave, working hours, overtime, etc. I have refused relief where such financial incompetence is relevant. But I have ignored it where in spite of financial incompetence, reliefs to the workers seemed to be urgent. So, the plea of financial incompetence, set up by the Company, has not succeeded wholly. I would very much expect that, to secure harmonious relationship with the employees, the Company will see its way to grant those reliefs to the workmen.

Schedule.

(1) Bonus.

Notices were issued on both the parties, who filed written statements settin forth their respective cases.

The Union in its written statement states that by an award made by Shri A Das Gupta, Judge, Industrial Tribunal, on the 5th of April 1949, it was directe that in profit years, the employees should be given one month's basic salar per year as bonus, irrespective of the extent of profit. It is further stated tha in the year ending 31st December 1951, the Company made a substantial profit but by a clever manipulation of accounts in its balance-sheet, it has secreted th real profits made by transferring revenue to capital reserve, abnormally depreciat- ing fixed assets and by transferring large amounts to the reserve account It is also stated that if the said balance-sheet is properly analysed and looked at a proper perspective, it will be found that an attempt has been made to circumven the clear direction, as contained in the aforesaid award of Shri A. Das Gupta with a view to deprive the workmen of the benefit of bonus to which they ar lawfully and justly entitled. The Union, therefore, prays for an award direct- ing the Company to pay the workmen one month's basic wages for the yea 1951.

The Company in its written statement states that it is not admitted that Shri A. Das Gupta laid down the principle that in case of any profit in future years, however small it may be, the workmen should be paid one month's basic salary by way of bonus, irrespective of the considerations of provisions for prior charges as laid down by the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal in the Bombay Mill- owners' Association case. It is further stated that there was no issue before Shri A. Das Gupta for laying down a scheme of bonus for future years and that any observation contained in the award regarding payment of bonus in future years should not be a rule for future guidance for all times to come specially in view of the fact that the aforesaid award did not consider the principles of the Full Bench decision of the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal in the Bombay Millowners' Asso- ciation case. It is pressed by the Company that no bonus is admissible for the year 1951, in accordance with the principles laid down by the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal in the Full Bench case of Bombay Millowners' Association case. The Company denied the allegation that any attempt was made in its balance-sheets to secret real profits, or to make unauthorised transfers of money from revenue account to capital reserve account with a view to deprive the workmen of their legitimate claims.

The appearances for the parties were as follows:—

For the Union: Shri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate, instructed by Shri Gunendra Nath Ghosh, President of the Union.

For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate, instructed by Shri D. Basu Thakur, Solicitor of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors.

The issue framed for the decision of this case is the same as that mentioned in the schedule to the order of reference and is as follows:—

Issue.

(1) Bonus.

DECISION.

Issue No. 1.

The issue as referred for decision really means as to whether the workmen, represented by the I.G.N.R. Employees' Union, are entitled to receive any bonus in 1952, on the results of the working of the Company in 1951. The Union has clearly stated that their claim is for one month's basic wage for the year 1951. The Company also agrees that the question for decision in this case is as to whether any bonus should be given to the employees in question as a result of the working of the Company in 1951. The Union examined P.W. 1 Shri Sitala Charan Sen Gupta, a Chartered Accountant and a Senior Professor of Accountancy and Auditing in City College, Calcutta, and Lecturer in the Department of Commerce, Calcutta University, in order to have an opinion on the balance-sheets of the Company for 1951. The Company examined O.P.W. 1 Shri G. A. Narayan, its Chief Accountant in Calcutta. The Company filed its balance-sheets from 1944 to 1951, which are marked Exhibits A to A7.

Shri A. Das Gupta, Judge, Industrial Tribunal, made an award in an industrial dispute between the Company and their employees as represented by the I. G. N. R. Employees' Union, over as many as 21 issues, including the issue on "annual bonus" on 5th April 1949 and this award was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 28th April 1949. Issue No. 12 deals with bonus. The relevant portions of the award on this issue are as follows:—

* * * "The only just and equitable principles upon which an employer may be called upon to grant bonus to the employee is to consider the amount of profits made by the employer in any given year and the general financial condition of the concern and its capacity to bear additional burden of granting bonus without impairing the efficiency of the industry or injuring the business in any vital matters. It is clear therefore that bonus is dependent on the prosperity of the business concerned." * * * "On a careful consideration of the facts and circumstances of the case I hold that in profit years, the employees shall be given one month's basic salary per year irrespective of the extent of profit. This payment shall be made preferably before the annual Puja holidays. The advance for 1948 shall be considered as bonus. I cannot allow any bonus for the year 1947 which was a loss year." * * * "I accordingly reject the Union's demand for bonus for 1946."

It appears that out of the Union's demand for bonus for 1946, 1947 and 1948, at 2 months' basic pay irrespective of profit or loss of the Company, the learned Tribunal refused the claim for bonus for 1946 and 1947, as they were years of loss for the Company and awarded one month's basic pay as bonus for 1948, as the Company made profit in that year. The learned Tribunal while observing that bonus was dependent on the prosperity of the business concerned, held that in profit years, the employees should be given one month's basic salary per year, irrespective of the extent of profit. The award of the learned Tribunal was in force for a period of one year with effect from 1st January 1949. Even then, the learned advocate for the Union pressed the claim for one month's bonus for the employee-members on the basis of the decision on bonus as laid down by the learned Tribunal in the award mentioned above. The Full Bench decision of the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal in the case of Mill-owners' Association, Bombay, versus Rastriya Mill Mazdoor Sangh and others, 1952, L.A.C. 433, dated 9th October 1950, lays down the considerations to be observed in arriving at the conclusion as to whether bonus should be allowed in any particular year to the employees of a concern. As the Full Bench decision is of a later date than the award of Shri A. Das Gupta, there is no doubt that the learned Tribunal in making the award on 5th of April 1949, had not had the advantage of the decision of the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal in arriving at the conclusion as he did. The decision of the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal in Associated Cement Co., Khalari, versus Khalari Cement Workers' Union, reported in L|L.J. 1952 (II) page 484 at page 489, shows that a bonus scheme should not be adopted for all times to come and that any such claim should be decided in the light of the decision of the Full Bench case noted above. Their Lordships of the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal lays down as follows :—

* * "The question whether a stereo-typed 'rule of three formulae' to be applied for all time to come should be laid down by a tribunal, came up for consideration before this Tribunal in Appeal No. Cal. 33/50 (Mazaffarpur Electric Supply Co. Ltd., Vs. their workmen), decided on 4th May 1951. In that case, after quoting the following passage from the full bench in the case of Mill-owners' Association, Bombay, vs. Rashtriya Mill Mazdoor Sangh, namely,—

"Where the industry has capacity to pay and has been so established that its capacity to pay may be counted upon continuously, payment of 'living wage' is desirable; but where the industry has not that capacity or its capacity varies or is expected to vary from year to year, so that the industry cannot afford to pay 'living wages', bonus must be looked upon as the temporary satisfaction, wholly or in part, of the needs of the employees."

This Tribunal proceeded to observe thus :—

"On this subject, a claim to bonus can normally be entertained only if there be trading profits for the year under claim and the amount of bonus would depend upon the amount of profit. A general and precise formulae to be complied for all future years should not accordingly be laid down in advance unless the facts lead to the conclusion that there would be profits year after year; also that the amount of profits would be such as would bear the burden of bonus calculated according to that formulae having due regard to the fair claims of capital and other considerations which were mentioned in the decision given in the Bombay Mill Owners' case.

We, accordingly, are of opinion that the tribunal was right in not accepting the formula proposed by the company. The claim for bonus in the years 1948-49 and 1949-50 which has been pressed before us is, therefore, to be considered in the light of the trading profits of the company for those two particular years."

Their Lordships observed that the Tribunal rightly refused to follow the bonus scheme as proposed by the Company and followed the principles laid down by their Lordships of the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal in the Bombay Mill Owners' case that the claim for bonus for any given year is to be considered in the light of the trading profits of the Company in that year. In the decision reported in 1953 (1) L.L.J. page 360 Messrs. Narron Das Manor Das vs. their workmen the learned Appellate Tribunal held that there can be no question of a custom to pay bonus or for any order proceeding upon such custom, for the grant of bonus to the workmen is intended to enable them to participate in the prosperity of the concern in the relevent year and that the quantum of bonus must depend upon the relative prosperity of the concern during the year under review and that prosperity is best reflected in the amount of the residuary surplus, as has been made clear in the Full Bench decision in the case of Mill Owners' Association, Bombay, versus Rashtriya Mill Mazdoor Sangh mentioned above. In the decision of the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal, reported in the Indian Factories Journal (Reports), 15th March 1953, page 38, between Famous Cine Laboratory, Bombay, versus their workmen, Their Lordships of the Appellate Tribunal held that when Industrial Tribunals find that there is no sufficient surplus of profit for awarding bonus in accordance with the Full Bench formula, it cannot proceed to award bonus on some undefined grounds of "social justice". It is, therefore, clear that notwithstanding the award of Shri A. Das Gupta, dated 5th April 1949, published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 28th April 1949, the employees of the Union are entitled to receive bonus from the Company if only such bonus can be allowed in accordance with the principles defined by Their Lordships in the Full Bench decision in the case of Mill Owners' Association, Bombay. It is stated in that case that essentially the quantum of bonus must depend upon the relative prosperity of the concern during the year under review, and the prosperity is perhaps best reflected in the amount of the residuary surplus in the profits. To arrive at the residuary surplus of profit, the first charge on gross profits after payment of wages, etc., is the amount necessary for rehabilitation, replacement and modernisation of the machinery in addition to what is allowed by Income-tax anthorities as depreciation. The next charge on gross profits is the fair return on capital and for this purpose, reserves employed as working capital are also entitled to return, which has been mentioned to be 4 per cent. per annum. In allocating the surplus profits along with the needs of the employees, the claim of share-holders and the requirements of the Industry must be taken into consideration and it was decided that there should be return of 6 per cent. on the paid-up capital before bonus can be paid to the employees. It is, therefore, clear that the residuary surplus is to be obtained after providing for reserve for rehabilitation for return of 6 per cent. per annum on paid-up capital and for return of reserve at 4 per cent. per annum employed as working capital. These provisions are to be made from the gross profits minus depreciation minus taxes and we shall apply these principles in determining whether the employees of the Company represented by the Union are entitled to any bonus upon the working of the Company in 1951.

P.W. 1 Shri S. C. Sen Gupta states that he examined the balance-sheet for the years 1947 to 1951 and he states that in 1950, two lakh pounds were transferred from the working account to taxation and general reserves resulting in a depleted profit in the Profit and Loss account, which showed only 46 thousand pounds and odd as the working profit of the year. He states that even the preference share-holders did not get the full dividend and most of the profit was transferred to taxation reserve. He also observed that a sum of £1,73,000 were transferred in 1950 from working account to Reserve for Taxation in Suspence. Shri Sen Gupta makes another statement as regards the balance-sheet of 1951 where he states that the item of "current taxation", which shows £60,592 shows the calculated tax liability of the Company on account of profits for the year 1951, and calculating income-tax at 9s. to the pound in U. K. he gives out the profit to be £1,30,000. He further observes that although the amount of nett profit shown in the balance-sheet of 1951 is £20,344 the real profit for a current taxation of £60,592 must have been £1,30,000. He further observes that the amount which was transferred to taxation reserve in 1950 was split up in 1951 into three items, being £1,50,000 in fleet reserve, £60,000 and odd for current taxation, £17,300 still kept for future taxation. He remarked that these provisions for reserve were made from the current profits of the Company and on account of these provisions of reserves having been made, the balance-sheet shows ultimately a small profit, which is not capable of paying bonus to the employees. P.W.1 states that the depreciation charged against the fixed assets were irregular, though less than what is allowed under the Income-tax Statutes of India and U. K.

The evidence of O.P.W.1 Shri G. A. Narayan, Chief Acountant of the Company, clearly shows that the amounts spoken of by Shri Sen Gupta were not obtained from the working profits of the Company in 1950 or 1951. This witness states that the sum of £1,50,000 against the item "Transferred from Reserve for Taxation" was not part of the profit for the year 1951. The sum of £17,300 shown against "Future Taxation" was also not taken out of the profits for 1951. This item of future taxation was a contingency reserve in respect of tax liabilities for the years 1939 to 1946. He also states that a sum of £60,592 against "Current Taxation" was not derived from the profits of the year 1951 and that this is not in respect of the profits of the current year, but was to meet the current demands of income-tax in respect of the years 1939-46. He further states that according to Income-tax calculations, depreciation allowance in 1951, would be £1,60,080 and that no taxes would be payable for the years 1946 to 1951 in view of the heavy losses incurred by the Company in 1946 and 1947 carried forward. It appears from the evidence of this witness that the Company received a refund of excess E.P.T. amounting £1,75,000 in 1950 in U.K., which explains the increase of reserve for taxation in suspense from £67,000 and odd to £2,41,000 and odd. It is also stated that a sum of £60,592 represented the current demands in 1951 relating to E.P.T. years which had not been finalised in India, and that E.P.T. was finalised in U.K. that resulted in refund of money to the Company but not yet in India. The witness further states that a sum of £17,300 against future taxation is a contingency in respect of taxes relating to E.P.T. years still pending in India. The witness admits that the Company made profits from 1948 to 1951 but did not recoup the losses incurred in 1946 to 1947 to the extent of leaving a taxable income uptil now It appears from the evidence of this witness that the basic salary payable to the sole account employees in clerical service staff, flat clerks and operatives at the dockyard amounted to £2,78,717 per annum. The portions relating to the flat clerks now contended by the Union as non-members of the Union included in the above figure is £18,000 per annum. The bonus for the employee-members of the Union at their basic pay for one month will then amount to £21,726. One month's basic pay of the flat clerks, who are not now members of the Union. amount to £1,500. These flat clerks were members of the Union in 1949 when the award of Shri A. Das Gupta was made and they got the bonus as awarded Although the Company will not be bound by a award now to pay bonus to the flat clerks if such an award were made, it may still be necessary for the Company to pay the awarded rate of bonus to the flat clerks in the interest of fairness and peace in the establishment. Six per cent. return on preference stock is £14,641 and 6 per cent. return on the ordinary stock in £39,335. Deducting income-tax on these amounts, the total nett amount in 6 per cent. return appears to amount to £27,685.

From what has been discussed above, it is clear that in view of the fact that the gross working or trading profit in 1951 was £1,16,542 and the depreciation

According to Income-tax Act was £1,60,000 and odd nothing could be available payment of bonus to the employees. Deducting only £90,000 by way of depreciation as the Company did in its balance-sheet of 1951, the surplus was £26,000 and odd, from which no provision could be made for payment of bonus after providing for 6 per cent. return to the share-holders and a fair return for the reserves used in the working capital.

The learned advocate for the Union filed the calculations Exts. 1 and 1(a) 18th March 1953 and the calculation in Ext. 1(b) on 19th March 1953 to show that if the amounts of £20,344 shown as nett profit in the balance-sheet 1951, £1,50,000 "Transfer from reserve for Taxation" and £17,300 kept as revenue reserve for "Future Taxation" in the balance-sheet of 1951 be all considered to be profits, then the bonus for one month's basic wages can be paid by the Company without any difficulty. The calculations in Ext. 1(b) proceed on the same foundations. Ext. 1(b) is an improvement on Ext. 1, in view of the fact that the rehabilitation charges after adjusting depreciation was mistakenly calculated in Ext. 1 on account of mistakes in Ext. 1(a) where the amount has been shown. In Ext. 1(a) depreciation has been deducted twice—once by way of accumulated depreciation and again by way of the depreciation for the year 1951. We need not therefore consider the account in Exts. 1 and 1(a). Both these calculations have been shown again in Ext. 1(b) where the rehabilitation reserve has been shown to be £50,229. It will be seen that even in the calculations in Ext. 1(b) one very important point has been omitted by the Union. If it were accepted that the profits for the year 1951, were £1,87,644 being the sum of the 3 amounts of £20,344, £1,50,000 and £17,300 then adding back depreciation already provided for (£90,000) and deducting depreciation as allowed by Income-tax Act (£1,60,080), the total profit after depreciation appears to be £1,17,564. Without going into any other consideration, it is obvious that the Union has not deducted any amount as income-tax upon this amount. If the profits of the Company amounted to £1,17,564, income-tax would certainly have been payable upon this amount. If the income-tax be deducted at 9s. 6d. per pound, this amount would be £55,843. As the residue according to the calculation of the Union in Ext. 1(b) is only £31,983, it is obvious that after deduction of income-tax, it will not be possible for the Company to pay any bonus to the employees after deduction of prior charges as shown by the Union, which also are by no means accurate. Ordinary dividend is to be considered to be 6 per cent. and not as 4 per cent., as shown by the Union in Ext. 1 (b) and the 4 per cent. interest on reserve shown as only £9,271 has not included the interest on "Insurance Reserve" for £2,43,669, "Flat Reserve" £3,43,555 and £4,791 for the revenue reserve from profit and loss account in 1950. The interest on reserves should be calculated on the balance-sheet of 1950. Four items of reserves including the general and special reserves of £2,31,787 considered by the Union amount to a total of £8,23,802. Four per cent. on these amounts to £32,952.

In the calculation for finding out the rehabilitation reserves in Ext. 1(b), the Union has committed some blunders. It has not taken into account the value of the assets in Land, Docks, Slipways, Buildings, etc., nor of the furniture and motor vehicles, etc., and has thereby omitted £3,00,633 and £68,775 being £3,69,408. The Union has taken into account only the value of the fixed assets in steamers, flats, barges, etc., and machinery and plant, value whereof is £44,87,735. The replacement cost of these articles at 2·42 times, being the replacement index appears to be £10,860,318. As the rehabilitation costs per year has been taken to be 1/50th of the total rehabilitation cost, this means that all the fixed assets considered in the sum will have 50 years' life and therefore new. There was, therefore, no justification for deducting "Flat Reserve" and the "Net profit from vessels" to the extent of £3,44,826. If it is contended that a part of the reserve for rehabilitation has already been collect the total period of collection will be reduced and the annual sum required t be the same. The result has been that the rehabilitation charge has b unreasonably depressed. The rehabilitation charge at 2·42 times the cost the fixed assets divided by 50 appears to be £2,87,714, deducting income- depreciation for £1,60,080 the nett rehabilitation reserve appears to £1,27,634 in place of £50,229, as found out by the Union. With rehabilitat charges as £1,27,634, 4 per cent. on reserve at £32,952 and 6 per cent. divid on preference and ordinary stock at nett figures being £27,685 the total p charges appear to be—

This is to be deducted from the gross profit minus depreciation minus incor tax. It will be possible to pay bonus if there is a residue of at least £21,7 I have already stated that it is not possible for the Company to pay this amo from the trading profits of 1951.

P.W. 1 Professor S. C. Sen Gupta stated that considering that the incor tax for 1951 was £60,592, the profit was £1,30,000 and that bonus could the fore be paid if it amounted to only £8,000 per year. A profit of £1,30,0 with an income-tax of £60,592 cannot provide for any bonus, after deduction income-tax and providing for prior charges even according to the computati of the Union, being £87,185.

The learned Advocate for the Union cited the decisions reported in 191 Ch.D., page 92 in re: Spanish Prospecting Co., Ltd., where it has been he that whenever the rights of a third party intervene, the profits of a Compa shall have to be calculated on the basis of the value of assets as between t dates and increase in the value of assets would mean profit irrespective of a other consideration or contribution to any reserve. The decision reported 1891, 2 Ch.D., page 317, at page 327 in re: Bridgewater Navigation Company w cited to show that reserves are to be treated as profits if they are not capitalise I have already discussed above that according to the Full Bench decision Their Lordships of the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal in the case of Millowne Association, Bombay vs. Rastriya Mill Mazdoor Sangh and others, reported 1952, L.A.C., 433, a claim of bonus by employees can normally be entertain if only there be trading profits for the year under claim and the amount bonus would depend upon the amount of profit. The difference in the val e assets of the Company at two dates not necessarily mean the trading of the Company and the reserves also cannot be considered as trading s, unless the amount of reserves are carned as profits in that year. The sh decisions cited by the learned Advocate for the Union therefore have pplication in the present case.

'onsidering the facts and circumstances of the case as discussed above and ing the principles laid down by the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal eir Full Bench decision in the case of Millowners' Association, Bombay, it ear that the employees are not entitled to any bonus as a result of the ing of the Company in the year 1951. The claim of the Union should, fore, be rejected and it is awarded accordingly.

No. 1309Dis./D/10L-9/53.—20th April 1953.—Whereas under the Gov- ient of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2196Dis./D/10L-106/ dated the 11th August 1952, the industrial dispute between Messrs. India tric Works, Ltd., Diamond Harbour Road, Behala, and their workmen esented by I.E.W. (India Fan) Workers' Union, 574, Diamond Harbour d, Behala, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was red for adjudication to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Fifth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State ernment its interim award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Indus- Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to lish the said interim award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE.

ORDER.

No. 16.—31st March 1953.—The Union claims by way of interim relief a her payment of 15 days' basic pay with proportionate dearness allowance, respect of the 6-monthly period subsequent to the 31st December 1952. previous payment was in respect of involuntary unemployment terminating 31st December 1952. The Company contends that as it has applied for mission under section 33 of the Act to retrench those workmen on 23rd ember 1952, the Company cannot be saddled with further liability of oluntary unemployment relief.

The Union's contention is established by the notice in Appendix "B". So involuntary unemployment relief that was already granted, had been used on 31st December 1952. Regarding the further claim, I am unable to ept the Company's contention. Mere application under section 33 does not an the same thing as having the reliefs claimed thereunder. The application y be rejected also. So it is premature to contend that these men have been renched pending the disposal of the section 33 application. Besides the application under section 33 is allowed or disallowed prospectively. Retrosp tive permission can scarcely be granted. So the position is perfectly clear t the involuntary unemployment on these 242 men that was imposed on 1 August 1952, still continues. They are accordingly entitled to further involunt unemployment benefit of 15 days' basic wages and 15 days' dearness allowa as on the last occasion for the 6 months from January 1953, onwards. I m the interim award accordingly and thereby make the above amount payable wi 15 days from the date of this order.

A copy of the order be sent to Government Parties to be informed.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SHRI G PALIT, District Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Union: Shri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate, instructed by Shri N. K. Roy, Pleader.

Present for the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

1. By Government order No. 1886Dis./D/7L-32/52, dated the 12th July 1952, the aforesaid dispute has been referred to me for adjudication under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947).

2. The reference was received here on 23rd July 1952. The Union filed written statement on 13th August 1953. The Company filed written statement on 2nd September 1952. After several adjournments the case was taken up for hearing on 23rd March 1953, and continued on 24th March 1953. The arguments were heard on 30th March 1953, and the award was reserved.

3. The only issue contained in the schedule to the order of reference stands as follows :—

(i) Whether the discharge of Shri Narayan Chandra Das was justified ? Whether he is entitled to reinstatement and/or any other relief.

AWARD.

4. The facts are not very much disputed in the present case. Shri Narayan Chandra Das first joined the Lachminarain Engineering Works, Ltd., on 1st March 1945. He worked there for eight months, and then he was transferred to the Rationing Department of Shri Lachminarain Jute Manufacturing Co., Ltd., where he served for two years and a half. Then he was transferred to the main gate as Gate Babu. He worked in this post for two years. Again he was transferred to the Rationing Department. He worked there up to 7th April 1952. He received a notice on the 7th April 1952 discharging him as a surplus with effect from the following day. The notice is marked Ext. 1. His grievance is that he has been discharged in pursuance of a policy of purging the Bengalees out of the Marwari concern. Neither in the Rationing Section nor in any other section there was paucity of work. There were also, and are still in the employ of the Company many persons who are junior to him. So, the well accepted principle of "last come first go" has not been followed in his case. The Company denies those allegations. The Company contends that it wanted to effect economy by retrenchment. Both Shri Narayan Das and Shri Balai Chandra Banerji in the Rationing Department were found surplus. So they were sought to be retrenched by giving one month's pay in lieu of notice, gratuity, etc. As many as five other workers were retrenched on 7th April 1952 as a result of this economic drive.

Coming to the evidence in the case, I find that Narayan Chandra Das joined this Company in March 1945 (vide Ext. B). Exhibit B shows that Narayan Das's service was in Shri Lachminarain Jute Manufacturing Co., Ltd. Lachminarain Engineering Works was no more than an adjunct to the main Jute Manufacturing Company. I do not accept the Company's version that Lachminarain Engineering Works, Ltd., was altogether a separate entity. The date cards, Ext. 2 series, clearly show that the employees were all of Sri Lachminarain Jute Manufacturing Co., Ltd. The Company tried to show that these date cards were used with the name of the Jute Manufacturing Co. because Lachminarain Engineering Works had no separate printed cards. The Company also contended that Lachminarain Engineering Works kept a separate attendance register, but that attendance register was discontinued in November 1952. No such old registers are forthcoming before me. The evidence makes it abundantly clear that this Engineering Section was maintained only as a maintenance branch of the main Jute Manufacturing Co., Ltd. So the Company's attempt to show that Narayan Chandra Das came into the employ of this Company later than the 1st March 1945 has ended in failure. That being the position, Ext. A, which is the Company's document, shows that there are many employees still in the service of the Company who are junior to Narayan Das. To get over this stubborn obstacle, the Company has noted in Ext. A that those clerks who are junior to Narayan Chandra Das were all specialised and were all more efficient. The remark is made in red ink against each name. Their service cards are not produced before me to show whether their efficiency was noted therein. But the card of Narayan Das, marked Ext. B, shows that he got regular increments during his tenure of service under this Company. It is not the Company's case that he was discharged for inefficiency. So, that is a belated attempt to give a dog a bad name and then hang him. Such an attempt can never succeed. In view of the above I am satisfied that the principle of "first come last go" was not followed when Narayan Chandra Das was retrenched.

Next, I also find that Narayan Chandra Das worked for a pretty long time in the Rationing Department, and also as the Gate Babu. The Rationing Registers placed before me do not show that the number of applications for ration cards had gone down when Narayan Das was retrenched. Narayan Das used to prepare the daily register in the Rationing Department by collecting informations about the new entrants. He also used to help Debi Babu, the clerk-in-charge, in the matter of maintaining the sales register. He used to draft the applications for rations by filling in the blank columns, and also used to take the finger impressions for registration of their names. He also used to send the cards to the respective departments. Now, if the number of applications does not show any decrease, I do not see how the work of Narayan Das can come down. Of course, no substitute has yet been taken in place of Narayan Das, but that by itself does not go far enough. Sailendra Nath Dey and Kasinath Banerji might have been more senior to him, but it is not proved that they had more experience in the Rationing Department. Sailen Dey appears to have been transferred to the Rationing Department from the Finishing Department. Even if Narayan Das had no work in the Rationing Department, he could very well have been accommodated in any other department of the Company, as per Exhibit A, by replacing the persons junior to him. I do not see how the Company can justify itself by treating the man as a surplus, keeping its eyes confined to one particular section only. These employees were all of the Company, and so unless they were surplus to the whole Company in all its sections, they could not be called, strictly speaking, surplus. Narayan Das was for a good time the Gate Babu. He has not found a berth even there. Balai Banerji and Narayan Das used to work as Gate Babu before they came to the Rationing Department. Now Enayetullah and Idris have been put into the gate. Though they were junior, they could not be replaced because they were the men of the Managing Agents, as the Manager, O.P.W. 1, tells before me. Of course, these persons were doing Watch and Ward duties which were done by the Durwans before, in the time of Narayan Das. I could understand that they have been kept in service if the management wanted to combine the posts of Gate Babu and Durwan. Then I got that Prithviraj Pujari and Prolhad Sarma were discharged for overstaying their leave. They were both junior to Narayan Das, as is admitted in the Company's written statement. Though they were guilty as above, they have again been taken back in the service, but no berth could be found for Narayan Chandra Das. The Company does not enter Prithviraj and Prolhad in the attendance register of December 1952. The Manager was nonplussed when confronted with this. He was forced to admit that some persons are paid by vouchers. So the Company's dealings are not strictly aboveboard regarding its employees. I scent that there was some mala fide in the matter of this retrenchment, otherwise why should the Company not retrench the juniormost men. I could have understood if Narayan Das was discharged on the ground of inefficiency. So, taking a total view of the matter, I find that the retrenchment of Narayan Chandra Das is wanting in bona fides. He is entitled to be reinstated. I find no substance in the contention that other persons were content with leaving the service on having their dues. That does not prejudice the case of Narayan Chandra Das. The case of Narayan Das stands or falls on its own merits.

Regarding compensation, I allow him full wages with dearness allowance with effect from the 8th April 1952, up to the date he is taken back in the employment. He would have got all this money had his service not been unjustly terminated. I direct the Company to take him back in his old service within one week of the award coming into operation. The payment of compensation must be made within the same period in a lump. If, however, Narayan Chandra Das does not turn up even after reasonable notice, then he will forfeit his claim of re-employment.
